Summary: The Historic Highland Park Neighborhood Council (HHPNC), representing over 60,000 stakeholders in Highland Park and Garvanza, strongly supports the creation of a Los Angeles Public Bank (Council File: 19-1235). With the city facing urgent challenges—such as wildfires, a housing crisis, and aging infrastructure—the Council urges redirecting the $1.4 billion Los Angeles currently pays annually to private banks toward reinvestment in local communities. A public bank would be a nonprofit, city-owned institution designed to keep public funds circulating locally. It would offer low-cost loans to support affordable housing, small businesses, and infrastructure upgrades—building long-term economic resilience while prioritizing equity and community benefit over profit. Public banks are governed by independent boards of financial experts, ensuring transparency and protection from political interference. Investment decisions would align with community needs and values. While this effort requires an upfront cost, the potential savings for future city budgets would be substantial—cutting borrowing costs, eliminating Wall Street fees, and reinvesting earnings back into local priorities. The Council commends the City for unanimously approving a public bank feasibility study in 2023 and again in 2024. They now call on the Council to allocate $460,000 to fund a Request for Proposals (RFP) to begin development of the bank's full business plan. This is a modest but crucial investment in a more ethical, equitable, and resilient financial future for Los Angeles.

RE: Fund the Los Angeles Public Bank Plan

Dear Los Angeles City Council Members,

On behalf of the Historic Highland Park Neighborhood Council, representing over 60,000 Los Angeles stakeholders who reside, own property, or conduct business in the neighborhoods of Highland Park and Garvanza, we strongly support the establishment of the Los Angeles Public Bank (Council File: 19-1235). With our city facing wildfires, unaffordable housing, and crumbling infrastructure, redirecting public funds from the $1.4 billion we currently pay to private banks annually is critical. That money can rebuild neighborhoods, strengthen disaster resilience, and support local small businesses.

The Los Angeles Public Bank—a nonprofit, city-owned institution—will reinvest local dollars into affordable housing, modern infrastructure, and small business development. Its primary goal is to keep funds within our local communities by providing low-cost loans for projects that benefit our neighborhoods, rather than redirecting public funds to prioritize the interests of private commercial banks. It will prioritize equity and ensure that profits benefit Angelenos rather than shareholders.

Public banks are governed by an independent Board of Directors, run by experienced bankers and financial experts. This structure ensures transparency and accountability in decision-making, as the board operates autonomously from political influences. LA's public bankers will make investment and lending decisions based on the mission and mandates set by the City and stakeholders to meet the needs of LA projects.

We applaud the City Council unanimously approving a feasibility study for the public bank in June 2023 and in May 2024. Now, we urge you to take the next crucial step: allocate the $460K needed to fund the Request for Proposals (RFP) for the City's consultants to begin developing the bank's feasibility study and business plan. This modest investment will save millions in the short term and lay the foundation for a resilient financial infrastructure before the next crisis strikes.

The Los Angeles public bank offers many advantages including:

- 1. Saving money. LA currently spends over $1 billion a year in fees to Wall Street. A public bank would significantly cut borrowing costs and put those savings back into local projects, ensuring every public dollar benefits our community instead of lining private pockets.
- 2. Community development. When funds stay local, they work harder for us. Deposits in a public bank create local loans that boost affordable housing, improve infrastructure, and support small businesses, all vital for building stronger neighborhoods.
- 3. Ethical investment. A public bank is more than just a bank; it's a long-term, community-rooted source of capital that targets the structural inequalities affecting generations. It's about investing in initiatives that genuinely uplift LA residents and local businesses.
- 4. Democracy and transparency. A public bank puts financial control in the hands of Angelenos. It gives our community a real say in where our money goes, ensuring investments reflect our shared values and priorities instead of private profit.

We respectfully request that the City Council consider our Community Impact Statement in support of the Los Angeles Public Bank.

Thank you for standing with our communities as we work to build a Los Angeles where every dollar truly serves its people.

Sincerely,

Darren Gold President

Sample Community Impact (CIS) to support the Los Angeles Public Bank:

The (INSERT NAME) Neighborhood Council, recommends that the Los Angeles City Council take the necessary legislative steps to support the establishment of the Municipal Bank of Los Angeles (MBLA).

The Los Angeles public bank can improve critical aspects of community life, such as affordable housing, small business development, and infrastructure. Today, all city projects require money. Crucially, our city pays interest on every loan they take out with our tax dollars, which is paid to commercial banks. A public bank would finance public works at a fraction of the price of private capital and operate according to a public mandate, serving the interest of the city and its people.

The MBLA would accept and insure city deposits, ensure liquidity, and provide all the banking and purchasing services the city requires. It would make prudent, targeted loans to the City itself and to responsible parties in sectors of the local economy where capital would make a measurable difference in the lives of Angelenos.

The bank should contain the following elements in its charter: direct social/environmental responsibility and anti-corruption clauses with bankers held accountable to public scrutiny, transparency, and a board of directors that includes persons associated with community development and financial experts. These safeguards will ensure the most democratic bank possible.

A public bank will provide Los Angeles with the tools to create sound investments that will save money and empower our city to invest public deposits in fiscally, socially, and environmentally responsible activities. This type of control over funds allows investment opportunities directly benefiting the City, where opportunities include rebuilding our crumbling infrastructure, transitioning to a green energy grid, accelerating environmentally friendly public transportation, and providing capital to underserved small businesses in marginalized communities.
