Comments for Public Posting: Dear Raquel, Why do you keep making things worse for yourself? Is your sense of vanity really that much stronger than your sense of self-preservation? You need to just admit you made a mistake and move on. The nc's are fed up with you and each email you and your neas send just makes it worse. You know how to really piss off an nc? Tell them what to do and how to vote. Why haven't you figured this out yet? You are making people long for halcyon days of Gracie Loo which is something I thought I'd never see. Do you think the new mayor is going to put up with you if all the ncs are calling for your job? You haven't even had your job for three years yet but I bet your list of failures is almost as long as the list of employees that have quit because of you. The only thing longer is the list of nc members that have quit because of your abhorrent leadership.
