Comments for Public Posting: Three should be NO question that rodeo should be outlawed in LA. First of all, these activities are of no redeeming social or artistic value - any activity in which animals are being harmed, however minimally, is to be decried and put to an end. LA is the hub of some of the greatest artistic work in the world - do we need foolish and dangerous sports to taint that reputation? Animals don't belong in these settings - they have chose nothing of this sort of activity - there is no evidence they enjoy any of this. They are pasture animals that graze and meditate for hours - go to a sanctuary and you will see that the ones who are rescued and free from ridiculous aspersions on their beings are peaceful, restful animals who would never choose to be ridden or in a jeering crowd of people who don't care or understand they are being hurt...how sad - please stop this now!
