Comments for Public Posting: I would think that something this monumental that affects so many people should be put to a state wide vote. Our electric grid can not sustain this. What will all these EV's be made of? Most of them are heavy on plastic parts; which is made of petroleum. I honestly can't believe in my lifetime I would ever see such draconian and harmful policies passed without public voting. Stop with the progressive, new world order re-set nonsense that will majority affect lower income and middle class people.
