To the PLUM Committee:

The original Pacific Dining Car building (the entire building) must be preserved as an important landmark and historical place in Los Angeles. During turbulent periods of time, like now, places like Pacific Dining Car remind Angelinos who we were, wh that we can appreciate being together as one great people. Pacific Dining Car was a gathering place of great significance and therefore should be preserved.

For the record, I reside in Sherman Oaks.

I'm writing to support the historical Pacific Dining Car!

My family and I have so many great memories celebrating important life events at this restaurant. It was our steakhouse of choice because the food was good, the service neighborhood. It is where I introduced my grandsons to fine dining and where a family of color can feel comfortable and welcomed.

I hope that you will determine that Pacific Dining Car is more than just a restaurant, but a place where memories and deals are made and should reopen!

RE: Pacific Dining Car (1310 W. 6th Street), is up for historic designation

I want the whole building designated (protected), to honor the near century that politicians, international dignitaries, business people and families gathered together shaping our city in their own ways.

PDC has been a 24-hour sanctuary for the literary and entertainment world, and a bridge between many vibrant L.A. communities. Known as much for making dear memories, it has been a place for city and personal business functions, and family celebrations for around 100 years.

I'm writing in support of The Pacific Dining Car. In this time of fast food and chain restaurants, it's so easy to lose our past. The Pacific Dining Car is a real beacon of old school charm, fine dining, and beautiful service. My family and I have eaten there much. The baseball steak! The roast beef. Old school and fabulous.
Please, please, designate this a historical site and help preserve this beautiful part of Old Los Angeles.

Good afternoon,

I'm writing to you today to speak of why I believe that the Pacific Dining Car should become a historic landmark in Los Angeles. I was born and raised in Los Angeles and I have loved every minute. Los Angeles is relatively young compared to other places with so much culture and history. Pacific Dining Car is a vital part of that history. Not only has it hosted many celebrities like Nicholas Cage and Denzel Washington but it's also hosted families like mine. Pacific Dining Car quickly became a staple in my Thursday lunches with my father and sister and felt lucky to have the opportunity to catch up. The staff was always kind and attentive and the food delicious. When COVID happened, we no longer were able to go and were saddened to hear that the lost a part of our family. I hope that Pacific Dining Car is given another chance and once again opens its doors to the Los Angeles community.
Thank you,
Giselle Munoz

Hello my name is Mario Uribe & I'm from the 38th district of California. I want to explain what the Pacific dining car means to me and my family it's a home away from home. With great customer service and delicious food it will be a real let down if this restaurant closes for good. It doesn't matter if it's 2 PM or 4 AM you get quality friendly service no matter what from their staff. Nowhere in Los Angeles do you get this quality kind of service from the Pacific dining car. I want the whole building designated to honor the near century that politicians, international dignitaries, business people and families gathered together under this roof. Each shaping our city in their own ways.

Pacific Dining Car

Please consider the Pacific Dining Car for historic preservation.

Unique and special with a long storied history, this iconic landmark deserves your support.

I loved The Pacific Dining Car the first time I went almost 40 years ago. The food and service are excellent, but I was so impressed with the dining car. A true hidden gem and a romantic gateway to the past that deserves preservation status.

Re: Landmark Status of Pacific Dining Car

To whom it may concern:

I am writing in support of landmark designation of Pacific Dining Car— and in hopes that it will by some miracle rise from the ashes of COVID closures. There are so many reasons PDC should "live on" and not just end up in a book of historical places "that used to be." Places like PDC are so much more than preserved "old buildings" and curiosities— they are part of the history and character of our wonderful city that all too often gets accused of being "generic" (save for a few icons like the Hollywood sign, Grauman's, the walk of fame and such. The legacy of Pacific Dining Car is one that is about people— the upscale, clubby 24 hour eatery drew people from all walks of life in the City of Angeles. Business deals, personal celebrations, intimate dinners drew a cross section of Angelinos from business, medicine, sports, entertainment, and city government, and state and national figures, journalists, and doctors and nurses from neighboring Good Samaritan Hospital. Over the years I became somewhat of a regular. There was no place quite like the bar— and conversations with Rafi who was still full time at 87, full of wit and wisdom, and Lou who made everyone feel at home and well taken care of, and, of course, the young guy, who was sometimes away because he did stand-up in L.A. and in Vegas. I wonder if he got any of his material tending bar at PDC. The highlight of PDC for me was the staff— I still see some of the guys around town working in other places. I had seen Jaime learn English and progress to becoming a first rate waiter. I remember his smile as he told about the birth of his first-born— and the second. When the restaurant closed, they were about ready for high school. In various great world cities there are places that are the essence of city they call home. Dining Car was the essence of grown up Los Angeles. I am a classical musician, writer, and teacher. I count as close friends a few people from the business world that I met at the bar in PDC. I probably would never had met them if it hadn't been for Dining Car. Preservation is about so much more than a building— Pacific Dining Car is about people and panache and the wonderful quirky mix that is Los Angeles. My plea is for historic status— and historic precedence, so that PDC might find a new life and move into another century of bringing people together.

