Receipt
The samples were received on 12/10/2012 6:45 PM; the samples arrived in good condition, properly preserved and, where required, on ice. The temperature of the cooler at receipt was 4.3º C.

GC/MS VOA
Method(s) 8260B: The continuing calibration verification (CCV) for acetone associated with batch 74553 recovered above the upper control limit. The samples associated with this CCV were non-detects for the affected analytes; therefore, the data have been reported.

Method(s) 8260B: The matrix spike / matrix spike duplicate (MS/MSD) precision for batch 74553 was outside control limits. The individual analyte recovery was within acceptance criteria. The associated laboratory control sample / laboratory control sample duplicate (LCS/LCSD) precision met acceptance criteria.

No other analytical or quality issues were noted.

GC/MS Semi VOA
Method(s) 8270C, 8270C LL: The grand mean exception, as outlined in EPA Method 8000B, was applied to the initial calibration (ICAL) analyzed in batch 69453. This rule states that when one or more compounds in the ICAL fail to meet acceptance criteria, the initial calibration (ICAL) may be used for quantitation if the average %RSD (the grand mean) of all the compounds in the ICAL is less than or equal to 15% RSD. The following compounds are affected: benzidine; 1,4-naphthoquinone; dimethoate; methyl parathion; and 4-nitroquinoline-1-oxide.

Method(s) 8270C: Surrogate recovery for the following sample(s) was outside control limits: W-1 (440-32164-1), W-2 (440-32164-3), W-3 (440-32164-4), W-5 (440-32164-6). Matrix interference is suspected.

Method(s) 8270C: Insufficient sample volume was available to perform batch matrix spike/matrix spike duplicate (MS/MSD) associated with batch 73281. The laboratory control sample (LCS) was performed in duplicate to provide precision data for this batch.

Method(s) 8270C: The %RPD of the laboratory control sample (LCS) and laboratory control standard duplicate (LCSD) for preparation batch 73281 exceeded control limits for the following analytes: 2,4-dichlorophenol and hexachloroethane. The individual recoveries met acceptance criteria.

Method(s) 8270C: The grand mean exception, as outlined in EPA Method 8000B, was applied to the initial calibration (ICAL) analyzed in batch 74307. This rule states that when one or more compounds in the ICAL fail to meet acceptance criteria, the initial calibration (ICAL) may be used for quantitation if the average %RSD (the grand mean) of all the compounds in the ICAL is less than or equal to 15%RSD. The following compounds are affected: benzidine.

No other analytical or quality issues were noted.

HPLC
Method(s) 300.0: The matrix spike / matrix spike duplicate (MS/MSD) recoveries for chloride in batch 72504 were outside control limits. The associated laboratory control sample (LCS) recovery met acceptance criteria.

Method(s) 300.0: Due to the high concentration of chloride, the matrix spike / matrix spike duplicate (MS/MSD) for batch 72504 could not be evaluated for accuracy and precision. The associated laboratory control sample (LCS) met acceptance criteria.

No other analytical or quality issues were noted.

GC VOA
Method(s) 8015B: Surrogate recovery was outside control limits for the following sample: (440-32164-1 MS), (440-32164-1 MSD). The

Metals
Method(s) 6020: The initial calibration verification (ICV) for analytical batch 440-73512 exceeded control criteria for Ag. The data have been qualified and reported. commamerge

No other analytical or quality issues were noted.

General Chemistry
Method(s) 1664A: Insufficient sample volume was available to perform batch matrix spike/matrix spike duplicate (MS/MSD) associated with batch 74049. The laboratory control sample (LCS) was performed in duplicate to provide precision data for this batch.

Method(s) 1664A: Insufficient sample volume was available to perform batch matrix spike/matrix spike duplicate (MS/MSD) associated with batch 74416. The laboratory control sample (LCS) was performed in duplicate to provide precision data for this batch.

Method(s) SM 4500 CN G: Total cyanide analysis were performed for samples and the result obtained were non-detect. As such, these amenable cyanides analysis were not performed, and the result for these analytes were reported as non-detect.

Method(s) SM 4500 CN G: Total cyanide analysis was performed for sample W-1 (440-32164-1), W-1 DUP (440-32164-2), W-2 (440-32164-3), W-3 (440-32164-4), W-4 (440-32164-5), W-5 (440-32164-6), and the result obtained was a non-detect. As such, the amenable cyanide analysis was not performed, and the result for this analyte was reported as non-detect.

Method(s) SM 4500 S2 D: The matrix spike / matrix spike duplicate (MS/MSD) recoveries for batch 72992 were outside control limits for dissolved sulfide. The associated laboratory control sample (LCS) recovery met acceptance criteria.

No other analytical or quality issues were noted.

SOIL GAS SAMPLING PROCEDURES

SOIL GAS AND AIR SAMPLING PROCEDURES

SCOPE

These procedures have been prepared to ensure that sampling of soil gas and ambient air use methodologies in general conformance with the Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC's), Los Angeles Regional Water Quality Control Board's (LARWQCB's), and San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board's "Advisory – Active Soil Gas Investigation" (DTSC et al., 2012) and the DTSC's "Final Guidance for the Evaluation and Mitigation of Subsurface Vapor Intrusion to Indoor Air (Vapor Intrusion Guidance)" (DTSC, 2011).

PERMITTING AND NOTIFICATION

Prior to field activities, necessary permits, site access agreements, and/or encroachment permits are obtained. At least 2 weeks in advance of field activities, notifications are made to the property owner, client representative, on-site facility manager, regulatory agency, and/or other appropriate parties.

SOIL PARAMETERS FOR MODELING

If the soil gas data will be used for modeling, site-specific soil parameters may be required to meet project objectives. Soil samples are collected in stainless steel sleeves using procedures described elsewhere. Soil matrix parameters are obtained from a minimum of three sample locations, at depths where VOCs are present, for each soil type. Soil parameters that may be used in vapor intrusion studies include bulk density, organic carbon content of the soil, soil moisture, effective permeability, porosity, and grain size distribution.

SOIL GAS SAMPLING PROBE INSTALLATION

Soil gas samples may be collected from temporary or permanent soil gas sampling probes, or from beneath the slab of a building.

Subsurface Clearance Protocol

Site Utility Survey

At least 48 hours prior to drilling, Underground Service Alert of Southern California, Arizona Blue Stake, or an equivalent utility locating service is notified. A geophysical survey may be conducted to locate subsurface utilities. Site plans and/or as-built drawings are compared to actual conditions observed at the site. The property owner or site manager is interviewed to gain information about locations of former UST systems (including dispensers, product lines, and vent lines) and other subsurface structures. A visual inspection is made of the locations of the existing UST system, and scars and patches in pavement are noted.

Hole Clearance

To determine the natural subsurface conditions, better recognize fill conditions, and prevent cross-contamination, the first sampling location is generally located the furthest from any suspected underground improvement. When drilling a soil boring in asphalt or concrete, a minimum 10-inch-diameter round cut is made. When advancing a direct-push location, a minimum 3.5-inch-diameter round cut is made. There are three hole clearance scenarios, as follows.

- Permanent probes. Air excavation, air knifing, or another soft dig technique is used to clear an area larger than the diameter of the largest tool to be advanced. The air excavation is continued to a minimum depth of 8 feet, or deeper if nearby subsurface improvements are suspected of being present at greater depths.

