Comments for Public Posting: Dear representative, I am reaching out to you on behalf of independent filmmakers and people employed in the entertainment industry to urge you not to increase home-sharing fees. As a film producer myself, I am seeing that home sharing is helping struggling citizens who work in the entertainment industry and need supplemental income. It is also helps bring entertainment workers from out of state, who stay in Los Angeles for short and mid-periods for work, and support local economy. Staying in hotels is just not financially viable for such workers. Home sharing is THE ONLY solution for many people in our industry. Sincerely, Shaked SHAKED BERENSON, MBA, p.g.a (310) 991-9374
