Comments for Public Posting: Members of the city council, I am here today to address your recent vote to levy fines against our fellow Angelenos who sleep in their cars. I am beyond disgusted. Three years ago, we voted to give you 5 billion dollars to help the homeless. You've only built 330 beds for the 58,000 people experiencing homelessness in this city, and now you've chosen to make the problem worse. People are dying in this city. 3,612 people died on our streets in the past four years, under many of your terms, and now you want to take away their only source of shelter. It is disgustingly clear that this council cares more about property values than people. And for all the excuses about "safe spaces" you've designated 500 spots for 5,000 vehicles. Each of you, especially you, Mitch O'Harrel, has failed this city. Shame on you. Shame on you.