- Temporary probes, hole clearance required. If hole clearance is required for installation of a temporary probe, hole clearance is performed at least 1 month prior to sampling. Air excavation, air knifing, or another soft dig technique is used to clear an area larger than the diameter of the largest tool to be advanced. The air excavation is continued to a minimum depth of 8 feet, or deeper if nearby subsurface improvements are suspected of being present at greater depths. The cleared hole is backfilled with sand, the surface is patched with asphalt or concrete if needed, and the subsurface is allowed to re-equilibrate for at least 1 month before sampling. Subsequent sampling must be 1 foot or greater below the bottom of the soft dug hole.

- Temporary probes, hole clearance not required. If hole clearance is not required for installation of a temporary probe, written client approval is obtained, a private geophysical survey is performed, and probe locations are at least 5 feet from any identified or suspected subsurface structures.

If subsurface conditions prevent adequate subsurface clearance, the field activities cease until the client gives written approval of a procedure for continuation. When pea gravel, fill sand, or other nonindigenous material is encountered, the sampling location is abandoned unless the absence of subsurface facilities can be demonstrated and client approval to proceed is obtained. If hole clearance activities are conducted prior to the actual day of drilling, the holes are covered with plates and/or backfilled.

If any portion of the UST system is encountered, or if there is any possibility that it has been encountered, the work ceases, and the client is notified immediately. If there is reason to believe that the product system has been damaged, the emergency shut-off switch is activated. The client decides if additional uncovering by hand is required. If it is confirmed that the UST system has been encountered, tightness tests are recommended. The hole is backfilled only with client approval.

Permanent Soil Gas Sampling Probes

Direct-Push Installation of Permanent Probes

Permanent sampling probes are installed with a direct-push rig utilizing Geoprobe's Post Run Tubing (PRT) system or soil gas implants. Multilevel direct-push probe installation consists of a cluster of single-level probes.

Tubing is marked at the surface to identify the probe depth. The ends of the tubes are secured in a traffic-rated wellbox or other well cover appropriate for the surface conditions, which is set into a cement surface cap. The construction of the soil gas sampling probe is documented on a well construction diagram on the log of exploratory boring.

Hollow-Stem Auger and Hand-Auger Installation of Permanent Probes

Procedures for drilling, logging, and collecting soil samples from hollow-stem and hand-auger borings are described separately. Soil samples may be collected for lithologic characterization, compound analysis, and/or physical property testing; procedures for soil sampling are described elsewhere.

After the borehole is drilled to its maximum depth, the deepest soil gas sampling probe is installed. Each sampling probe consists of a 3/8-inch-diameter by 6-inch-long stainless steel screen with stainless steel end caps. The probe is connected to 1/4-inch-outside-diameter nylon (NylaFlow or equivalent) tubing. To position the assembled probe and tubing in the borehole, the probe and tubing are inserted temporarily into a small-diameter (1 inch) pipe to place the probe and tubing at the appropriate position and depth of the borehole. The temporary pipe is then slowly removed as the annular filter pack and seal are placed in the borehole. For multilevel probes, additional probes are installed in a similar manner. The piping is not left in the ground. Each of the nylon tubing lines is clearly and permanently marked at the land surface to denote its corresponding screened interval.

Backfill materials are poured into the augers or open hole and measured with a weighted downhole tape measure. The sand pack is #3 Monterey sand or equivalent, and is placed such that each 6-inch-long screen is vertically centered in a 1-foot or greater interval containing sand pack, resulting in at least 3 inches of sand above and below each screen. Each sand pack is covered with 1 foot of dry granular bentonite, which is then covered with at least 2 feet of hydrated granular bentonite to the bottom of the next sand pack (for multilevel probes).

Following the emplacement of dry granular bentonite above the uppermost sand pack, the remainder of the borehole is filled with hydrated granular bentonite and, at the top, a cement surface cap is installed. The ends of the tubes are secured in a traffic-rated wellbox or other wellcover appropriate for the surface conditions, which is set into the cement cap. The construction of the soil gas sampling probe is documented on a well construction diagram on the log of exploratory boring.

Temporary Soil Gas Sampling Probes Using Direct Push

Direct-push soil gas probes are constructed of either 1.25-or 1.5-inch-outside-diameter steel equipped with a hardened drop-off steel tip. The probe length is normally 4 feet long and is threaded together to reach multiple depths. The probe is driven into the subsurface with H&P's Strataprobe or equivalent direct-push system. Once inserted to the desired depth, the probe is retracted to expose the vapor sampling port. Then, 1/4-inch-outside-diameter nylon (NylaFlow or equivalent) tubing is inserted through the center of the rod and threaded into a gas-tight fitting just above the tip. The probe rod is sealed at the surface with granular and hydrated bentonite for a minimum of 20 minutes before sampling.

After a sample is obtained, the tubing is removed and the probe rod is advanced to the next sampling depth or removed. This design prevents clogging of the sampling port and cross-contamination from soil during insertion.

Sub-Slab Soil Gas Sampling Probes

Sub-slab soil gas sampling involves collecting soil gas from immediately beneath the concrete slab of a building. An outer hole is drilled that partially penetrates the slab, then a smaller-diameter inner hole is drilled through the center of the outer hole through the remaining slab and into the sub-slab material.

The soil gas probe for sub-slab sampling is a 1/4-inch-outside-diameter stainless steel or brass tube that fits within the inner hole. The top of the tubing contains stainless steel or brass compression thread fittings (Swagelok or NPT female thread connectors) to connect to the soil gas sampling equipment. The probe is inserted into the inner hole such that the open bottom of the probe is completely beneath the slab. The larger diameter out hole in the slab is filled with quick-drying Portland cement that expands as it dries to ensure a tight seal with the probe and completed flush with the slab. The cement cures for at least 24 hours prior to sampling.

SOIL GAS SAMPLING

Equilibration Time

To allow for subsurface conditions to equilibrate after soil gas probe installation, the following equilibration times must pass prior to sampling.

- For probes installed with the direct-push method where the drive rod remains in the ground, the purge volume test, leak test, and soil gas sampling are not conducted for at least 20 minutes following soil gas probe installation.

- For probes installed with the direct-push method where the drive rod does not remain in the ground, the purge volume test, leak test, and soil gas sampling are not conducted for at least 30 minutes following soil gas probe installation.

- For probes installed with hollow-stem drilling methods, the purge volume test, leak test, and soil gas sampling are conducted at least 48 hours after the soil gas probe installation.

- For sub-slab probes installed, the leak test and soil gas sampling are conducted at least 24 hours after the soil gas probe installation.

Purge Volume Test

If required, a site-specific purge volume test is conducted at the beginning of the soil gas survey to determine the optimum purge volume. One casing volume is the volume of the sampling equipment and of the tubing or casing down to the probe. The casing volume does not include the volume of the probe, the sand pack, or the Summa canister (if used). During purging of a selected probe, soil gas samples are collected after 1, 3, and 7 casing volumes have been removed. The samples are analyzed immediately to determine the purge volume that yields the highest concentration. This purge volume is used for purging the remaining probes. If all concentrations are below detection limits during the purge test or a site-specific purge volume test is not required, 3 casing volumes are selected as the optimal purge volume for the remaining probes.

