Comments for Public Posting: I am adding my voice to the general concerns of corruption in our City Council when it comes to planning and land use, especially with the use of "High Value Land" development in Los Angeles. Bypassing PLUM seems to be more of an attempt to get away from scrutiny, than to avoid corruption. Also, if the PLUM does continue to allow the destruction, even in part, of the historic LA TIMES Building, there will be action, direct and legal, to shine light on the corruption surrounding the path to that decision.
