FINDINGS

- The property "reflects the broad cultural, economic, or social history of the nation, state or community" for representing the earliest pattern of residential development in the West Hills area and a rare remaining example of agricultural land use in the San Fernando Valley.
- The property "embodies the distinguishing characteristics of an architectural-type specimen, inherently valuable for study of a period, style or method of construction" as an example of the Dutch Colonial Revival style.

CRITERIA

The criterion is the Cultural Heritage Ordinance which defines a historical or cultural monument as any site (including significant trees or other plant life located thereon) building or structure of particular historic or cultural significance to the City of Los Angeles, such as historic structures or sites in which the broad cultural, economic, or social history of the nation, State or community is reflected or exemplified, or which are identified with historic personages or with important events in the main currents of national, State or local history or which embody the distinguishing characteristics of an architectural type specimen, inherently valuable for a study of a period style or method of construction, or a notable work of a master builder, designer or architect whose individual genius influenced his age.

SUMMARY

Originally built in 1927, Circle S Ranch is a rare remaining example of a large ranch estate in the San Fernando Valley. Development of this kind occurred prior to World War II, where large ranch estates were constructed in the San Fernando Valley to act as vacation or weekend getaways for the wealthy Hollywood elite. Since then, much of this original development has been lost due to suburbanization and consequent subdivision of what used to be large parcels of land.

The home was built for Frank Stewart Howard, a Buick distributor, who purchased the land from a land syndicate that was established by five of Los Angeles' most prominent businessmen. One of the syndicate's partners was Harrison Gray Otis, founder and publisher of the Los Angeles Times. The towns of Owensmouth and Van Nuys were also established by this organization. The property changed hands many times throughout its history, notably acquired by Grenville W. Stratton in 1947 after leasing the property for three years. As the landowner, he changed the name of the property to Circle S Stables to suit the needs of his thriving horse racing and breeding business. Under his ownership, Circle S Ranch became widely recognized as a landmark of the San Fernando Valley, as described in a 1954 Los Angeles Times article.

The house, which is the primary structure on the property, exhibits many character-defining features of the Dutch Colonial Revival style including:

- Main entrance framed with pilasters supporting an arched, triangular gabled porch
- Transverse main gable; full gambrel gable on north and south façades
- Long shed dormers along the front and back of the house
- Multi-paned casement windows
- Symmetrical design
- Two stories in height

The property has undergone many additions and alterations between 1931 and 1976, but retained its architectural character and authenticity. Alterations include an added maids' quarters, a 100-foot long horse barn (later moved off the property and demolished), removal of the original barn, and a new chicken coop. Notably, the acreage of the site was reduced in 1956 from 38.5 to 3.46 acres, yet is still uniquely larger than surrounding properties.

DISCUSSION

Circle S Ranch successfully meets two of the specified Historic-Cultural Monument criteria: 1) "reflects the broad cultural, economic, or social history of the nation, state or community" and 2) "embodies the distinguishing characteristics of an architectural-type specimen, inherently valuable for study of a period, style or method of construction." As a rare, remaining example of an intact 1920s ranch estate in West Hills, this property demonstrates one of the earliest periods of development within the San Fernando Valley. Also, the use of the property for agricultural purposes is still reflected in the secondary buildings and the unusually large lot size. The property is an excellent example of the Dutch Colonial Revival style and there are very few examples of this style remaining in the San Fernando Valley.

CALIFORNIA ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY ACT ("CEQA") FINDINGS

State of California CEQA Guidelines, Article 19, Section 15308, Class 8 "consists of actions taken by regulatory agencies, as authorized by state or local ordinance, to assure the maintenance, restoration, enhancement, or protection of the environment where the regulatory process involves procedures for protection of the environment."

State of California CEQA Guidelines Article 19, Section 15331, Class 31 "consists of projects limited to maintenance, repair, stabilization, rehabilitation, restoration, preservation, conservation or reconstruction of historical resources in a manner consistent with the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for the Treatment of Historic Properties with Guidelines for Preserving, Rehabilitating, Restoring, and Reconstructing Historic buildings."

