Comments for Public Posting: LAPD wasted tax dollars impounding cars during unlawful curfews and LAPD — not the city general fund — should pay for it. The funding to release cars without charging owners should come from LAPD, not from elsewhere in the city. I would not be surprised if the impounding of cars during the illegal city curfews, like all other inappropriate uses of power by LAPD, disproportionately affected Black and Brown Angelenos. Those whose cars were impounded should be repaid directly out of LAPD's pocket for any costs associated with having their cars impounded. DEFUND THE POLICE.
