Honorable Councilmember Raman,

Hospitality is one of Los Angeles' most important industries. That's why over 120k voters signed and qualified the Responsible Hotel Ordinance and why City Council passed the law to ensure operators of hotels and short term rentals alike abide by the rules. Please respect democracy and do not delay this important ordinance.

Dear Councilmember Hernandez,

In the midst of a housing crisis, Los Angeles is still not adequately enforcing its short term rental law. The Responsible Hotel Ordinance will give the City new tools to ensure that unlawful short term rentals can be held accountable. using the same license system used for over 70 other types of permit. Unregulated short term rentals have been the scene of crime, including 3 killed at a short term rental in Beverly Crest last year. Just this week, yet another scandal emerged when a clean-up crew for a short term rental in Alhambra found boxes containing 235 pounds of methamphetamine. Please do not delay implementation of the law.

Honorable Councilmember Raman,

Over 120,000 Los Angeles voters signed and qualified an initiative petition for the Responsible Hotel Ordinance, ensuring hospitality operators abide by the rules. Last year, Los Angeles City Council passed a modified version of the ordinance that was a reasonable compromise for hospitality operators and the public. Please respect the will of the voters and do not delay the law.
