Item Number:

Summary: The Greater Valley Glen Council opposes the proposal to bypass the Planning and Land Use Management Committee (PLUM) and bring directly to the City Council what are being termed "high value projects." We assume that "high value projects" implies projects of significant size and impact on their neighboring communities and, indeed, our entire city. As such, they deserve full vetting at the City Planning Commission, an objective PLUM and, if there approved, the full City Council. If the proposed project is of high value, sufficient time is needed for evaluating its impact. This proposed shortcut will allow for limiting public participation in the approval process. The entire planning process should reflect the Planning Commission's Core Objective: [To work] with local communities to enhance and preserve the built environment for future generations.
