Comments for Public Posting: I love how Beltran tried to abdicate any and all responsibility for the NC training system sucking today in committee. She's been in charge for over 3 years. If it isn't her fault, whose is it? If she thought the trainings developed by other departments were bad, she should have tried to do something. The majority of non-content related problems are due to Cornerstone - a vendor she continues to do business with, or by inept management on the part of the Department. I'm shocked that Council Members continue to buy into her bullshit.
