Dear Mr. Koretz;

I have recently become aware of a proposed ordinance to allow individuals to take in five dogs. This proposal seems very untenable, without any monitoring or control over who gets the animals, no measure to prevent abandonment, nor any oversight on how many dogs anyone might possibly take in.

With noise pollution already a serious issue, the last thing our neighborhoods need is more barking—not to mention the inherent mess of careless owners.

We all love animals, but surely there are far better ways to spend our money to ensure their well-being.

Thanks for your time and consideration,

Kathleen Johnson
