Comments for Public Posting: You will agree that there are “housing providers” and “housing consumers”. Now, stop and think... which group do you suppose is the most responsible for the housing shortage? People who already provide it or those who consume it AND those who pass unbearably restrictive laws that delay construction? Kind of obvious, huh? Sooo... why are we being blamed and punished? Why are our life savings being redistributed to others? Please, please help us stop all other elected officials from harassing housing providers! STOP HARRASING LANDLORDS!! These officials are guilty of contributing to the homeless problem, You, the elected officials ARE the housing problem. Housing providers are the solution! Will you help others embrace housing providers instead of punishing and destroying them with all the anti housing and/or all the anti provider laws?? Let’s reward the providers for providing housing and thereby doing such a good job of reducing the number of homeless people. Also, every college Economics 101 textbook teaches us that “rent control causes a shortage of housing”. What’s wrong with our elected officials? Why don’t they follow the science? It’s been proven over and over again and again. Rent control has caused the destruction of housing! Are our officials ignorant or are they just greedy for the tenants’ votes? Do they not believe in our proven American Economic System of Free Enterprise, or do they really believe in Bernie Sanders’ socialistic dream of re distributing wealth that has always failed every nation that has seriously tried this destructive system? We cannot afford to cover another family’s living expense! We’ll eventually lose all of our life’s savings. We have already lost a large amount that we will never recover. It’s hard enough to cover our own family expenses. Stop with the eviction moratorium. The whole city of Los Angeles is wide open there is no more need to provide free rent to individuals who can work and pay rent but they chose no to do so because you are telling no to do it. This moratorium is creating debt and welfare. The city of Los Angeles has removed mandates on masks and social distance so why the eviction moratorium still in place? Everyone is back to work. You think Russia is doing something bad to Ukraine. Well how about you council members. You are bombing the landlords, you are taking the landlords property and destroying them, you are taking the landlords income and burning their investments to the ground. You are the one everyday attacking without recourse the landlords who are the ones that are truly affected by covid until today. The landlords are the only class of people who are truly affected by covid financially. Let me attested on a piece of paper without a proof of income since this is what tenants are doing and getting away with it. You councilmembers are the Russian's in this democratic country. You don't know what else to take from certain class to give to the welfare population. Perhaps create housing, jobs and motivation to go to work instead of providing them with free housing, welfare and medicaid at the expense of others. Stop the eviction moratorium. Enough is Enough.
