Comments for Public Posting: I'm a minority mom and pop apartment owner of a 7 unit building. Currently, because of the policies I'm losing several thousand every month at my RSO property. I have also spent over 30k in repairs which I will never get back. I have been waiting patiently for the moratorium to end and policy change which it has not. What about a program to help landlords losing money that are mom and pop like me? My only other choice is to sell my property and already we are seeing big corporate buyer who is not a minority looking to take it over. This goes against the councils argument of holding big corporate buyers away. Soon I believe we will go from your 70% estimate to 90% white corporate ownership.
