Comments for Public Posting: Homelessness and poverty have become a great issue in the City of Los Angeles. Homeless families/individuals have been arriving from different parts of the nation in pursuit of a better living. Whether it is due to a domestic violence incident or simply homelessness, several families/individuals come to Los Angeles and end up in greater hardship due to the lucrative rental rates. It is difficult for families/individuals to rent an apartment, as their earnings are not sufficient to meet basic living conditions. Families/individuals are being forced to live with other individuals and crowd a living space in order to have a roof over their heads.
