Comments for Public Posting: When the Mayor, or any of the Council Members start walking everywhere, or taking public transportation, then I respectfully state that you are all out of touch with the realities of living in Los Angeles. If you work a night shift, there is NO transportation to get you to your job and back safely and in a timely manner. If you live in an area that is mountainous, then unless you are physically fit and conditioned, walking to a bus/train is not feasible. There are areas that the closest bus is over 2 miles away. Not everywhere is like downtown or the valley.
