Comments for Public Posting: Great motion here. We MUST as a city OPPOSE AB 1401. Getting rid of minimum parking requirements for new development in a city so oversaturated with cars is the stupidest idea anyone could possibly have. We simply don't have a viable alternative in LA proper to cars. If AB 1401 passes, it will kill our Los Angeles economy. What a ridiculously moronic bill they've come up with in Sacramento, of course want to apply it to the whole state because they don't trust localities to govern themselves. If it works for someone in their own city, they should pass a local law. Here in LA, we've had parking minimums that work for us, we already have density bonuses and other incentives that allow for reduction in the minimums so we don't need the state government sticking it's face where it doesn't belong. GREAT MOTION. PLEASE PASS IT AND TELL SACRAMENTO NO ON AB 1401.
