Comments for Public Posting: Decision making MUST only be made After the Facts have been investigated. PETA is a lying bunch of Hypocrites and is Business that pays people to Disrupt anything to do with the Western way of life! Big city councils Must not fall into their misguided opinions . Banning Rodeo or Western Sports events Must Not Become a Political Opinion ! Please allow these events to carry on .

Comments for Public Posting: Please don't stop rodeo, and equestrian events in Los Angeles. Getting involved in rodeo latter in my life, I have seen how well all the animals are cared for and not to mention the GREAT men and women involved. Respectful hand shacking people with deep roots to there communities and role models to the youth everywhere they go. PLEASE I beg you to do the right thing! Sincerely! Jerry Baron

Comments for Public Posting: I am respectfully asking that you please not ban rodeo & equestrian events. There has been much misinformation out there. Having spent several years of my childhood on a stock contractor's ranch, I can personally attest that all the livestock is treated with utmost care. Most bucking horses, bulls & steers only work a few minutes a year. The rest of the time, they are on lush pasture. In the arena, I've seen every measure taken for the safety of these animals. Rodeo & agriculture is the heritage of California. It's sad when kids don't even know where most of their food comes from - most of this is caused by bad teaching driven by a liberal agenda. Thank you for your consideration. Our young people's future depends on your wise decision in this matter.

Comments for Public Posting: Please don't ban rodeo. Rodeo is so part of our western life and has taught many of our youth how to win or lose with grace, responsibility, how to care and love their animals as well as the rodeo stock, how to help each who are many times their competitors, how to be respectful. They truly love this sport and they carry all of these life lessons on in life outside the arena.

Comments for Public Posting: I grew up in Los Angeles County, the daughter of a Sheriff's Officer who helped me survive an abusive childhood through the gift of a horse. Since that time, I have seen how valuable these animals are in both their therapeutic role and their historic ranching role. The men and women who participate in rodeo are learning skills that are essential to the management of livestock. The training of their children and the passing on of these livestock handling and horse management skills are fundamental in our arid western states. There is a huge divide between agriculture/ranching and urban city dwellers. It's far too easy to say something looks like abuse without understanding the facts and the care that goes into taking care of these animals. Also, it is very easy to spread false information that is hard for people to verify. In my 61 years, 20 years in the horse industry, I have never encountered abuse at a rodeo. I can say for certain that we need to support our cowboys and cowgirls. Their skills are essential in this day and age. We need their courage and capability and we need that to be passed on to the next generations. Thank you for continuing to support rodeo in LA County.