The designation of Circle S Ranch as a Historic-Cultural Monument in accordance with Chapter 9, Article 1, of The City of Los Angeles Administrative Code ("LAAC") will ensure that future construction activities involving the subject property are regulated in accordance with Section 22.171.14 of the LAAC. The purpose of the designation is to prevent significant impacts to a Historic-Cultural Monument through the application of the standards set forth in the LAAC. Without the regulation imposed by way of the pending designation, the historic significance and integrity of the subject property could be lost through incompatible alterations and new construction and the demolition of irreplaceable historic structures. The Secretary of the Interior's Standards of Rehabilitation are expressly incorporated into the LAAC and provide standards concerning the historically appropriate construction activities which will ensure the continued preservation of the subject property.

The use of Categorical Exemption Class 8 in connection with the proposed designation is consistent with the goals of maintaining, restoring, enhancing, and protecting the environment through the imposition of regulations designed to prevent the degradation of Historic-Cultural Monuments.

The use of Categorical Exemption Class 31 in connection with the proposed designation is consistent with the goals relating to the preservation, rehabilitation, restoration and reconstruction of historic buildings in a manner consistent with the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for the Treatment of Historic Properties with Guidelines for Preserving Rehabilitating, Restoring, and Reconstructing Historic Buildings.

BACKGROUND

On March 5th, 2015 the Cultural Heritage Commission voted to take the property under consideration. On April 2nd, a subcommittee of the Commission consisting of Commissioners Milofsky and Irvine toured the property, accompanied by a staff member from the Office of Historic Resources.

Circle S Ranch Architectural Description

This two story Dutch Colonial Revival residence has a symmetrical design with a transverse main gable that is a full gambrel gable on the North and South facades with a large brick chimney centered in each pediment. There are single story slope roofed wings under each of the gable pediments, as well as long shed dormers along the front and rear of the house.

The central main entrance is topped by a triangular gabled porch that is arched over the entry. A brick patio area, with steps at the front is at the front of the entry. The entry is flanked by identical square window bays with multi light wood casement window. Most, if not all of the windows throughout the house appear to be multi-light casement as well. The upper story is covered with smooth stucco, while the lower story is covered with a brick veneer. All windows also appear to be located in a symmetrical pattern throughout the house, with some of the second story windows having metal awning (not original) also set in a symmetrical manner. small vertical vents flank the chimney in both pediments.

No interior description is available at this point.

Accessory Structures include a second two-story dwelling located to the right rear of the main house. The composition roof is a single transverse cable. This structure may have originally been a four car garage, which was an expansion of the original 1927 vintage garage. The second story was initially converted to a maid's quarters in 1931. A single-story frame guest house was constructed in 1941. A long wooden pergola stretches from the rear of the main house to what may be a chicken coop constructed in 1976. A small gazebo of unknown date is located a distance to the front of the two-story garage/dwelling Landscaped grounds with mature trees surround the building on the large lot with an open area to the rear.

Significance Statement

Built in 1927 for Buick distributor Frank Stewart Howard, this large Dutch Colonial Revival House is a very rare remaining example of the large ranch houses that were built in the San Fernando Valley prior to World War II. These smaller ranches represent a period in which the well-to-do of Los Angeles purchased land in the San Fernando Valley as a home away from their property in town. Many of these properties were owned by the elite of Hollywood, while others were purchased by those who had made their fortune in other areas. A native of East Orange, New Jersey, Howard was born on February 19, 1887 and was raised by his English-born mother in East Durham, Ontario, Canada after his parents divorced. He migrated California as a teenager in 1905 to work with his older brother, Charles, as an automobile salesman for the Howard Automobile Company, which eventually owned dealerships in California,, Nevada Oregon and Washington. Frank Howard founded his own Buick dealership, the Howard Motor Company as a separate Pasadena and Hollywood concern in 1919.