Leak Test

A tracer compound, either difluoroethane or helium, is used to test for leaks around the probe barrel at the ground surface and in the sampling system. When using difluoroethane, the tracer is placed around the base of the probe barrel and at the top of the probe barrel during sample collection. Paper towels or rags are soaked with the tracer and placed in plastic bags. The plastic bags are placed around the aboveground sampling system connections such that the bags are open to the connections but closed to the atmosphere.

When using helium as a tracer, a shroud is constructed to cover the entire sampling train (from the probe to the Summa canister) in order to detect leaks in the fittings and tubing of the system. The shroud includes an inlet port for adding helium and a second port for monitoring helium concentrations inside of the shroud. A third port can be added for passage of nylon tubing if the vacuum pump is located outside of the shroud. The shroud is filled with helium prior to purging the sampling point. The pressure in the shroud should be close to atmospheric pressure so normal sampling conditions exist. A portable helium detector is used to monitor and maintain a relatively stable helium concentration.

Soil gas samples are analyzed for difluoroethane or helium (based on the tracer used), in addition to the other analyses. If the difluoroethane or helium tracer is detected in the sample, then the sample may contain atmospheric air, the sample is not valid, and another sample may be collected.

Purge/Sample Flow Rate

Purging and sample collection is timed so that the flow rate does not exceed 200-ml per minute. The sample collection flow rate is accomplished by withdrawing the plunger on the 60-cc syringe at a constant rate for 20 seconds. The collector notes the collection time on a log sheet, and also records any resistance to sample flow that is felt on the syringe during collection.

Purging and Sample Collection

The probe tip and sampling tubing is purged of 3 to 5 casing volumes, or a pre-determined purge volume based upon a purge volume test described above. Following purging, soil gas is withdrawn from the end of the nylon tubing that runs from the sampling probe to the surface by one of two methods.

- For field analysis, a 20- to 60-cc syringe is used to withdraw a soil gas sample, which is immediately transferred to a mobile laboratory for analysis.

- For analysis by a fixed-base laboratory, a gas-tight Summa canister is used to withdraw a soil gas sample. The Summa canister has a choke valve that is used to ensure that the flow rate is less than 200 ml per minute. Summa canisters are stored at ambient temperatures away from direct sunlight; canisters are not chilled.

INDOOR AIR AND OUTDOOR AMBIENT AIR SAMPLING

When indoor air sampling is performed, outdoor air samples are also collected to measure background concentrations of constituents. The samples are collected in 6-liter, 100% laboratory-certified clean Summa canisters. The sample duration for commercial/industrial buildings is 8 hours and 24 hours for residential buildings.

Indoor and outdoor air sampling are conducted at the same time by commencing and ending the sampling of each within one-half hour of each other. In order to minimize contamination of the sample with VOCs generated within the building, the building is inspected at least 24 hours prior to sampling and obvious sources of contamination such as stored fuels and paints are removed. Potential VOC sources that cannot be removed, such as newly painted walls, new carpets, and heavy smoke odors are noted. Samples are collected from the center of the lowest floor at 3 to 5 feet above floor level. The outdoor air sample is collected at 3 to 5 feet abovegrade and upwind from the location and protected from the elements.

FIELD DATA COLLECTION

The following data are collected and recorded in the field:

- sample identification,
- probe location,
- date and time of sample collection,
- sampling depth,
- identity of samplers,

SAMPLING QA/QC

Method Blanks

Prior to sampling each day, all components of the sampling system are checked for contamination by drawing ambient air from aboveground through the sampling equipment, and injecting a sample into a gas chromatograph. The results are compared to that of the ambient air and recorded in the data tables as blanks.

Sample Quality Control

Each sample is given a unique identification number specifying location and depth. Purge and sample volumes are monitored closely using small, calibrated syringes to ensure a proper flow of soil gas. This procedure ensures that a representative sample is obtained from the sample zone without excessive pumping, which could result in sampling of surface air.

Decontamination Procedures

To minimize the potential for cross-contamination between sites, all external soil gas probe parts are wiped or washed cleaned of excess dirt and moisture with solvents or de-ionized water as appropriate. The probe's internal NylaFlow tubing is purged with clean air between sampling locations or replaced as necessary. Sampling syringes are flushed with clean air after each use or replaced.

ANALYSIS OF SOIL GAS SAMPLES

Soil gas samples are collected and analyzed by a laboratory certified by the state for which the analyses are being performed. Procedures comply with requirements of DTSC (2011) and DTSC et al. (2012).

GROUNDWATER MONITORING PROCEDURES

GROUNDWATER MONITORING, SAMPLING, AND SAMPLE MANAGEMENT PROCEDURES

NOTIFICATIONS

Prior to performing any field work, the client, regulatory agency, and property owner/manager with jurisdiction over the subject site are notified. Notifications are made a minimum of 48 hours prior to sampling, or as required by the client or regulator. E-mail notifications are used whenever possible.

WATER LEVEL MEASUREMENTS

Prior to performing purge or no-purge sampling, water level measurements are collected according to the following procedures.

- Wells are checked for phase-separated hydrocarbons (PSH), as required, with a clear plastic or Teflon bailer or oil/water interface meter.

- To avoid cross contamination, water levels are measured starting with the historically "cleanest" wells and proceeding to the historically "dirtiest."

- Water levels within each well are measured to an accuracy of ±0.01 foot using an electronic measuring device and are referenced to the surveyed datum. The surveyed datum is a notched (or otherwise marked) point on the top of the casing or, if no marking is visible, the northern side of the top of the casing. Measurements include the depth to groundwater, depth to PSH if applicable, and depth to bottom of well.

- As a best practice, water levels in wells should be measured within a 24-hour period. For multi-day monitoring events, water level measurements should be made on consecutive days. In order to ensure that purging does not effect water level measurements at cluster or nested wells located less than 5 feet from one another, all wells in a cluster/nest are measured before they are purged.

PHASE-SEPARATED HYDROCARBONS

If PSH is encountered, its thickness and depth are measured using one of the following methods.

- an electronic oil/water interface meter is used to measure the depths to the top of the PSH and to the top of the water; and/or

- an electronic water level meter is used to measure the depth to the top of the water and a clear bailer is used to measure the PSH thickness.

The potentiometric surface elevation is calculated as:

TOC – DTW + 0.74PT

Where TOC = top-of-casing elevation, DTW = depth to water (interface), and PT = PSH thickness.

If PSH thickness is less than 0.02 foot, and purging of the well is planned prior to sample collection, the well is purged and sampled in accordance with the sample collection section of this standard operating procedure (SOP). If the PSH thickness is 0.02 foot or greater, either no sample is collected for analysis, or a groundwater sample is collected (to meet technical or regulatory objectives for the project) from the bottom of a disposable bailer lowered below the PSH-water interface. Wells containing PSH are not purged, even if the other wells are purged.

NO-PURGE SAMPLING

Well purging is not conducted prior to sampling if purging is not needed to meet technical and/or regulatory project requirements. Following collection of water level measurements, the wells are sampled according to the protocol in the sample collection section of this document.

