Comments for Public Posting: Judge Carter, who found the city in breach of this settlement agreement and states there is still not a clear plan to create the promised beds. Now, the Court has ordered the appointment of an independent monitor, it is disappointing that we have come to this point, which is going to cost even more tax payer money and ultimately not help actual individuals due to the city's failures. I want to note that the "recommendation" here from the City Attorney lacks transparency and includes no reasoning/support for the choice. Now, I know Galperin was City Controller from 2013 to 2022, but documents like this should include all relative information and not make assumptions of knowledge. I don't trust the City Attorney's track record regarding this settlement, but the other attorney seems supportive, "Given his (Galperin) knowledge of the city and his insights into how the city works, paired with someone (Daniel Geary) who specializes in data analysis, we think this is a good combination to get solid accountability." So I begrudgingly support this motion. ~ Jennifer Clark, North Hollywood resident in CD2 and for identification purposes, I am the VP of the North Hollywood Northeast Neighborhood Council.
