Comments for Public Posting: if you want to know who is increasing homelessness, then you just need to look at the non profit in charge of distributing the funds - epath.org - 3323 W Washington Blvd, Los Angeles CA 90018 1. their front door is locked during business hours so there are no walk ins allowed. in other words, they don't want to see poor people and will lock the door to ensure it. 2. they open late. i had to wait 30 minutes for them to open. they do this to avoid helping poor people. they have limited hours as it is, and they reduce their hours by not opening on time. 3. they close early. they do this to avoid helping poor people. they have limited hours as it is, and then they reduce their hours by not opening on time. 4. the receptionist (maria) is rude. they have 2 receptionists named maria, both are rude. they wasted my time by asking the same questions over and over. theres no need for 2 different people to ask the same questions. they are doing this to frustrate poor people so they give up and leave. 5. they refused to tell me the supervisors name/phone/email/hours so i could not report them 6. i couldn't apply to their program because their printer is broken so i could not fill out the application. its been broken for over 1 month. they are intentionally not replacing it so they can avoid more poor people. 7. i couldn't apply to their program because their scanner is broken. so i could not submit documents.. its been broken for over 1 month. they are intentionally not replacing it so they can avoid more poor people. 8. look at how corrupt they are - their website doesn't even list a phone number! they do want to be contacted. i cannot file a complaint as they do not have a phone number <https://epath.org/contact/>