PURGING PROCEDURES

Well purging is conducted prior to sampling if purging is needed to meet technical and/or regulatory project requirements. The goal of purging wells is to remove stagnant water from the well and allow formation water to enter the well to be collected for analysis. If the wells are completed in low-yielding formations and are pumped dry, the purging may be discontinued.

Dedicated Pump Purging

If permanent pumps are in the wells for groundwater remediation, the pumps are operated for at least 24 hours prior to sampling. If a dedicated sampling port is in place to collect samples of the pumped water from an individual well, then the port is used to collect the sample. VOA vials are filled completely so that no headspace or air bubbles are present within the vial. Care is taken to minimize air exposure and turbulence. The vials are not overfilled, which could cause preservative to be lost. If no sampling port is in place, the pump is turned off and the wells are sampled according to the protocol in the sample collection section of this document.

Purging Methods

If dedicated pumps are not present at the site, then purging is accomplished by either standard purging or low-flow purging (also known as "micropurging").

Standard Purging

Standard purging methods involve removal of a set number of casing volumes of water and/or removal of sufficient water to stabilize indicator parameters such as temperature, pH, and conductivity (see below for measurement procedures). The water is removed using a vacuum or peristaltic pump, submersible electric pump, bailer, hand pump, or bladder pump, as appropriate for the site conditions. The specific purging method and equipment are recorded in the field log. A surge block may be used if the well screen becomes bridged with sediment or the produced groundwater is overly turbid.

Low-Flow Purging

Low-flow purging involves purging at sufficiently low rates of withdrawal that drawdown, aeration, and turbulence are minimal. Groundwater is removed using a submersible pump, bladder pump, or centrifugal pump. Water is purged from the well at flow rates that are generally in the range of 0.05 to 0.5 gallons per minute, but this may be lower or higher in wells of lower or higher productivity.

The pump intake is positioned in the mid-point of the saturated screened interval, but a different position may be used based on hydrogeologic conditions and/or analyte properties. For petroleum hydrocarbon and oxygenate sample analysis, the pump intake is placed in the upper third of the saturated screened interval. The type of pump, flow rate, total volume of water removed, and depth of the pump intake are noted on the field log. Low-flow purging continues until temperature, pH, and conductivity stabilize (see below for measurement procedures). Then, a water sample is collected from the purge water effluent stream or from a bailer. VOA vials are filled completely so that no headspace or air bubbles are present within the vial. Care is taken to minimize air exposure and turbulence. The vials are not overfilled, which could cause preservative to be lost.

Monitoring During Purging

During the purging process, groundwater is monitored for temperature, pH, and conductivity using a standard field meter. These water quality parameters are recorded on a field log. Purging continues until a minimum number of well volumes (3) are removed and/or temperature, pH, and conductivity stabilize. For standard purging, water quality parameters are measured in bailer samples or from the pump effluent. For low-flow purging, water quality parameters are continuously monitored during purging using a water quality meter housed within a Solinst flow-through cell, and stabilization generally occurs after about one casing volume is purged from a well.

Purge Water Storage and Disposal

If active groundwater treatment is occurring at the site, purge water may be disposed of through the treatment system. Otherwise, purge water is either stored on-site in Department of Transportation-approved 55-gallon drums, or transported offsite as non-hazardous waste for disposal or recycling at an approved facility.

SAMPLE COLLECTION PROCEDURES

For dedicated pumps with sampling ports and for low-flow purging, samples are collected directly from the purge water stream, as described above. For standard purging and dedicated pumps without a sampling port, sampling is performed after the water level in the well recharges to 80 percent of hydrostatic in productive wells, or after one hour has elapsed in low-yielding wells. Then, groundwater samples are collected using the following procedures.

- A clean Teflon or stainless steel bailer is lowered and partially submerged into the well water to collect a groundwater sample.

- If PSH is present in the sample bailer with a thickness greater than 0.02 foot, PSH thickness is recorded on the field log, and no sample is collected.

- For volatile organic analyses, groundwater samples are collected in 40-milliliter, VOA vials with Teflon-lined caps. A pre-measured quantity of hydrochloric acid preservative is added to all vials by the laboratory prior to receipt by HFA. Samples are held at 4°C or less while in the field and in transit to the laboratory. Other appropriate containers, preservatives, and holding protocols are used for non-volatile analyses.

- VOA vials are filled completely so that no headspace or air bubbles are present within the vial. Care is taken so that the vials are not overfilled, and the preservative is not lost.

- Sample containers are immediately labeled and sealed after collection. For VOA vials, the label is placed to overlap the edge of the cap as a custody seal, unless a separate custody seal is used.

- Samples are stored in a cooler while on-site and in transport to the laboratory or office. The cooler has sufficient ice to maintain appropriate temperature prior to collecting samples. The VOA vials are kept chilled both prior to and after filling. Warm containers are not used when volatile compounds are the target analytes.

DECONTAMINATION PROCEDURES

Decontamination of monitoring and sampling equipment is performed prior to all monitoring and sampling activities. Decontamination procedures consist of a four-step process. The initial decontamination is performed using a non-phosphate soap, such as Simple Green or Alconox, in tap water in a bucket. A bottlebrush is used to thoroughly clean the inside and outside of the equipment. The brush is used in the first bucket only; it does not travel from bucket to bucket with the equipment. This procedure minimizes any transport of the contaminants, which should stay in the first bucket. The equipment is then rinsed in a bucket of tap water, followed by a second and third bucket of tap water as a final rinse. The decontamination water is disposed of using the same procedures as the purge water. The last rinse may be de-ionized or distilled to meet technical or regulatory project requirements. For rinsing small equipment such as the water level meter, clean rags moistened with clean water (tap, de-ionized or distilled) or spray bottles with clean water may be used.

WELL CONDITION

The condition of the well is checked during the monitoring event. The well lid and cap are secured, and any debris present in the well box is removed. If the threads of the well lid bolt holes are stripped, then they should be re-tapped, to the next appropriate size, using a tap and die kit. The bolts for the well lid should be replaced with the corresponding re-tapped thread size. Any other deficiencies with the well box and pad that cannot be fixed during the monitoring event are noted. The log is given to the project manager for correction of the deficiencies at a future date.

CHAIN OF CUSTODY

A chain of custody form is completed for each group of samples delivered to the laboratory, as follows.

- A separate COC is completed for each day of sampling. If samples are collected on separate days for the same site, a separate COC is completed for each sampling day, and the COC is always kept with the samples. If samples are shipped off-site for laboratory analysis, individual coolers with separate COCs are sent for each day/cooler shipped.

- The COC is filled out completely, and all persons having control of the samples sign the COC to show transfer of sample control between individuals. At times when the field sampler is not delivering samples directly to the laboratory, the samples are relinquished to a sample manager or other HFA employee for shipping. In this instance, the sample manager takes custody of the samples, and both the sampler and sample manager sign and date the COC to show custody transfer.

- The COC is placed inside the cooler, and a custody seal is placed on the outside of the cooler prior to shipping.

- If samples are sent to the laboratory via UPS, FEDEX, etc., this fact is indicated on the COC, and the sample manager also indicates the date and time the custody seal is placed on cooler for delivery to the shipping agent (the shipping agent does not sign the COC).

- For trip blanks, the COC indicates the date the trip blank was taken to the field for sampling, not the date the trip blank was prepared by the laboratory (the latter date may appear on the VOA label).

