Comments for Public Posting: I believe I am the first ever US Senate nominee to sell California but to nobody alive today. The Dell family inspired me to sell Californian residents to the survivors of post-Olympic post-2065 California. What I propose is a simple and fair punishment on any who attempts dying within sixty years. Yes, I am a saint of labor laws. You adults have no reason about worrying not working over your bosses demanding that you are at age 60. I however am not a resident of California because I was in Arizona in contact with the Arizonian Army community and all-state veteran community when filing and receiving an approved US Permanent Residency Card which does not indicate anything about California. I know a thing or more about how pyramid schemes perish, why retention sometimes causes the very perishing, and the mysterious cases of frustration against the propped up Nazi dictator, and if I can help, my lack of loyalty to human concepts should help both your technical director and industrial conclusion, as often a properly concluded industry leads to lesser loss.

Comments for Public Posting: How can this idiot be a council man. Only won because blacks voted for her. It only took 5 years to get rid of homeless encampment in front of my house. I had to live with this idiots for so long I was in therapy, anger management classes. And I became racist because of this women and what the home less people that are not homeless just taking advantage of the system. One guy had 4 cars that he was lending to his other homeless people and getting paid for it. He was the ring leader. LAPD never did anything and they just tell you they are working on it without any updates hence I started cussing the idiots out for not giving me a straight answer they cut me off. Karen bass and hutt are not the answer to LA. Over 20 years here and we still have idiots getting elected because of their race not merit.
