Comments for Public Posting: I think it is really embarrassing to live in Los Angeles and this City Council is the reason why. I'm really disappointed in this council's lack of decorum. How dare you assault members of the public verbally last week in these chambers and to allow the members of this council to physically assault community members in public. You should all be focused on city business at hand and instead you're planning your jabs and insults at your constituents. Just grow the fuck up. Today could have been the start of something new but you're determined to continue the era of racist policies and leadership. This city will get nowhere and we will continue to crumble and lose our status on the World platform for as long as each of you are in leadership. I hope you are forever incapable of sleeping easily at night by the knowledge that you are personally responsible for the fall of Los Angeles and a true enemy of the people. You are a sincere disappointment. I doubt your mother is proud of you.
