Comments for Public Posting: This is a ridiculous and thinly veiled attempt to continue targeting the unhoused inspired by a third rate LA Times article. The mere fact the motion stops short at mentioning homelessness exemplifies Buscaino's limp sleight of hand - he's not trying to hide anything, but knows he can't outright express his intentions. When will the city stop trying to police its way out of the problems of homelessness and actually start getting down to the root issues? At what point will we actually grow up and admit our actions have failed and all we have to show are damages against the most vulnerable communities? This shit's serious, stop being a farce of yourself, Joe.
