Comments for Public Posting: The logic of conducting NC elections by mail with 99 different councils operating under different rules escapes me. Why is the City wasting tax dollars to make this work ? The County had enough problems last year conducting on-line elections after spending years planning for those on-line elections. Why would anyone actually think that a functioning mail in registration system can be up and running by December.? The potential for voter fraud is enormous. especially when the City believes that transients should be voting in these elections. What a wonderful opportunity for every service provider to sign up their clients in order to take control of the NCs. There is absolutely no reason why elections that will be taking place next May shouldn't take place in person unless the Mayor believes that we will still be under strict stay at home rules. If that is the case, our economy will have collapsed and these NCs may as well be disbanded because the City will be operating on a bare bones budget.
