

John White <john.white@lacity.org>

Animal limits

1 message

Barbara K. Smith <bkschis@verizon.net>

Fri, Oct 22, 2010 at 10:44 AM

To: John.White@lacity.org

i am an Arizona resident who is moving to California soon. I am a respected exhibitor and longtime breeder of Chihuahuas. Dog limit laws criminalize the show breeders, who provide choice to all pet owners in America. We protect the breed types that let a family choose a large or a small dog. I microchip my pups and care for them from birth to death. If one ever turns up in a shelter, I retrieve it, no matter the cost to me. Most reputable breeders I know do the same. Our homes are clean and our dogs well cared for, with dental and vet visits.

Millions of single dogs in back yards are not cared for as well. If the laws on the books concerning sanitation and cruelty were enforced (which they are not, for dogs (or children for that matter) there would be no need for any other laws. Please vote to allow more pets per home and in future consider the plight of the AKC show breeder who actually does things right. Thank you, BarbaraK. Smith, Mesa, Az.
