Comments for Public Posting: Rodeo is a great family sport, it dates back so far that it's a family tradition for most people. There are young and old that compete and work hard to win money and prizes and make it to the finals to be crowned the champion of the world.. it's a great sport and something the whole family can enjoy The stock contractors breed and work towards having the best stock to create great matches between the cowboys and stock. They work just as hard as the cowboys on keeping animals healthy and happy in competition and in resting year round.
