Comments for Public Posting: I urge you not to change the social equity qualification criteria as this will hurt a lot of social equity people that were not able to participate in Phase 3 Round 1. They have waited around for social equity to start and weren't able to qualify for phase 3 part 1 and now you want to change the eligibility criteria? Many who qualified scraped and borrowed to create branding and business plans in order to attract investors so that they would be able to compete in this industry and now you want to tell them that they no longer apply? I believe that taking into account assets instead of just income will be enough to disqualify those that are hiding their assets and true income under corporations. Changing the criteria will also eliminate many people that were waiting for the Social Equity expansion report which just came out today. Thank you
