Comments for Public Posting: The city has been over taken by homeless and RVs. A homeless shelter is good in theory, but it is not right for the city that already had too much. bringing another shelter to this city will make the flood gates even wider. If you look at the current shelters there are many people camping near them. Dumping trash on of trash. And the city has done very little about it. I am still waiting now over 30 days for a huge pile of illegally dumped trash to be picked up. My street smells like feces, and death. When will this small town catch and break from the homeless, RVs and child Molesters? This hard working port town needs to be cleaned up,not cluttered.