Howard bought Lot 1050 of Tract No. 1000. Tract No. 1000 was subdivided in 1911 out of a large swath of the Rancho Ex-Mission de San Fernando for the Board of Control, a land syndicate that had been established by five of Los Angeles' most successful businessmen, Harrison Gray Otis, founder and publisher of the Los Angeles Times, Harry Chandler, his son-in-law and successor, "General" Moses Hazeltine Sherman, a land speculator and former street railroad czar (who took his title from when he served as the Adjutant General of Arizona Territory for two terms in the 1880s) in Phoenix and later Los Angeles, Hobart Johnstone Whitley, a land developer and banker who later developed Whitley Heights and Otto F. Brent, Vice President of Title Insurance and Trust. The subdivision of Tract 1000 was in anticipation of the opening of the Owens Aqueduct, then being built under the auspices of William Mulholland (who was not involved in the land speculation). The towns of Owensmouth and Van Nuys were also established by the syndicate. Lot 1050 was considered to be in the greater Owensmouth area. Tract No. 1000 consisted of acreage lots ranging from less than 2 acres to several that were well over 800 acres each. Lot 1050 was 38.5 acres at the Southeast corner of what was originally Tenth Street and Santa Ana Avenue, now Saticoy Street and Woodlake Avenue.

The lot was originally sold to John T. Hadley, who may have improved it with a small cottage and a barn prior to the 1915 annexation of the San Fernando Valley to the City of Los Angeles. A native of Iowa, Hadley arrived in California during the great 1880s land rush. In 1890, he was living in Ventura and listed as an agent for the Santa Monica Land and Water Company. He was still there in 1896, but by 1900, he, along with his wife, Lillian, and children had relocated to Pomona. The 1910 census shows the family in Santa Ana, with John listed as an employee for a fruit farm. It is very likely that he bought the lot in Tract 1000 in order to establish his own fruit orchard. Prior to the bringing of the Owens River water, the area had only been usable for dry farming. Sadly, John Hadley passed away in his early 60s and by 1920, the property was just in his wife's name. She was then living with their oldest son and his family on Sherman Way.

She eventually sold the land to Virgil W. Deaver, a young nurseryman from Santa Ana. Records show that Deaver and his wife Louise lived on the property around 1926. When Frank Howard bought the land, the Deavers moved to San Diego and then bought a fruit orchard near Escondido.

Howard hired contractor J. H. Hillock in December of 1926 to re-roof and re-shingle the exterior of the existing barn. He then had Hillock construct the main house for a cost of $8,500.00 as well as a stucco covered garage for $500.00, in January of 1927. In March he had Hillock construct 14 chicken coops of varying sizes, as well as another one in the following November. These coops appear to have been built to house exotic birds and other animals, including thoroughbred horses. The largest of these was 108 feet long. On July 14, 1929, it was announced in the Los Angeles Times that Frank Howard, at the age of 42, was retiring from his automobile business to "devote all of his attention to his personal interests". One would think that his ranch was one of them. However, subsequent events indicate the real reason was due to Howard having evolved into a chronic alcoholic. One month later, on August 17th, Howard drove out to his ranch with his 12 year old son, Richard. Upon returning to their Wellington Square home that evening, the senior Howard drank himself into a violent frenzy and ordered his mother-in-law, who had been staying with the family, to move out. His wife tried to intervene, but he started choking her. Richard, at that point, grabbed a 22 cal. rifle and shot his father, who died from his wound before reaching the hospital. The shooting was investigated but ruled a justifiable homicide as the boy had legitimate fear for his mother's life. On October 18, 1930, the Howard Estate deeded the property to George D. Chambers.

