Comments for Public Posting: Skateboarding is an important part of Los Angeles. The courthouse ledges are an important part of skateboarding. Preserving this site is an imperative if we are concerned with honoring the character and legacy of this place in time.

Comments for Public Posting: The Courthouse as a skate space is a deeply valued space that deserves to remain standing and in use. This space serves as an opportunity for skaters to expand their style of skating and branch out from traditional skateparks whilst allowing the safety and community that is more common in skateparks. I am not a resident of California, though the courthouse remains a landmark that I aim to revisit and a main reason for picking LA as a travel destination.
