Comments for Public Posting: I tried posting a public comment a few weeks ago, but never saw it posted. So here I am again to say that this measure will not fix homelessness. People living on the street need resources, not to be arrested just for existing. Criminalizing homelessness will just make things worse. We must recognize acting out of fear and anger will bring only more fear and anger. Until each of us has fair and equal access to air, water, food, and shelter, we will be left with a choice to either separate ourselves from one another, or to come together as human beings to build a better future.