Chambers was simply listed as a "capitalist" in the Los Angeles Times article announcing the sale. The article also noted the following: "The ranch consists of a new ten-room home, completely furnished, five car garage, large stables, foreman's cottage, and is stocked with pheasants, peacocks, grouse, deer, turkey and blooded horses." It appears the George Chambers' father, Wesley, made a substantial amount of oil money in Pennsylvania while he was raising his family, which would explain his son never listing an occupation other than "own income" on any census or city directory. Chambers had the upper level of the garage converted to living quarters for the maid. Chambers and his wife, Mary, were living in Windsor Square at the time of the purchase, but eventually moved to the ranch where George passed away on October 31, 1940. Mrs. Chambers then sold the ranch to May H. Carraud, who then leased it to Douglas Aircraft executive Grenville (George) W. Stratton, who was already known as a breeder of fine race horses.

Stratton named the land the "Circle S Ranch" and, in 1944, built a guest house on the property and converted the largest of the chicken houses into a horse barn. Three years later, Stratton bought the property. Under his ownership the Circle S Stables had become well known in the turf community, already leading in track winnings before moving to the Valley ranch in what was by then known as Canoga Park. Probably the most famous horse at the ranch was Your Host, who won 10 major races in a short time before breaking a shoulder in a fall during the San Pasqual Handicap. The horse was insured by Lloyds of London, which brought in their own veterinarian after paying off the claim in 1951. While his racing career was over, Your Host recovered at the Circle S Ranch and went on to have a very active stud career, producing a number of winning progeny, including the famed horse, Kelso. Another famous horse sired on the ranch was Yankee Valor, a son of Stratton's famed horse, Heelfly. However, even with the successful horse ranch, George Stratton faced his own obstacles. His wife, Cora, had suffered a seizure in 1944 and she had been confined at Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital since September 19th of that year. By the time Your Host arrived, Stratton was in a battle with his stepdaughter over his wife's half of the estate, including the ranch after she passed away 17 days after Your Host arrived at the ranch. The battle was a long one. In the mean time Stratton remarried, his new wife, Janice, being well known for her philanthropic endeavors. The cost of the lawsuit along with George Stratton's own poor health forced him to close the Circle S Ranch in 1954. Two years later, the Stratton's filed Tract No. 21391, in which they subdivided The Circle S Ranch into 207 home site lots and one 3.46 acre lot for the remaining ranch buildings. The large 100 foot horse barn was moved off the land in 1955 and later demolished when the land it was placed on was subdivided. The original barn was moved to a parcel on Zelzah in 1957 and was later demolished for an apartment building.

In an unusual arrangement, the Stratton's partnered with 13 different homebuilders in the subdivision, with each builder being brought in as part owner of the subdivision. This was to ensure that there would be a definite variety of home designs in the tract, rather than the variations of a handful of designs that is the normal fare in a subdivision that is done by one or two builders. Janice Stratton sold the remaining ranch property to William G. Ross, a banker, and his wife Joy, on May 15, 1972. Other than putting the property in a family trust in 1990, there has been no ownership changes since then.

The main house and outbuildings appear to be in a remarkable state of preservation and represent a visible reminder of the early San Fernando Valley lifestyle that developed between the World Wars. This was a period of large estates which were frequently used as weekend getaways for the rich and famous. This is what Howard used it for. The earlier owner, John T. Hadley, however, intended to live on the property and use it in the true agrarian manner as a fruit orchard, most probably with plans to expand his holdings. His death prevented that from happening. The next owners to actually live on the property were George and Mary Chambers, but only after they had owned it for several years. Building permit records show that Grenville (George) Stratton began leasing the property during World War II for his Circle S Ranch, raising race horses on the land as early as 1940 (The name "Circle S Stables" shows in the Los Angeles Times as early as 1938, but it is unknown whether Stratton moved the name or was leasing land from the Chambers as well.)