 To Whom It May Concern,

Pacific Dining Car is my home for many special memories over the years. I started patronizing both the original downtown LA and Santa Monica locations in 1992 (thirty years ago)! I love our city and it saddens me to see so many iconic places disappear. I hope and pray that the original downtown LA location can be saved and reopened for all of this city's individuals who treasure classic and elegant dining at its very best. I was at the downtown PDC location on Friday, March 13th, 2020, with friends as we celebrated my birthday. Little did we know that the restaurant would have to close its doors only three days later due to the pandemic. Let's reopen this beloved place so that we can celebrate PDC's centennial birthday (albeit belated for one year) and allow future generations to enjoy its unmistakable charm.

Sincerely,

 Gentlemen:

Please protect the Pacific Dining Car. It is an important landmark which should be preserved. Too many of these LA City treasures are being destroyed. Our legacy with the past is important to our heritage.

Thank you,

I vote to preserve an important piece of Los Angeles history. Save the Pacific Dining Car. Give it the historical status it deserves as a long time landmark restaurant.

In our fair city, so much of our past is destroyed and so many treasured legacy businesses have disappeared. Places we enjoyed with family. Places we celebrated life.

These places connect us to our past. They are important to Angelenos who have held these businesses as part of their life story. Part of the fabric of their lives. And part of the fabric of our beloved city.

Save them. Places like Pacific Dining Car cannot be replaced. They are special. They deserve a place in our future. There are plenty of spaces to fill, plenty of abandoned buildings to refurbish. Lets not lose a beloved friend for no good reason.

Thank you,

John Novak,
10041 Silverton Ave
Los Angeles Ca 91042.

To whom it may concern,

My name is Andrea Acosta and I am writing on behalf of Pacific Dining Car.

I have come to love and enjoy dining at PDC as it has been a long standing tradition in my family, going back to my great grandparents. I have fond memories of dining there as kid, and as an adult. This is a true LA staple and it would be sad to see it gone forever. It's historic and should remain for future generations to enjoy. The atmosphere, and food and people are what make PDC an experience that everyone should be able to enjoy. Please keep PDC.

Thank you,
Andrea Acosta

Hi,

My name is Quentin Sofio and I have been a Los Angeles resident for 26 years. Pacific Dining Car has been part of my childhood and upbringing in LA and it should be protected as a cultural landmark.

PDC has been a 24-hour sanctuary for the literary and entertainment world, and a bridge between many vibrant L.A. communities. Known as much for making deals as for making memories, it has been a place for city and personal business functions, and family celebrations for around 100 years.
LET'S NOT LOSE ANOTHER LEGACY BUSINESS IN L.A.

Sincerely,

Quentin Sofio

I support The original Pacific Dining Car on (1310 W. 8th Street) for historic designation by the City of Los Angeles.
 I live in Santa Monica, 90404 and I am part of the following California district

State Assembly (District 50)

Assembly Member Richard Bloom-DEM

State Senate (District 26)

Senator Benjamin Allen-DEM

I have been a long time and 2nd generation resident of Santa Monica and when we heard that they were closing The original Pacific Dining Car in Santa Monica on Wilshire, my wife's and my heart fell out of surprise at this happening. This is where I had my wedding proposal dinner for my wife and other countless memories I have from high school and college late nights gathering with other family and friends. Please help this historic/cultural treasure of Los Angeles not go away, it is enough that the Santa Monica location is gone, and now we will not tolerate that the original one will also go away too!

Hello,

I am writing to encourage support for SAVING THE PACIFIC DINING CAR!

As a native Angeleno, I have witnessed far too many wonderful icons lose their way as Los Angeles continues to expand and modernize. I can even remember having lunch with my Father when I was a child at the original Brown Derby! How sad that it didn't survive along with many others. That's how long I've been around!!

The Pacific Dining Car now has a chance for restoration.... PLEASE let's make that happen!! The entire beautiful building is a true treasure! It's history is precious!! The memories of events and of love shared within its walls are priceless!! I can think of no one who wouldn't absolutely adore hearing that the Pacific Dining Car is once again thriving!!!

