Comments for Public Posting: With the city spending $1000's (Im sure it more) of dollars on graffiti removal or cover up. Like 2nd Street tunnel. Why doesn't the city ask for Graffiti artists or Taggers to submit drawing or art work that they would like to paint or display on areas that will be covered or painted over by the city. That way they can display thier art with city approved art. Graffiti artist or taggers are going to defame property anyway at least the city should give artist opportunities to display city approved art. Even if the city suggest a theme or something that represents the city. Give the artist away to paint legally and the city would be allowed input instead of spending tax dollars repeatedly to cover stuff up. Just a suggestion