- Electronic deliverable format (EDF) requirements of California AB2886 mandate that COCs and laboratory reports maintain consistent and unique names between sites (Global ID) and sample location/well names (Field Point ID). This information must be consistent with the initial information supplied to GeoTracker, and for each subsequent sampling event.

SAMPLE HANDLING

Refrigerator Storage

Samples may be stored in a refrigerator prior to transport to the laboratory. Refrigerator storage is maintained under the following conditions.

- Refrigerators used for sample storage are dedicated for that usage only (no food or other materials are stored in sample refrigerators).

- Refrigerators are maintained at a temperature of 4°C or less.

- Each refrigerator contains a dedicated, reliable thermometer. The thermometer is designed for use in a refrigerator and is fixed or secured to the inside of the unit. The thermometer range is specific for measuring temperatures less than 4°C.

Cooler Storage

The sample coolers are packed as directed by the receiving laboratory. The following cooler packing procedures are used.

- The cooler contains enough ice so the ice will not completely melt while samples are stored in the cooler.

- Water ice (not dry ice or ice packs) is used for shipping.

- The COC is placed in the cooler in a sealed plastic bag, and the cooler lid is taped closed to secure it for transport and to minimize loss of temperature. A custody seal is placed vertically across the seam of the cooler lid.

QUALITY CONTROL

The following table summarizes each type of measurement described in this document. For each measurement, the table shows the method of measurement, data quality objectives, potential sources of bias, and quality control testing. Any quality control testing result that falls outside the data quality objective is discussed in the reporting of the data.

INTRODUCTION

National Environmental, Inc. (NEI) has been retained by the Beverly Hills Adjacent Senior Assisted Living, LLC. to conduct a Site Investigation (Phase II) on the property located at 1042 S. La Cienega Blvd. and report the findings (maps 1-2).

Briefly, the property was developed in the early 1950's with the current 2 story apartment building, pool, and associated parking. The purpose of this investigation is to determine if the property has been impacted from a former auto repair center that was immediately to the north and a nearby gasoline station that had a leaking underground storage tank.

The primary contaminants of concern are gasoline and associated additives. The planned vapor barrier and recommended monitoring wells will insure environmental safety requirements will be met in the future.

SCOPE OF INVESTIGATION

This investigation was conducted without the oversight of a Government agency, but in accordance with the "Interim Site Assessment & Cleanup Guidebook", as published by the California Regional Water Quality Control Board – Los Angeles Region (RWQCB) in May. 1996. This guidebook provides standards and protocols for subsurface investigations of this type. It is intended to assess the chemical contamination of property and potential impact to ground water resources.

A Geoprobe was used to drill 9 soil borings. Soil samples were collected from each soil boring at the 10 foot depth. Ground water grab samples were collected from 6 of the soil borings at approximately the 16 foot depth. A description of the Geoprobe method of drilling and sampling is included in the Appendix. Each soil boring was backfilled with bentonite clay. The surface was patched with concrete. The location of each soil boring is presented on map 2.

Chain of Custody was maintained between the sampler and the analytical testing laboratory. Each soil sample was analyzed for EPA Method 8260B (Total Volatile Organic Compounds), and EPA Method 8015M carbon chain (Total Petroleum Hydrocarbons by carbon chain). Each ground water sample was analyzed for EPA Method 8260B and EPA Method 8015g (Total Recoverable Petroleum Hydrocarbons as gasoline). EPA Method 8260B is specific to all industrial solvents that may have been utilized on the property to the north, and gasoline additives that may have migrated from the nearby gas station. EPA Method 8015M is specific to fuel and motor oils. This test also specifies what hydrocarbons are present and in what quantity. EPA Method 8015g is specific to the gasoline range hydrocarbons C5-C12.

Analytical work was conducted by a State of California approved hazardous waste testing laboratory. The laboratory performed routine level Quality Assurance/Quality Control (QA/QC).

NEI Geologist Gary Mann (CA PG #6589), supervised project protocol and report preparation. Logistics, communications, field activities, and reporting were conducted by NEI Geologist Robert Maikisch (CA REA II #20190).

FINDINGS

Sediment:

In an effort to make this section more understandable, definitions of the common geologic terms used in this report are presented at the end of the text. The Unified Soils Classification System (USCS) is a standard system of describing sediments. It was first presented by the United States Army Corp of Engineers in 1953. A copy is presented in the Appendix. Refined Geologic Logs were prepared using the USCS, from splits of each soil sample. Photographs of representative soil boring cuttings are presented for reference in the Appendix.

The property is located on the northern Coastal Plain at an elevation of 125 feet above mean sea level. It is underlain by 150 to 200 feet of Holocene age alluvium (map 3a). The Coastal Plain has a length of about 50 miles, and a width of 12 to 20 miles. On the Coastal Plain during the late Pleistocene and Holocene geologic epochs, fluvial deposition, associated with the rivers and streams that drain from the interior, has built up the surface from a shallow sea bottom to an alluvial plain (map 5b).

Holocene age alluvium is described as poorly sorted, unconsolidated, interbedded, sand, gravel, silt, and clay. The Holocene geologic epoch represent the sediments that have accumulated during the previous 11,000 years. Late Pleistocene alluvium is similar to Holocene alluvium except it may be semi-consolidated. The late Pleistocene geologic epoch represents the sediments deposited from 700,000 to 11,000 years ago.

The sediments encountered were generally a fine sized, very well sorted, sand, with the exception of B2 and B3 which was a silty, clay. Soil borings B5-B7 encountered a, fine to coarse sized, well sorted, sand, with 10-15% percent fine sized gravel up to 5 mm in size. They are classified as SW by the USCS. The sediment in soil borings B2 and B3 are classified as CL. Both sediment types are considered native, and consistent with the local geology (map 3b).

Historically a stream channel drained through the property (maps 4b-4c). The coarse sand deposits from B5 and B7 are indicative of this historic buried channel. The soil boring collected from B3 on the property to the north also encountered the coarser grained material. The geologic log is included in the Pertinent Excerpts from the NEI investigation report. The "Dissolved Phase TBA" map from the TRC Quarterly report also suggests the presence of the coarser grained material. It is included in the Pertinent Excerpts as figure 6. The approximate area of the channel is presented in the historic photograph dated 1928.

Soil borings B2 and B3 are clay. This suggests the presence of a clay lens. Ground water would tend to migrate around this clay lens into the coarser materials. This could account for the absence of gasoline in the ground water in soil borings B3 and B6. The presence of a clay lens would be consistent with the sedimentation patterns associated with a migrating stream channel (cross section). Soil boring B8 and B9 from the previous report encountered a similar clay lens (pertinent excerpts).

Ground Water:

The property is located in the hydrologic Central Basin Pressure Area. The Central Basin of the Coastal Plain is bordered by the Hollywood Basin on the north, the Pacific Ocean on the south, and the Newport-Inglewood Uplift on the west. The east boundary is made up by the Repetto Hills and the Santa Fe Springs-Coyote Uplift. The hills of the Los Angeles area comprise the northwest boundary.

The Basin is a single structural unit with no obstructions to the flow of ground water. It is comprised of the alluvial cones of the three major rivers, and the smaller streams, that discharge onto the plain forming a compound alluvial cone. The four subdivisions of the basin area, the Los Angeles Forebay Area, the Montebello Forebay Area, the Whittier Forebay area, and the Central Basin Pressure Area.