These ranches followed the pattern of subdivision after World War II. After the closure of the horse ranch, the ranch was subdivided in the same manner that Peppergate Ranch (HCM 992) was split up, leaving an acreage lot for the original ranch house and outbuildings. The difference is that the Peppergate property was again reduced by a later subdivision in the 1960s. Circle S Ranch has retained its smaller acreage and remains today as a reminder of a lifestyle that faded away as the Valley transformed into suburbia in the Post World War II decades.

Circle S. Ranch meets two of the criteria for Historic Cultural Monument as it as it embodies the distinguishing characteristics of an architectural-type specimen, inherently valuable for a study of a period, style, or method of construction in both the main house and the outbuildings and that it reflects the broad cultural, political, economic, or social history of the nation, state, or community is reflected or exemplified in its period of significance as both a working ranch built as a retreat for an urban businessman and as an important midcentury link in the history of thoroughbred horses in both California and the sport as a whole.

TUTTLE SUCCEEDS HOWARD

Having become one of the largest retail Buick dealers in the United States through his interests in Hollywood and Pasadena, where he is president of the Howard Motor Company, Frank S. Howard has resigned from the general managership of the Howard Automobile Company of Los Angeles to devote all of his attention to his personal interests. The Howard Motor Company is separate from the Howard Automobile Company of Los Angeles and was founded by Frank S. Howard ten years ago.

Soon after Charles S. Howard began his company on the Pacific Coast, his brother, Frank S. Howard, joined the small force here. Now the organization headed by

HAROLD W.
TUTTLE.

Charles S. Howard extends from the Mexican border northward through California and Oregon into Washington and throughout Nevada. The founding of the Howard Automobile Company by Charles S. Howard was in 1905 when he began with a stock of five automobiles.

Starting in a minor position, Frank S. Howard worked upward with the growth of the business in Los Angeles to the position of general manager, which he has held for years. Meantime he had been expanding his own business, erecting one of the finest automobile buildings in Pasadena last year.

Harold W. Tuttle, for years assistant general manager, succeeds Howard in the general managership of the Howard Automobile Company of Los Angeles. Tuttle also has been identified with the Howard organization in this city since the early days, advancing through the various positions to that of head of the local organization.

Tuttle is now at the Buick Motor Company plant in Flint, Mich., on one of his frequent visits.

Tragedy Blamed on Drinking
by Auto Dealer

Terrified at the sight of his liquor-crazed parent beating and choking his mother, 12-year-old Richard S. Howard shot and killed his father, Frank S. Howard, 42 years of age, well-known automobile dealer, yesterday afternoon in the beautiful family home at 1905 Victoria avenue.

The father was shot through the right chest with a bullet from a .22-caliber automatic rifle in the hands of the boy. He fell unconscious and before a police ambulance could get him to the Georgia-street hospital he was dead.

"For God's sake, do something for him. I don't want any stain on my son for this!" the mother cried as the officers rushed the wounded man away.

BECOME HYSTERICAL

For several hours, mother, son and grandmother, weeping in an upstairs room at the home, were kept in ignorance of the father's death. When the fact was finally made known to them, the mother and son became hysterical.

The tragedy, according to the police, was the culmination of a gradual breaking down of Mr. Howard due to excessive drinking. As Capt. McCaleb of the Wilshire division recounted the details gathered from the principals, the father and the boy went out to the Howard ranch near Triunfo yesterday morning.

Arriving back at the family home shortly before 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Mr. Howard indulged in a few drinks of liquor. He went upstairs and ordered Mrs. Howard's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Richter, to pack her things and leave.

WIFE COMES HOME

At this juncture Mrs. Howard returned from a neighborhood store and, hearing the commotion upstairs, went up. She interceded on behalf of her mother, who, by that time, was preparing to pack up her things. Mrs. Howard told her mother to remain in the house.

"Mr. Howard then took off his coat, rolled up his sleeves and said he was going to throw both of us out," the officers quoted Mrs. Howard as saying. "I ran to the stairs and started down but on reaching the landing it occurred to me that he might fall down and hurt himself if he followed me. As I paused he came down the stairs and seized me as he reached the landing."

