LOS ANGELES, California; ROCHELLE, Illinois—A Los Angeles City Council bill to ban rodeo, pending since December 2023 and set to expire on July 18, 2026, appears likely to be bucked off the council agenda by opposition from Arts, Parks, Libraries & Community Enrichment Committee chair Ysabel Jurado.

Jurado, elected in 2024, still has half her Los Angeles City Council term left to serve.

Bob Blumenfield, who introduced the proposed rodeo ban, will be term-limited off the Los Angeles City Council when the current session ends on December 16, 2026.

Parallel to rodeo bans already in effect in neighboring Pasadena and Irving, the proposed Los Angeles ordinance defines a rodeo as an "exhibition, performance or competition for live public entertainment."
