Comments for Public Posting: To whom it may concern. After 47 years of living in the beautiful State of California, I finally made the the move to Texas. California's elected and unelected officials are destroying the State with policies, rule, regulations, taxes, etc., that just make it impossible to live there and enjoy life. It is so sad to see how SAD this unelected officials must, when, on one hand they are pretending to protect the animals, and on the other, they are making everything possible to kill as many Unborn Babies as they can. may God have mercy on all of them.

Comments for Public Posting: To even consider banning these rodeo events shows a lack of understanding of animals and the way these events are done and any effects on the animals. This type of thinking is illogical and is promoted by those with an agenda that is NOT about the welfare of the animals. The lobbying against these activities is paid for by the thousands who donate money to organizations believing they are helping to promote actual animal welfare when in fact it is all about money and control. Please do not let the money and politics behind this push sway your decision....which can have widespread effects on rodeos across the Nation. Thank you.