With one hand he had her by the throat, holding her up against the wall, and with the other he strangled her. She screamed. The grandmother hurried down the hall weeping, the boy with her.

"He had her by the throat with one hand and was beating her with the other," the boy said.

"When I saw how he was beating and choking her—everything got red—I don't know what I did," the boy sobbed to the officers.

The grandmother finished the pitiful story. The boy, she said, ran to his room on the upper floor and came back with a .22 automatic rifle. Mrs. Richter was on the upper floor at the head of the stairway starting to go to the aid of her daughter. Looking down the boy beheld the scene.

"I did not know whether it was loaded or not," he said.
"It was an automatic and I guess he just pulled the trigger," explained Capt. McCaleb. "The grandmother saw it—and both she and the mother heard two shots. The boy could not see the shooting as the father had her held upward on the stairs. He and she were on the landing."

Mortally wounded, Howard fell without a murmur.
Miraculously, the mother was not harmed by either bullet.

Vincent Reyes, Filipino houseboy, called the police and the ambulance while the mother and grandmother did what they could by way of first aid for Mr. Howard.

The boy apparently could not fully realize what had happened at first and very earnestly told the officers what had taken place. But gradually he began to go to pieces. His little brother Jack, 8, climbed up the heavily carpeted stairway to his mother's room. One by one each gave a statement to the officers.

Dr. J. E. Davenport, the family physician, was hurriedly called. He said Mr. Howard's wounds were beyond repair. He had known several times when the boy stopped his father from beating the mother by setting his air rifle.

Working with Capt. McCaleb, Capt. Elliott and Detective Lieutenant Newman and Wilson of the Wilshire station hurriedly gathered the stories of the tragedy as told by the mother, grandmother and the boy. Capt. Elliott pointed out that the grandmother is the only one who actually saw the shooting.

FITTS CALLED IN

Following a visit to the Howard home early in the evening by District Atty. Fitts, the boy was placed in technical custody and taken to the Wilshire police station to be booked on a charge of suspicion of murder. Afterward he was returned home to remain until the inquest, probably tomorrow, under the guard of Mrs. Nellie Schirmer, a policeman.

Fitts arrived at the house at about 7 o'clock in response to a call from Dr. Davenport, with whom he is acquainted. Besides Mrs. Howard and Richard, Reyes were present friends of Mrs. Howard and the investigating police officers.

It was not until after the District Attorney arrived that Mrs. Howard was informed that her husband was dead. She became hysterical and it was some time before she could be calmed sufficiently to resume her conversation with Mr. Fitts.

He characterized the shooting as "apparently a justifiable homicide."

AILING MOTHER

"From the information I have gathered," he added, "the boy instinctively ran to the aid of his mother when she was being struck by his father and this certainly was a natural result of his affection for his mother."

The District Attorney remained about an hour at the Howard home. Dr. Van Mullen and Dr. Fitzpatrick of the Receiving Hospital said the fatal bullet passed from the right side of the chest and came out near the left shoulder.

Mr. Howard was head of a motor-car sales company in Hollywood and in Pasadena and recently retired from his connection with a Los Angeles concern.

YOUR HOST GOES TO RANCH IN VALLEY

BY PAUL LOWRY

Your Host will be moved to the Circle S Ranch in Canoga Park on Tuesday and given a chance to recover in the California sunshine. He has not been out of his stall at Santa Anita since he fell during the running of the San Pasqual Handicap on Jan. 13 and broke a bone high in his right foreleg.

Toplis and Harding, the local firm representing Lloyds of London in the case, will have charge of the arrangements. Dr. John Walker is the veterinarian assigned to the case.

Movie Executive William Goetz, who said he "reluctantly" accepted the insurance company offer for the full amount of the policy—$250,000—will be handed his check tomorrow or the next day.

Won Rich Derby

Goetz had Your Host, a 4-year-old son of Alibhai and Boudoir II, insured for $250,000 right after he won the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby a year ago. The policy expired Feb. 22, but Lloyds voluntarily granted two 30-day extensions without charge.

