Comments for Public Posting: As a fellow Kevin, I am frustrated that Kevin DeLeon hasn't resigned from the Los Angeles City Council yet. Many people have called on him to step down, and yet based on all of the meetings I've watched on YouTube, Council President Paul Krekorian seems more interested in kicking random speakers just because they're a bit rowdy. In the year 2023, who honestly cares about decorum anymore? A lot of young people don't feel represented by our elected officials, and the fact that Paul is violating the Brown Act and preventing people from coming to future meetings is really gross. Hey, Paul, if you think you're annoyed by leftists who want Kevin to resign and you and Strefan Fauble to stop browbeating everyone, I dare you to come see what the San Diego County Board of Supervisors meetings are like. For the past two years, crazy right-wingers have kept showing up to say that masks don't work, COVID is a scam, all government is tyrannical, and other shit like that. Some have even gone as far to say the Supervisors have violated the Nuremberg Code and they should be punished by death. Paul, you and Strefan should consider yourselves lucky that you don't need to deal with those people. You're much more likely to see violent behavior from them than the People's City Council of Los Angeles. So I am calling on Kevin DeLeon to resign and Paul Krekorian to actually listen to people in council chambers for once. Also, please lift 41.18. It doesn't help the homeless. It just criminalizes them.
