Dear City Clerk Holly L. Wolcott,

I am writing to you as a concerned constituent regarding the upcoming events promoting the illegal sale of houses on Palestinian land, specifically the "Buy Your Home in Israel Now" events. These sales are illegal under international law and contribute to the perpetuation of the Israeli apartheid system. As my representative, I urge you to speak out against such activities and take action to prevent them from occurring in our city.

Allowing these illegal sales and violations of international law to take place in Los Angeles, particularly during a period of heightened violence against Palestinians, exacerbates tensions within our community. The visit of Prime Minister Netanyahu, who faces an arrest warrant for war crimes, further highlights the gravity of the situation. Recently, a motion to fund organizations implicated in violence against Palestinian Angelenos and their anti-Zionist allies was seen as a move to reward Zionist violence, which only serves to fuel local tensions.

It is important to remember the words of the late Archbishop Desmond Tutu, who condemned Israeli apartheid as "in many instances worse" than South African apartheid. This comparison underscores the severity of the ongoing human rights violations and the moral imperative for us to act.

Additionally, the lack of action regarding the Zionist violence against peaceful protestors at UCLA on April 29 is deeply troubling. This failure to address the violence has directly contributed to subsequent incidents, including the violence on June 23. I demand an independent investigation into these events, and the findings should inform the City Council's actions in addressing these incidents.

The Council's failure to address these real issues reflects a disconnection from the realities of our own city. For instance, the false claims of antisemitic hate crimes against pro-Palestinians in May 2021, which the court later ruled were not supported by evidence, reveal that the pro-Palestinians were, in fact, the victims of the attack. Such misunderstandings and misrepresentations further exacerbate local tensions and mistrust.

Furthermore, the parallels between Israeli apartheid land grab policies and the current gentrification of Los Angeles are striking. Both contribute to the displacement and increased number of unhoused individuals. Addressing these systemic issues is crucial to prevent further harm to vulnerable communities both locally and globally.

In conclusion, I urge you to take a stand against the illegal sale of Palestinian lands and to commission an independent investigation into the recent acts of violence. Your actions should reflect a commitment to justice and the protection of human rights, both within our city and beyond.

Sincerely,

Matthew Solomon

The visit of Prime Minister Netanyahu, who faces an arrest warrant for war crimes, further highlights the gravity of the situation. Recently, a motion to fund organizations implicated in violence against Palestinian Angelenos and their anti-Zionist allies was seen as a move to reward Zionist violence, which only serves to fuel local tensions.

It is important to remember the words of the late Archbishop Desmond Tutu, who condemned Israeli apartheid as "in many instances worse" than South African apartheid. This comparison underscores the severity of the ongoing human rights violations and the moral imperative for us to act.

Additionally, the lack of action regarding the Zionist violence against peaceful protestors at UCLA on April 29 is deeply troubling. This failure to address the violence has directly contributed to subsequent incidents, including the violence on June 23. I demand an independent investigation into these events, and the findings should inform the City Council's actions in addressing these incidents.

The Council's failure to address these real issues reflects a disconnection from the realities of our own city. For instance, the false claims of antisemitic hate crimes against pro-Palestinians in May 2021, which the court later ruled were not supported by evidence, reveal that the pro-Palestinians were, in fact, the victims of the attack. Such misunderstandings and misrepresentations further exacerbate local tensions and mistrust.

Furthermore, the parallels between Israeli apartheid land grab policies and the current gentrification of Los Angeles are striking. Both contribute to the displacement and increased number of unhoused individuals. Addressing these systemic issues is crucial to prevent further harm to vulnerable communities both locally and globally.

In conclusion, I urge you to take a stand against the illegal sale of Palestinian lands and to commission an independent investigation into the recent acts of violence. Your actions should reflect a commitment to justice and the protection of human rights, both within our city and beyond.

Sincerely,

Dear City Clerk Holly L. Wolcott,

I am writing to you as a concerned constituent regarding the upcoming events promoting the illegal sale of houses on Palestinian land, specifically the "Buy Your Home in Israel Now" events. These sales are illegal under international law and contribute to the perpetuation of the Israeli apartheid system. As my representative, I urge you to speak out against such activities and take action to prevent them from occurring in our city.

Allowing these illegal sales and violations of international law to take place in Los Angeles, particularly during a period of heightened violence against Palestinians, exacerbates tensions within our community. The visit of Prime Minister Netanyahu, who faces an arrest warrant for war crimes, further highlights the gravity of the situation. Recently, a motion to fund organizations implicated in violence against Palestinian Angelenos and their anti-Zionist allies was seen as a move to reward Zionist violence, which only serves to fuel local tensions.