Meanwhile, veterinarians in Goetz's employ circulated stories that the horse was declining and should be destroyed.

Lloyds' representatives brought in their own veterinarians, headed by Dr. E. R. Frank of Kansas State College, noted thoroughbred surgeon and author of many textbooks, and these men said the direct opposite was true. They noted Your Host eats well, has put on weight and is not suffering undue pain.

Full Amount

They recommended to Toplis and Harding that the horse be given every opportunity to recover, and Lloyds acted immediately by offering Goetz the full amount of the policy.

In his short career on the turf Your Host has won 10 stakes and $381,795, and if preserved for breeding conceivably could be syndicated for more than twice the figure of the policy.

Turfman Sued for Hospital Care of Wife

Grenville W. Stratton, capitalist and turfman, was sued in Superior Court yesterday for collection of $9542 said to be due a hospital for the care of his wife, Mrs. Cora L. Stratton, 72.

The suit was brought by Percy Riggs, to whom the Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital assigned the claim for collection. It included as defendant the Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles, guardian of Mrs. Stratton's estate.

The complaint asserts that Stratton has failed to make payments for his wife's care from Oct. 26, 1949, to April 30 of this year. She has been a patient at the institution since Sept. 19, 1944.

Nearly two years ago Mrs. Stratton's daughter by a former marriage, Mrs. Carolyn U. Bergere, petitioned the court for an injunction to prevent Stratton from removing her mother from the institution. Mrs. Bergere contended that Stratton had agreed to keep her there under a compromise which brought about dismissal of her then pending separate maintenance suit against Stratton.

The injunction suit was never tried because Stratton made no further efforts to transfer the chronically ill Mrs. Stratton elsewhere.

Stepdaughter Sues for Half of Stratton Ranch

Half interest in the $250,000 Circle S Ranch, one of California's best known race-horse breeding establishments, is claimed in a suit filed in Superior Court against Grenville W. Stratton, 67, by his stepdaughter, Mrs. Carolyn U. Bergere, age 47.

Mrs. Bergere sued the noted turfman in her capacity as administrator of the estate left by her mother, Mrs. Cora L. Stratton, 72, who died last April 18 after more than seven years of hospitalization.

Counterclaim

It was brought in the way of a counterclaim to a suit started by Stratton against Mrs. Bergere and her husband, A. L. Bergere, oil executive. In the original action, Stratton informed the court that in 1936 he and Mrs. Stratton agreed to place some of his separate property and certain of their community property in joint tenancy with right of survivorship.

But he complained that in November, 1944, when Mrs. Stratton no longer was mentally competent, the Bergeres caused her to make her mark upon a deed purporting to break the joint tenancy arrangement. His petition, prepared by Atty. Sherman Welpton Jr., requested that he be given clear title to two pieces of property in Beverly Hills, 630 Maple Drive and 528 N Rodeo Drive, under the 1936 agreement.

Assertions Denied

Mrs. Bergere's counterclaim, made through Atty. Howard Painter, denied these assertions and demanded sale of a third piece of Beverly Hills property, 427 N Camden Drive, and division of proceeds between Stratton and his wife's estate. It made a similar demand for disposition of the Circle S Ranch, now under Stratton's control.

Mrs. Stratton's will, signed Nov. 24, 1941, left all her property to Mrs. Bergere with the request that the latter pass it on to her son, Thomas B. Catron III, at her own death.

HOOFBEATS By PAUL LOWRY

Joe Jones may not win the Maturity, but you can bet your bottom dollar he'll be a dead fit horse when the $100,000-added race is run Jan. 30.

Like his famous sire, Stymie, second only to Citation in the money-winning standings of the world, Joe Jones thrives on work. "He's a real tough horse," says Trainer-Owner Hirsch Jacobs.

