Comments for Public Posting: People living on the streets have no options to get indoors like a library or a community center, which are closed due to the pandemic. We are decades overdue for more housing options and our neighbors need immediate relief and safety from the elements. We need individual units like Project Roomkey, not congregate settings, as public health experts and the CDC have advised. We need thousands more units. That is the only option for Los Angeles's future. We need to act quickly. Thousands of our neighbors are living on the streets. They have no time for report backs. In a matter of days, we need to make more hotel rooms, apartments and housing units available. Now is the time.
