Comments for Public Posting: A national survey found that 25% of Americans have been laid off or had their hours cut as of last weekend. More than 80% of Los Angeles renters pay rents that are unaffordable, meaning they must take money out of their food, clothing and health care to keep a roof over their heads. Without an April 1st rent moratorium, the landscape of Los Angeles will forever be changed. Thousands of lives will be upended. And many will be forced to make risky choices at the tail end of an epidemic, that could cause a second wave later in the year. We must enact a rent and utility moratorium for all Angelenos, the future of the city is at stake.

Comments for Public Posting: The governing body who's supposedly the ones to impose reason and common sense laws ESPECIALLY at this crisis, this time of great need and support, you have failed us once again. Your vote to support the corrupt is when you voted a stay for evictions in the county of LA. I can understand the need to support landlords and tenants equally, to provide them the necessary resources. But you have no reasoning to be able to continue to evict people when jobs are letting go of people left and right, when people are ordered to stay at home and not work to protect their families and themselves, when the whole economy is crashing because PEOPLE LIKE YOU LACK THE SENSE OF REALITY AND COMPASSION. I am seething. Understand this, you will rue the days you've spent cowardly hiding behind money.

Comments for Public Posting: I am writing to encourage the city clerk to enact rent suspension for the duration of Covid-19. To not suspend rent while the vast majority of people cannot go to work is to force homeless thousands of people (especially despicable in this health crisis). It is unethical and cruel to not suspend rent in the unprecedented disaster state.

Comments for Public Posting: Please enact a rent suspension. Thousands of people with varying amounts of income and rental expenses are being affected by COVID-19 in unexpected ways.

Comments for Public Posting: I am bothered by the Mayor's response to COV-19 health crisis. His measures & stance feels overly-protectionist and paternalistic. While, thankfully, the outbreak numbers in LA county (currently about 6000 confirmed case to 10 million residents) are very low - .06% - more & more measures are being enacted, without much regard given to the anxiety & fear this injects into our system & community. There appears to be little to no discussion about the economic impacts of these measures nor any discussion of when they will ease up or end. While the public, and I, can appreciate the limitations of our medical resources & regard for life, we are shifting the loss (which seems greater than what we are saving) into the future - the unemployment problems we are actively accruing, the poverty we are rapidly creating, the money we are spending that we do not have. This is a time for pragmatic and difficult decisions - and a longer view. We can injure ourselves in an effort to bide time & lives, but please look to our future and acknowledge the all the real ramifications of NOT moving forward.

Comments for Public Posting: The mayor is extremely negligent in his behavior and action regarding the current health crisis of covid-19. It took him THIS LONG to finally enforce that restaurant workers wear masks, people who handle and breathe all over exposed food who are then served to the masses. It's TOO LATE! I want the organization/individuals who governs the mayor's decisions and actions to be on top of his negligence. This is TOTALLY unacceptable. The mayor is a complete dimwit.
