Comments for Public Posting: Wilmington is the forgotten city of Los Angeles. I am tired of Los Angeles thinking the residents of Wilmington won't care about their city. We have no investment in our community. Across the country port towns have infrastructure, investment, restaurants, shopping. Our community needs investment not more homeless shelters. LA is missing out on a big opportunity to make our ports and our town an attraction instead of a deterrent to investment. I have lived in Wilmington for 54 years and have watch how the city and its representatives have forgotten us. We have shelters going up around schools , middle and elementary. Shelters going up where zoning is single family! The American dream is to purchase a home and have that investment. What will happen to our property values with 10 shelters in our town? I am disgusted with the lack of investment and representation for Wilmington. Do your jobs and recognize that Wilmington already has shelters we don't need 10 more. I am against this shelter going up near schools. We need markets shopping restaurants NOT shelters.

Comments for Public Posting: No more homeless shelters in Wilmington CA! Our community is trying to survive and this will not help us. Why not bring free mental health and addiction programs instead.