Say yes to SAVING THE PACIFIC DINING CAR!!!

Fondly,
Robin Krieger

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing on behalf of the motion to designate the Pacific Dining Car building as a Historical Landmark. From the time I was 5 years old, my father worked in Downtown LA first as a Stock Broker and then a Research Analyst. He would always leave the house hours before the sun came up to make sure he could prepare himself for the opening bell at 6:30am. He would often frequent the Pacific Dining Car in the wee hours of the morning to go over his research to make sure his recommendations to clients would be the most informed and most profitable that day. He served the securities industry for over 30 years, spending most of his career at two Los Angeles local family owned firms, Crowell Weedon and The Seidler Companies.

Upon his passing, shortly before the Covid shutdown, the Pacific Dining Car was immortalized in a eulogy given by own of his mentees. I was reminded of how dear the Pacific Dining Car was to him and so many others in Los Angeles for almost 100 years. Late Night dining for those who embrace the nightlife that the city has to offer, power lunches for those power players who keep the economy and city thriving, and those looking for a quiet booth early in the morning to prepare for the day like my dad.

In an era where we have lost so much, I implore you to consider the special place the Pacific Dining Car holds for so many. I know I personally eagerly anticipate the day it reopens so I can visit, sit in a booth at 4 in the morning and raise a glass to my dad.

Sincerely,
Kristen Merkh RN, BSN, OCN

I strongly support the historic preservation designation of Pacific Dining Car. I remember many meetings that I had with City decision-makers and influencers at that venue over many years. I think that the ambiance and the service, to say nothing of the food, helped put people into a more amiable, positive mood for any discussion, whether at breakfast, lunch, dinner, or late supper. It was always available and always interesting.

It is despicable what has happened to Pacific Dining Car, with the restaurant effectively stolen from the family via egregious infighting. Please save the location and give the sons an opportunity to preserve and reclaim their family legacy.

For angeleños, the restaurant was as famous and historical as any venue in the city, we are as proud of it as we are the Disney Hall, the US Bank Building, the Capital Records Building, the Watts Towers, you name it. Please City of LA, protect and restore this venue!

 PDC what can I say. This place has meant so much to so many.

I just happened to find this place when I was bartending downtown, lived in Riverside but had school at 8 am in downtown LA. After closing the bar each night rather than make the drive home I was looking for somewhere to study until school opened. I walked in and realized this was a MUCH nicer place than I had anticipated. It did not matter. The staff & servers treated me like I was their No. 1 patron. Many night were spent drinking coffee, eating blueberry pancakes & studying.

Other places may very well have turned me away. PDC staff did not. For the next 27 years I started bringing friends and family and every time PDC made each night a special event - even if it was just a trip for the baseball steak or shrimp diavolo. (PLEASE bring the shrimp back!!) Each visit we were welcomed like long lost family.

Pacific Dining Car has to come back.

Best regards,
 Marisol Madrid

Honorable City Council Committee Member,

As a resident of City Council District 8, I am writing to implore you to designate the entire structure of the Original Pacific Dining Car for Historic Designation.

The Pacific Dining Car not only is an iconic LA restaurant, but is part of the fabric of thousands of Angelino families, businesses, and foreign dignitaries.

My family has celebrated my Father's 90th birthday, my 50th and 60th birthdays, and countless special occasions; including Christmas and New Year celebrations.

Once the Dining Car closed, it was as if a family member had passed on.

Please designate the entire structure for today's generation of Angelinos and for the future generations as well.

Respectfully yours,

Guillermo J. Farias

Subject: Public Comments Not Uploaded Pacific Dining Car support
Good afternoon,

My name is Tony Gonzalez and am a life long resident of the L.A (east L.A specifically) community. I recently received an email from what was though a lost gem of the past, that there is time to voice our support of this fine community establishment.

The Pacific Dining car as you know is not only rich in history, but served as an oasis, a place to recoup after a horrible day, a place to celebrate! A place where those of us with limited funds and can go in and enjoy a discounted late night menu and dine as equals amongst the stars and celebrity just seeking refuge for a late night meal.

I know for myself personally, it has served as a place to regain my mental health when life wasn't so kind. A place I can come for comfort, comfort food, quietness and top notch service. I think it's safe to say that this place has served our Los Angeles communities and many who have visited our grand city for decades upon decades.

I hope that this committee will recognize this place not just for the preservation of history, but for literally saving lives. For giving us a place of refuge to eat at. A place to celebrate at. A place to regroup at. A place to feel equal to our fellow man it. It's more than just a restaurant, it's a way of life. Thank you in taking the time to read my email.

Sincerely,
Tony Gonzalez