The Forebay areas of the Central Basin are broadly characterized by the aquifers being unconfined, allowing ground water to rise and fall freely. The Central Basin Pressure Area is broadly characterized by aquifers being confined by layers of impermeable strata, and pressurizing the interbedded aquifers.

In the absence of direct measurements, the depth to the aquifer is estimated by subtracting the elevation of the ground water table from the elevation of the site. The elevation of the site is obtained from the Hollywood topographic quadrangle as published by the United States Geological Survey in 1966 (map 4). The ground water in this area is not currently utilized for municipal purposes, and regional ground water contour maps are not available. The elevation of the ground water table was obtained from direct measurement of the ground water monitoring wells on the property to the north in 2007. In this case the ground water is approximately 16 feet deep.

Screening Levels:

The Action Level is the level at which action must be taken to protect human health and the environment. This is calculated using Screening Levels obtained from the RWQCB, and the Cal/EPA, Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC).

The screening level for solvents in soil is determined by comparing a RWQCB calculated Attenuation Factor, the Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL), the depth to ground water, and the sediment type. The MCL's are obtained from California Code of Regulations (CCR), Title 22. Table 2 in the Appendix presents the Attenuation Factors and MCL's. The screening level for soils is obtained basically by multiplying the MCL by the Attenuation Factor. The screening level for ground water is simply the Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) as presented in Table 2.

The screening level for hazardous concentrations of metals in soil is determined by using DTSC standards as published in CCR, Title 22. A summary is presented in the Appendix (Table 3). Table 3 also presents the average background concentration of metals in Western U.S. sediments. It basically sets limits on how much metal a sediment may contain before it is considered hazardous. DTSC in general works on a site by site basis, but this is an appropriate screening tool.

The screening level for hydrocarbons and the BTEX (Benzene, Toluene, Ethylbenzene, Xylene) compounds in soils is determined from Table 4.1 of the "Interim Site Assessment & Cleanup Guidebook" as published by the RWQCB. It is determined by comparing the hydrocarbon range, sediment type, and the depth to ground water. It is presented in the Appendix.

Gasoline, it's additives, and several breakdown products were discovered in soil boring B2 and the ground water samples from B4 and B5. The screening levels for soil when ground water is less than 20 feet deep are summarized:

Chemical	Action Level
Gasoline/C5-C12	100.0 ppm
Ethylbenzene	0.70 ppm
Xylene	1.75 ppm
Benzene	0.011 ppm
Toluene	0.15 ppm
MTBE	0.013 ppm

The MCL's for drinking water are summarized:

Chemical	Action Level
Gasoline/C5-C12	nd
Ethylbenzene	0.30 ppm
Xylene	1.75 ppm
Benzene	0.001 ppm
Toluene	0.15 ppm
MTBE	0.013 ppm

Analytical:

The Chain-of-Custody and Analytical Results from this investigation are presented in the Appendix. The analytical results are summarized for review: nd = not detected at the method reporting limit; - = not analyzed; AL = Action Level; MCL = Maximum Contaminant Level; ppm = parts per million; ppb = parts per billion; 1 ppm = 1000 ppb;  = See Below. Results in bold face type exceed the screening level.

Naphthalene is also known as white tar. It is a breakdown product of hydrocarbons, and is a indicator of degradation of gasoline. It is hazardous as a irritant to humans in it’s pure form, but poses no threat at these concentrations.

The presence of gasoline and it’s additives in the soil boring B2 would be consistent with the clay acting to absorb the migratory vapor from the ground water. The volatile compounds associated with gasoline have a greater affinity for the molecular interlayer of the clay than the natural bond. The clay has a tendency to contain the gasoline and it’s additives.

CONCLUSIONS

Concentrations of gasoline were reported from the ground water grab samples from soil borings B4 and B5. The soil samples from the 10 foot depth of B4 and B5 do not indicate a surface release had occurred. The soil sample from the 5 foot depth of soil boring B12 from the previous investigation is in the immediate area of soil boring B4, and did not have any concentrations of hydrocarbons.

The results from the Site Investigation on the former auto repair garage, conducted by NEI in March, 2007, did not detect hydrocarbons from the former hoist areas, sump, or oil stained area. The ground water samples from monitoring wells BC-15 and MW-19 were non-detectable for gasoline and it’s additives. This suggests the gasoline in the ground water had likely passed these wells. The presence of Naphthalene and several benzene byproducts suggests the gasoline in the ground water has had sufficient time to partially break down.

The review of the historical data from the release at the 76 gas station indicates gasoline was present in the ground water in 2005. We conclude the leading edge of the gasoline plume has reached the northern edge of the subject property in concentrations above current drinking water standards.

The Action Level for Benzene in ground water is 0.001 ppm. The concentration of Benzene in the ground water grab sample from soil boring B4 is 0.0028 ppm. The plume is apparently migrating south and southwest. It is also possibly migrating around a clay lens in the immediate area of the property.

The sediment type of soil boring B5 is similar to the sediment type in soil boring B7. The grains are fine to course in size. This sediment type is also present in soil boring B3 from the investigation on 1032 S. La Cienega. This geologic data, and map data, suggests a historic stream channel may be present. While gasoline and associated additives are not yet detected in soil borings B7, B8, or B9, we anticipate the leading edge of the gasoline plume to reach the soil boring B7 area in the future.

The concentrations of gasoline reported from the 10 foot depth of soil boring B2 (2.8 ppm) are well below the screening level of 100 ppm and may be considered insignificant. These finding are suggestive of clay acting to trap migrating gasoline vapors off the ground water.

RECOMMENDATIONS

It is our understanding that a vapor barrier is planned for the future development of this property as a retirement home. The vapor barrier should be effective in protecting any future occupants of the planned facility from migratory vapors off the ground water.

Ground water monitoring wells should be placed in areas that will not put holes in the planned vapor barrier, but allow for monitoring of the gasoline plume as it passes under the subject property. A recommended is the property to the south of the planned new development.

The concentrations of gasoline in the ground water are relatively low, and we do not anticipate any vapors migrating 16 feet to the surface in concentrations that will be hazardous to human health or the environment. Since this ground water is not used for municipal purposes the contamination poses no immediate threat to drinking water supplies, or the proposed development.

