This plan is not fully vetted. It has not had meetings open to the citywide general public nor has the city placed the document out for public comment.

This process is not open to the public, nor does it adhere to the GENERAL PLAN AND ITS ELEMENTS.

The Alternatives suggested in the Director of City Planning report includes work executed by LA-MAS INC., a private non-profit corporation whose funding for the project titled FUTURO DE FROGTOWN derived from private individuals.

The report FUTURO DE FROGTOWN (draft attache) states:

The Futuro de Frogtown project was commissioned by two active stakeholders of Elysian Valley, Julia Meltzer and David Thorne. Julia is the founder and director of the non-profit arts organization Clockshop; David is the creative director of The Elysian restaurant and private event venue. LA-Más, a non-profit community design organization located in the Elysian Valley, spearheaded the development and implementation of the project.

Mia Lehrer is the CEO of LA-MAS INC. and has conflicts of interest as a contractor with the City. . RECODELA is not a LAND USE plan.
