Comments for Public Posting: I share a room in my home on airbnb and the supplemental income helps me survive in this time of increased cost of living and interest rates. It's also a great way of introducing travellers to Los Angeles and the neighbourhood. I host guests all year round, and for me it's very important for the council not to impose a restriction to 120 days, which would mean I have to sell my property because I won't be able to keep up my mortgage payments. Thank you for considering my opinion.
