Comments for Public Posting: I am an Angeleno who is very concerned about my unhoused neighbors. Hearing last week that the federal government is now willing to reimburse Los Angeles at 100% to house homeless individuals in unused hotel and motel rooms brought me great joy - but the city must act! The homelessness situation in our city is out of control and our shelters are not doing the trick. There are not enough spaces and shelters are NOT safe enough environments for all of the struggling people living on our streets. And especially as this pandemic rages on it is imperative that we find places to house our neighbors that are truly safe. We must expand Project Roomkey. Let us take advantage of our new administration's gracious offering to assist in its implementation. This is a no-brainer. Hotel and motel rooms sit empty while thousands of innocent Angelenos fight cold, rain, theft, illness, and endless abuse on the streets. Let's help our fellow humans. If this pandemic has taught me anything it's that we have a responsibility to protect each other in times of need. Please do the right thing and put Project Roomkey into action.

Comments for Public Posting: I strongly urge you to reopen and expand Project Roomkey. I have worked for 14 years in Skid Row, and Project Roomkey has been life-changing for my patients who have had the opportunity to participate in this program. But there are still literally thousands of our neighbors who need this kind of program. Housing really is the key to physical/mental health, financial stability, and a vibrant community.
