Broadway Bar

• This venue is a 1970s-themed Italian disco that serves up cocktails while getting down.

The Love Song Bar
450 S. Main Street,
Instagram: @thelovesongbar

• A cozy lounge located next to the Regent Theater, it features handmade cocktails that are excellent to sip before a live show begins. When there isn't a show, expect to hear vinyl playing softly in the background.

Mezcalero
510 S. Broadway, mezcalerodtla.com
• Mezcalero has become a neighborhood favorite in the Historic Core on the strength of its mezcal- and tequila-based cocktails, the menu of modern Mexican eats, and a laid-back vibe.

Pattern Bar
100 W. Ninth Street, patternbar.com
• At this Fashion District spot, cocktails are named after famous designers such as Chanel, Lagerfeld and Valentino. They have different DJs every Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

Rudolph's Bar and Tea
416 W. Eighth Street,
freehandhotels.com/los-angeles
• Located on the ground floor of the Freehand Hotel, Rudolph's Bar and Tea offers light bites, tea-infused cocktails and full tea service.

Seven Grand
515 W. Seventh Street,
sevengrandtla.com
• Behind the hand-carved walnut bar, more than 120 whiskeys are displayed. The masculine space touts plaid carpets, taxidermy and pool tables.

Spire 73
900 Wilshire Boulevard,
dtla.intercontinental.com
• Billed as the tallest rooftop bar in the country, Spire 73 at the Wilshire Grand

pouringwithheart.com
• A nondescript brown door at the back of Cole's opens to a bygone world of vested bartenders who take their craft seriously. It's dark, intimate and conducive to drinking. Ask for the bartender's choice.

The Wolves
519 S. Spring Street, thewolvesdtla.com
• Designed with period antiques from across America, The Wolves is an elegant-yet-approachable place that will allow guests' creative minds to run wild. With a collection of housemade juices and cordials, drinks range from yuzu sours to a gin and vermouth-infused tea for four.

Lounges

Bar Jackalope
515 W. Seventh Street,
pouringwithheart.com
• Inside Seven Grand bar is this hidden Japanese-inspired whiskey tasting lounge and sipping library. Ring a bell near the restrooms and you can enter if there's room — it only seats 18.

Broadway Bar
830 S. Broadway,
pouringwithheart.com
• Revamped in 2004 from a former printing press, Broadway Bar features lavish interior design, two floors of public areas as well as outdoor patio space and splendid views of Broadway. If you're looking for quality cocktails, friendly service, live DJs, and a state-of-the-art sound system, then Broadway Bar is the place to go.

Death & Co.
818 E. Third Street, Los Angeles
• Speakeasy with creative cocktails and New American menu.

The Edison
108 W. Second Street,
edisondowntown.com
• A former power plant turned cocktail

former life.

The Falls
626 S. Spring Street,
thefallslounge.com
• This vintage-glam spot has a right-on mix of great bartenders, good DJs, a diverse crowd and chic ambiance that leaves you feeling groovy.

General Lee's
475 Gin Ling Way
• Sip a craft cocktail in this dark old-school spot steeped in history. Located in Chinatown, General Lee's has a bar, a DJ downstairs and a lounge upstairs.

Las Perlas
107 E. Sixth Street,
pouringwithheart.com
• Decorated as a Oaxacan-style cantina, Las Perlas gives tribute to the spirit of Mexico with a fine selection of over 450 premium agave spirits. It's perfectly dim for your journey down the rabbit hole.

Lucky Strike Lanes and Lounge
800 W. Olympic Boulevard,
bowluckystrike.com
• This LA Live outpost makes bowling shoes cool with fancy cocktails, stylish décor, a lounge and a dress code.

Melody Lounge
939 N. Hill Street
• Dozens of overhead lanterns set the mood at this chill Chinatown hangout where you can listen to vinyl while enjoying the great craft beer selection.

Rhythm Room
206 W. Sixth Street, rhythmroomla.com
• A long-defunct underground bar has been given new life. The Rhythm Room provides an intimate, private and warm social space with fun and engaging social activities such as games, drinks, and live music.

Shoo, Shoo Baby
717 W. Seventh Street, shoobabyla.com
• The bar on a busy stretch of Seventh Street has retro décor, a feminine feel—to make women feel more empowered—while also still inviting to men, a variety of fun food and flexible seating for groups of all sizes.

Gay Bars

Precinct
357 S. Broadway, precinctdtla.com
• A cop meets rock 'n' roll theme marks this nightclub spanning 8,500 square feet inside a century-old brick building. There's a stage, dance floor, large bar and a patio overlooking Broadway.

Redline
131 E. Sixth Street, redlinedtla.com
• A cozy, distinct spot in the Historic Core with a nice happy hour
