

Hollywood Walk Of Fame Nomination

Angelica Maria "La Novia de Mexico" (Mexico's Sweetheart)

Angélica María is perhaps the only Mexican actress to successfully transition from child star to living legend. Her career began in films when she was only four-years-old and grew into one of Mexico's greatest theater, TV and music recording artist. As such, she's the recipient of the coveted Latin Grammy® Award. Early in her career she was nicknamed "La Novia de Mexico" (Mexico's Sweetheart) by Mexico's press corps for her inner and outer beauty – she still holds that title. To this day, Angelica Maria remains the eternal sweetheart and a steadfast icon who fills theaters throughout the US and Latin America. She has inspired millions, in particular her own daughter's star studded career. She's a grandmother and a proud Hollywood resident very active in civic and humanitarian activities in the Southern California Latino community.