Jacobs doesn't believe Joe Jones, named for the groom that rubbed Stymie, has proved as good a horse in California as he was in Maryland.

However, Joe Jones lowered the Santa Anita track record for a mile a week ago and there is nothing in the small type that says the son of Stymie can't improve between now and Jan. 30.

In a bull session that revolved largely around the exploits of Stymie, which he claimed for $1500, Jacobs was quick to observe that Straight Face will be the horse to beat in the Maturity.

Out of Circulation

George W. Stratton's Circle S Ranch goes out of business tomorrow, the 60-acre ranch, the stallions, yearlings, broodmares, 2-year-olds and race horses being auctioned off at a Fasig-Tipton sale.

The Canoga Park establishment has long been one of the landmarks of the San Fernando Valley but Stratton, in ill-health in recent years, has been unable to give it the personal attention he believes it needs. In addition, the ranch, in the Los Angeles city limits, is a fertile field for the subdividers and the land is actually too valuable for a breeding farm.

Most interesting of all, to this observer at least, will be the dispersal of three babes from

Your Host's first crop—two fillies and one colt.

California breeders let Your Host, winner of innumerable stakes and $384,703, get away from a season's breeding at Stratton's farm because he was crippled. He is royally bred, by Albhal and Boudoir II, by Mahmoud. It will serve the California unbelievers right if Your Host's sons and daughters live up to his greatness.

Date Set

Across the Board: Feb. 9 has been set as the date for the annual George Woolf party at Murphy and Slugger Sturniolo's Derby in Arcadia. The name of the jockey winning the annual Woolf award will be made known at that time . . . Stranglehold's exploits as a Calbred iron horse come by him naturally. He is a son of Stronghold, whose sire was Hard Tack. The latter was the sire of Seabiscuit and, if you recall, the great Biscuit raced 35 times as a 2-year-old. Stranglehold earned $182,810 in his four seasons on the turf. Not bad for a $7500 claim on the part of Mr. and Mrs. N. Gordon Phillips.

Betty Grable once tried to get the name of Show Girl for Night Special, the dam of the stakes-winning James Session. Night Special was an outstanding yearling, undefeated in time trials. She graduated easily at 2 but developed a bone obstruction in her nose and was retired. James Session is her first foal . . . Golden Abbey threw a shoe when he was making a good move in the Santa Catalina the other day but luckily came out of the race none the worse for wear . . . Porterhouse, rated equal with Turn-To at 128 pounds in Jack Campbell's Experimental Handicap, got his name from his dam, Red Stamp—a throwback to the days when we bought meat with red stamps.

Stratton, Breeder of Horses, Dies

Grenville W. Stratton, 76, who was well-known in thoroughbred racing circles as the man mainly responsible for saving the life of the stakes star, Your Host, died Monday evening.

A prominent owner and breeder, Mr. Stratton maintained the Circle S. Ranch in Canoga Park, where he stood the sire, Heelfly. The latter produced Yankee Valor, one of the finest California-breds of all time.

Among the top horses to race in Mr. Stratton's black and yellow silks was the popular filly, Carmenita.

Saved for Stud

On Jan. 12, 1951, William Goetz's Your Host fell during the running of the San Pasqual Handicap at Santa Anita, fracturing the ulna bone in his right shoulder. The horse was insured for $250,000.

Although the horse was a cripple from then on, Stratton believed it could be saved for breeding purposes, and prevailed upon Lloyd's of London to transfer the horse to his Canoga Park Ranch.

Produced Kelso

There, under the care of Dr. John Walker, Your Host improved. Lloyd's paid off the policy, and when Your Host was out of danger, sold the horse to F. Wallis Armstrong of New Jersey.

Sent east, Your Host proved himself a success in stud by producing Kelso, which for the last two seasons has been voted the horse of the year.

Mr. Stratton leaves his widow, Janice; two sisters and two brothers. Private funeral services are being arranged by Gates-Kingsley, Gates, West Valley.