LEGEND

SURFICIAL SEDIMENTS

unconsolidated detrital sediments; generally undissected

af artificial cut and fill Qls landslide debris

Qg gravel and sand of major stream channels

Qc clay and sand of pre-development marshlands

Qa alluvium: clay, sand and gravel; includes gravel and sand of minor stream channels

OLDER SURFICIAL SEDIMENTS

unconsolidated to weakly consolidated; dissected and eroded where elevated; late Pleistocene age

Qae similar to Qa, but slightly elevated and dissected; includes alluvial fan sediments

Qop paleosoil in Baldwin Hills (Fox Hills residual paleosoil of Weber et al. 1982); moderately indurated, erosion-resistant, gray to rusty brown pebbly and sandy paleosoil or "hardpan" on Qoa

Qoa older alluvium, gray to light brown pebble-gravel, sand, silt, and clay of detritus derived from Santa Monica Mountains; similar to Qae, but slightly consolidated; in Baldwin Hills designated as Baldwin Hills sandy gravel (Weber et al. 1982), where it is much dissected and eroded

SHALLOW MARINE SEDIMENTS

shallow marine clastic sediments exposed in Baldwin Hills; weakly consolidated, eroded; Pleistocene age

Qsp San Pedro Sand (of Wright 1987; Culver Sand of Weber et al. 1982): light gray to light brown sand, fine to coarse grained, pebbly; locally contains shell fragments

Ql Inglewood Formation (of Wright 1987; Weber et al. 1982): light gray, friable; fine grained sandstone and interbedded soft gray siltstone

Qfu upper Fernando (?) Formation (part of Inglewood Formation of Weber et al. 1982; Wright 1987): soft gray massive silty claystone, base not exposed

FERNANDO FORMATION

(of Lamar 1970)

marine clastic; early Pliocene age (Repettian Stage)

Tfr Repetto Member (Lamar 1970): in downtown Los Angeles, consolidated but crumbly gray to greenish-gray claystone-siltstone, in part sandy; vaguely bedded, locally fossiliferous

* – CA Regional Water Quality Control Board, "Interim Site Assessment and Cleanup Guidebook", February, 1995.

1) The Cleanup Level for volatile organic compound (VOC) impacted soil is calculated from the attenuation factors on the above table and the maximum concentration limit (MCL).

2) The MCL's are obtained from California Code of Regulations (CCR), Title 22.

3) The Cleanup Level is obtained by multiplying the AF by the MCL. This is compared to the actual concentration of the chemical present in the sediment.

4) If the Cleanup Levels are above the actual concentrations in the sediment, Remedial Action may not be necessary.

Review of MCLs in Response to PHGs

Last Update: December 6, 2002

Comparison of MCLs and PHGs

Maximum Contaminant Levels (MCLs)—health-protective drinking water standards—adopted by DHS are to be met by public water systems. MCLs take into account not only chemicals' health risks but also factors such as their detectability and treatability, as well as the costs of treatment. Health and Safety Code §116365(a) requires DHS to establish a contaminant's MCL at a level as close as is technically and economically feasible to its public health goal (PHG), placing primary emphasis on the protection of public health.

Health and Safety Code §116365(c) requires the Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA) to establish PHGs, which are concentrations of drinking water contaminants that pose no significant health risk if consumed for a lifetime, based on current risk assessment principles, practices, and methods. PHGs are established for (1) contaminants with MCLs, and (2) contaminants for which DHS will be adopting MCLs, e.g., perchlorate and chromium-6.

Water systems also use PHGs to provide information about drinking water contaminants in annual Consumer Confidence Reports. Certain public water systems must provide a report to their customers about health risks from a contaminant that exceeds its PHG and about the cost of treatment to meet the PHG, and hold a public hearing on the report.

Once OEHHA establishes or revises a PHG for a contaminant with an MCL, DHS determines whether the MCL should be considered for possible revision. DHS subsequently conducts an in-depth risk management analysis to determine whether or not to propose a revision. For more information, see MCL review status.

The following table compares MCLs and PHGs and includes each contaminant's Detection Limit for Purposes of Reporting (DLR)—the level at which DHS is confident about the quantification of the chemical's presence. Analytical data are required to be submitted to DHS if they are at or above the DLR. Some data may be reported at levels below the DLR.

Comparisons of PHGs, DLRs, and MCLs. Also included at results of drinking water source monitoring. Units are in milligrams per liter (mg/L), unless otherwise noted. For more about PHGs, go to OEHHA's website. Also, see MCL review status

1) If the TTLC value of the sample is above the TTLC Action Level, the material is classified as hazardous.

2) If the TTLC value of the sample is between the TTLC and the STLC Action Levels, a STLC analyses must be run to determine if the material is hazardous.

3) If The STLC value of the sample is above the STLC ACtion Level, the material is classified as hazardous.

4) The STLC can not exceed more than 10% of the TTLC value. This is due to a laboratory dilution factor.

5) If the 10% value of the TTLC is above the STLC Action Level, the material is theoretically hazardous. In some cases, the actual STLC value may be below the theoretically predicted value, classifying the material as non-hazardous.

- TPH = Total petroleum hydrocarbons.
- BTEX = benzene, toluene, ethylbenzene, and xylenes, respectively. MCLs (ppm): B=0.001, T=0.15, E=0.7, X=1.75.
- MTBE (methyl tertiary butyl ether) must be included in BTEX analyses.
- BTEX screening concentrations determined per the attenuation factor method as described in RWQCB Guidance for VOC Impacted Sites (March 1996), with a natural degradation factor of 11 for benzene. Table values for BTEX can be linearly interpolated between distance above groundwater and are proportional to fraction of each lithological thickness.
- Values in Table 4-1 are for soils above drinking water aquifers. All groundwaters are considered as drinking water resources unless exempted by one of the criteria as defined under SWRCB Resolution 88-63 (TDS>3000 mg/L, or deliverability <200 gal/day, or existing contamination that cannot be reasonably treated). Regional Board staff will make a determination of potential water use at a particular site considering water quality objectives and beneficial uses. For non-drinking water aquifers, regardless of depth, TPH for ">150 feet" category in the table should be used; BTEX screening levels are set at 100 times respective MCLs as preliminary levels determined to be protective of human health and the environment.
- Distance above groundwater must be measured from the highest anticipated water level. Lithology is based on the USCS scale.
- For BTEX, each component is not to exceed the specified screening level.
- For TPH, the total allowable for each carbon range is not to be exceeded. In areas of naturally-occurring hydrocarbons, Regional Board staff will make allowance for TPH levels.
- BTEX to be analyzed by EPA Method 8020 or EPA Method 8260 (usually for confirmation).
- TPH to be analyzed by EPA Methods 418.1 plus 8015 (Modified). Ranges of TPH to be analyzed by GC/MS carbon range methods (EPA Method 8260) or EPA Method 8015 (Modified).

INTRODUCTION

National Environmental, Inc. (NEI) has been retained by B.H.A.S.A.L. to conduct a Preliminary Site Investigation (Phase II) on the property located at 1022-1026 La Cienega Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90035 and report the findings (maps 1, 2).

Briefly, a auto repair shop operated on 1032 La Cienega Blvd. from the 1960's until 2007. This facility had 7 in-ground hoists. A visual inspection of the property located the former waste oil storage area, a sump, and a hole in the ground. There are 2 groundwater monitoring wells on the 1026 La Cienega property. These wells are part of a on-going groundwater cleanup on the 76 station that is located on the southeast corner of Olympic and La Cienega.

This investigation was conducted to obtain information on the subsurface soils and groundwater. The primary chemicals of concern are gasoline and it's additives in the groundwater, and hydrocarbons, primarily hydraulic fluid, in the soils.