Please listen to your constituents. Not only are you not serving the people you claim to serve, you are violating international law by allowing this to happen. I am a Palestinian woman who was at the protest and was assaulted multiple times by men and women alike. It is my right to peacefully protest especially in the case of blatant illegality. Allowing these illegal sales and violations of international law to take place in Los Angeles, particularly during a period of heightened violence against Palestinians, exacerbates tensions within our community. The visit of Prime Minister Netanyahu, who faces an arrest warrant for war crimes, further highlights the gravity of the situation. The ICJ just today acknowledged the Israeli occupation as apartheid and demands the dismantling of settlements and the return of land. It is in your best political interest to oppose these illegal events. Either that or stand beside criminals.

In conclusion, I urge you to take a stand against the illegal sale of Palestinian lands and to commission an independent investigation into the recent acts of violence. Your actions should reflect a commitment to justice and the protection of human rights, both within our city and beyond.

To: <CityClerk@lacity.org>

Dear City Clerk Holly L. Wolcott,

I am writing to you as a concerned constituent regarding the upcoming events promoting the illegal sale of houses on Palestinian land, specifically the "Buy Your Home in Israel Now" events. These sales are illegal under international law and contribute to the perpetuation of the Israeli apartheid system. As my representative, I urge you to speak out against such activities and take action to prevent them from occurring in our city.

Allowing these illegal sales and violations of international law to take place in Los Angeles, particularly during a period of heightened violence against Palestinians, exacerbates tensions within our community. The visit of Prime Minister Netanyahu, who faces an arrest warrant for war crimes, further highlights the gravity of the situation. Recently, a motion to fund organizations implicated in violence against Palestinian Angelenos and their anti-Zionist allies was seen as a move to reward Zionist violence, which only serves to fuel local tensions.

It is important to remember the words of the late Archbishop Desmond Tutu, who condemned Israeli apartheid as "in many instances worse" than South African apartheid. This comparison underscores the severity of the ongoing human rights violations and the moral imperative for us to act.

Additionally, the lack of action regarding the Zionist violence against peaceful protestors at UCLA on April 29 is deeply troubling. This failure to address the violence has directly contributed to subsequent incidents, including the violence on June 23. I demand an independent investigation into these events, and the findings should inform the City Council's actions in addressing these incidents.

The Council's failure to address these real issues reflects a disconnection from the realities of our own city. For instance, the false claims of antisemitic hate crimes against pro-Palestinians in May 2021, which the court later ruled were not supported by evidence, reveal that the pro-Palestinians were, in fact, the victims of the attack. Such misunderstandings and misrepresentations further exacerbate local tensions and mistrust.

Furthermore, the parallels between Israeli apartheid land grab policies and the current gentrification of Los Angeles are striking. Both contribute to the displacement and increased number of unhoused individuals. Addressing these systemic issues is crucial to prevent further harm to vulnerable communities both locally and globally.

In conclusion, I urge you to take a stand against the illegal sale of Palestinian lands and to commission an independent investigation into the recent acts of violence. Your actions should reflect a commitment to justice and the protection of human rights, both within our city and beyond.

Sincerely,

Grace Giffune

Allowing these illegal sales and violations of international law to take place in Los Angeles, particularly during a period of heightened violence against Palestinians, exacerbates tensions within our community. The visit of Prime Minister Netanyahu, who faces an arrest warrant for war crimes, further highlights the gravity of the situation. Recently, a motion to fund organizations implicated in violence against Palestinian Angelenos and their anti-Zionist allies was seen as a move to reward Zionist violence, which only serves to fuel local tensions.

It is important to remember the words of the late Archbishop Desmond Tutu, who condemned Israeli apartheid as "in many instances worse" than South African apartheid. This comparison underscores the severity of the ongoing human rights violations and the moral imperative for us to act.

Additionally, the lack of action regarding the Zionist violence against peaceful protestors at UCLA on April 29 is deeply troubling. This failure to address the violence has directly contributed to subsequent incidents, including the violence on June 23. I demand an independent investigation into these events, and the findings should inform the City Council's actions in addressing these incidents.

The Council's failure to address these real issues reflects a disconnection from the realities of our own city. For instance, the false claims of antisemitic hate crimes against pro-Palestinians in May 2021, which the court later ruled were not supported by evidence, reveal that the pro-Palestinians were, in fact, the victims of the attack. Such misunderstandings and misrepresentations further exacerbate local tensions and mistrust.

Furthermore, the parallels between Israeli apartheid land grab policies and the current gentrification of Los Angeles are striking. Both contribute to the displacement and increased number of unhoused individuals. Addressing these systemic issues is crucial to prevent further harm to vulnerable communities both locally and globally.

In conclusion, I urge you to take a stand against the illegal sale of Palestinian lands and to commission an independent investigation into the recent acts of violence. Your actions should reflect a commitment to justice and the protection of human rights, both within our city and beyond.

Sincerely,
