Comments for Public Posting: Animal shelters need to shelter animals. The killing of cats and dogs is unconcionable. Every school should have a system to come and pet, read to animals and to take them for walks. I have seen in other countries where dogs can be borrowed like a library book with a backpack with leash, balls, toys and treats- at least the animals get some love and socialization and children/humans learn to care for an animal for a short period of time. I grew up when libraries had library cats. We can do better. LA needs to do much better. Pets are not for rendering- STOP the killing and make an effort to save each animal. I have a lovely german shepherd that was pulled an hour before being killed. He is just 18 months old and such a love- so much joy! Named him Houdini
