Comments for Public Posting: We need LA City Code 56.11 brought back into action and enforced. There are homeless encampments with household items such as desks, couches, lamps, book cases that are being accumulated in addition to whatever garbage and human waste that is being created, it has become a public safety issue for all involved. The homeless should be packing up their items on a daily basis, enough belongings to take with them...not an entire house worth that it sits in public walkways and thoroughfares. The taxpayers have rights to safe public environments to enjoy and that is currently being taken away by the accumulation of homeless trash and human waste. Enough is enough, 56.11 must be brought back immediately...
