Comments for Public Posting: Please vote YES on the Livable Communities Initiative. LA needs more mixed income housing in commercial areas. Improving bike and pedestrian infrastructure is also a priority. We also need more tree canopies and outdoor public spaces. As a homeowner in 90042 this especially important to me. Thank you.

Comments for Public Posting: I am writing to voice my support for the Livable Communities Initiative and ask that the Planning and Land Use Management committee vote yes on the initiative. Voting yes on the Livable Communities Initiative could mean bringing mixed-income housing into commercial areas, better biking and pedestrian infrastructure, expanding tree canopies and outdoor public spaces, and prioritizing transit-rich corridors. All of these things are vital for making Los Angeles a more diverse, more community oriented, and more sustainable city. It is something that I believe and many Angelenos believe is necessary for the future of our city!

Comments for Public Posting: I'm writing to ask the council to support of the Livable Communities Initiative. The city of Los Angeles needs more housing, better and more walkable sidewalks, bike lanes, an increase in tree canopies and more. We need to build LA to become more sustainable for the future, and initiative is an opportunity to do so. Please support Angelenos and our communities by supporting this initiative.

Esteemed PLUM, The LCI is a holistic solution to building high quality homes, family-sized units, and attainable home ownership and affordable housing across the region. LCI calls for zoning for and supporting residential housing above small retail along a select number of LA's underutilized commercial corridors. I support the PLUM committee moving forward and the City Council bringing urgency to creating a Pilot Program as soon as possible. Many communities and stakeholders already want an LCI and programs like it -- and walkability is more than just an important amenity for health, traffic and convenience — it is something that people want and, as our few walkable communities and their relative housing costs show, there isn't enough of! LA should lead the way by fast tracking this housing, traffic and climate solution -- helping to address CA's emissions with Zero Carbon Housing and Zero Carbon Mobility -- 34% of emissions. With the Federal government backtracking on climate, cities and states are the only way we can take urgent action -- and LA can lead the way. The LCI is a holistic solution that reduces traffic and pollution while creating housing in high-opportunity job centers near transit, and along streets that can be transformed for walkability and livability. The LCI can create Workforce, Missing Middle, Moderate, Low and Mixed-income Housing and Attainable Home Ownership to address our RHNA targets and home ownership deficit. I urge the PLUM Committee to allow Livable Communities to move forward. Thank you for your time and consideration, Leslie A. Ridings