SCOPE OF INVESTIGATION

This investigation was conducted without the oversight of a Government agency but in accordance with the "Interim Site Assessment & Cleanup Guidebook", as published by the CA Regional Water Quality Control Board - Region 4 (RWQCB) in May, 1996. This guidebook provides standards and protocols for subsurface

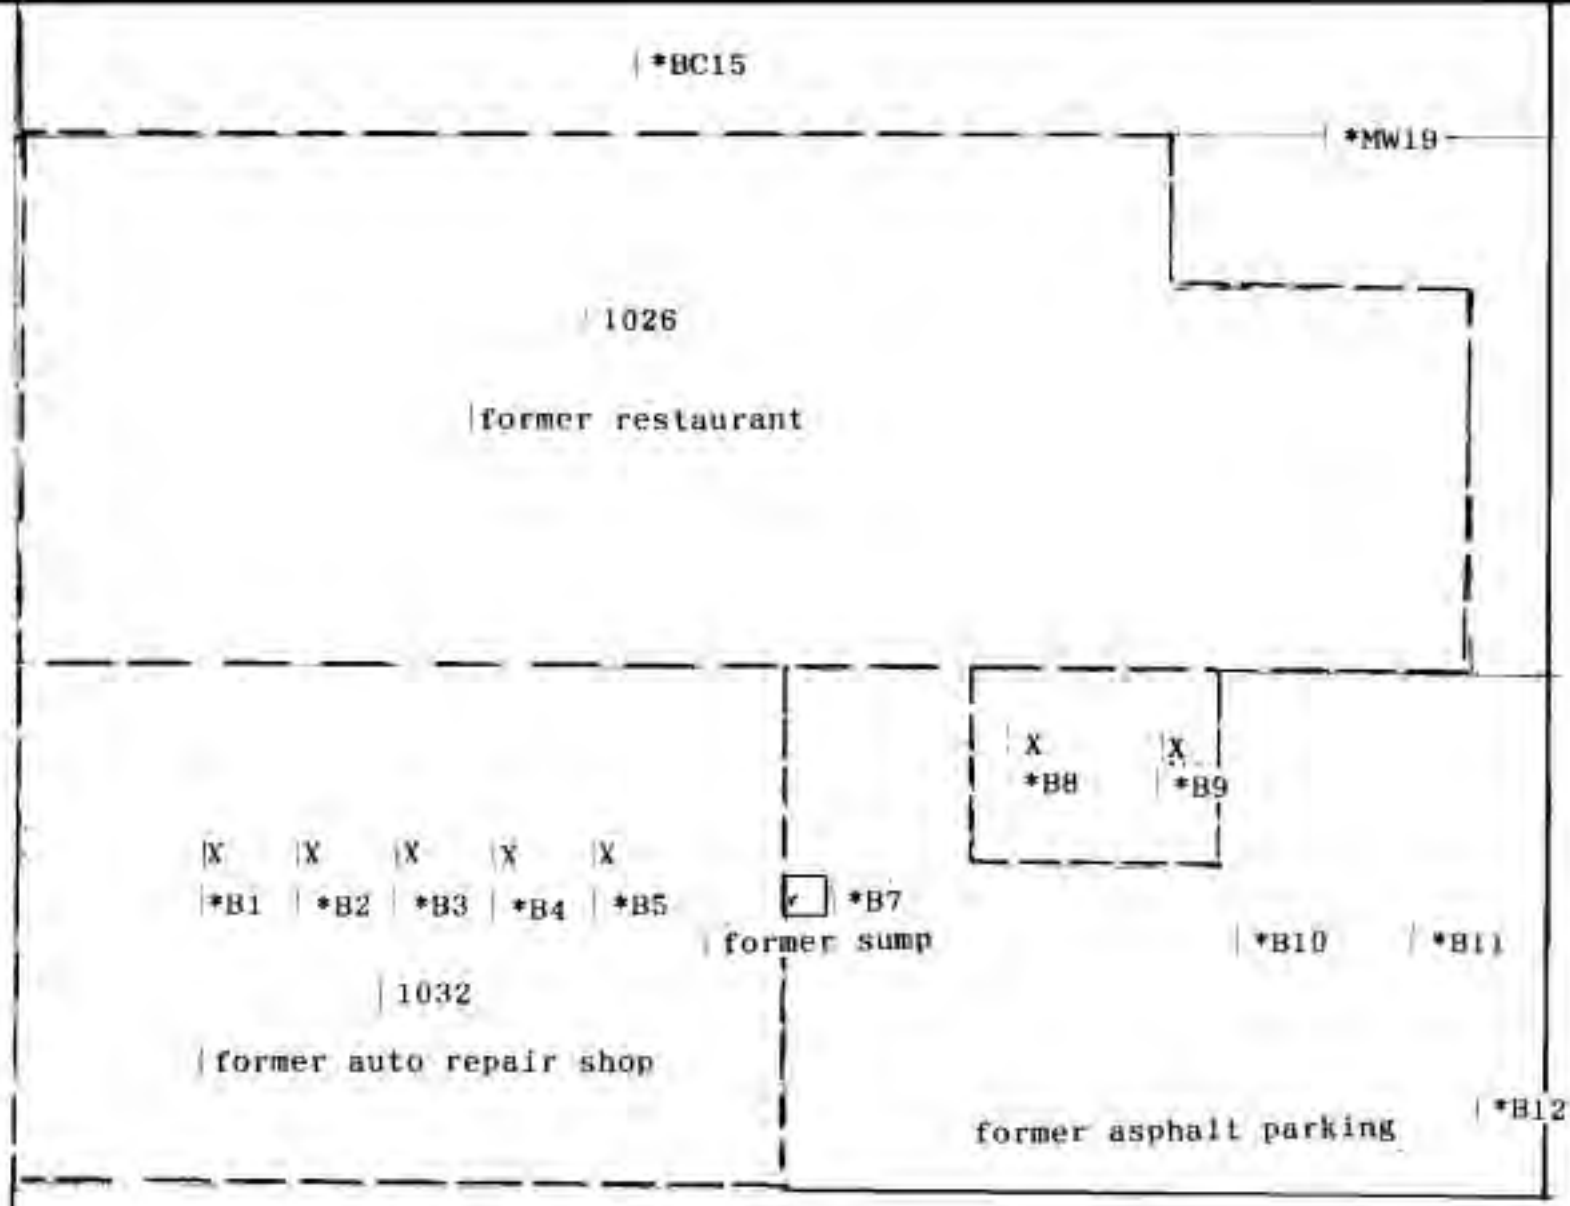
CONCLUSIONS

Non-detectable concentrations of solvents and gasoline were reported in the groundwater.

Non-detectable concentrations of gasoline, diesel fuel, and heavy oils were reported under the former hoists, in the former sump area, in the former waste oil storage area, and near a former hole in the ground.

Environmental impact has not occurred as a result of the former auto repair operation on the property. There is no threat to human health or the environment.

RECOMMENDATIONS



We recommend no additional environmental assessment work be required on the subject property at this time.

LIMITATIONS

This report has been prepared to impart accurate information concerning the procedures and findings of this action. The conclusions in this report are based upon the field methods, field observations, and analytical results as stated in the Scope of Investigation. No representation, warranties, or guaranties are given with respect to concealed or latent environmental impacts outside the documented Scope of Investigation.

CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

National Environmental, Inc. hereby agrees not to release this report, any portion of this report, or the results of the investigation to any party, except as required by law, without written/verbal consent from B.H.A.S.A.L. and Mr. Dean Isaacson.

INTRODUCTION

National Environmental, Inc. (NEI) has been retained by B.H.A.S.A.L. to conduct a Preliminary Site Investigation (Phase II) on the property located at 1022-1026 La Cienega Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90035 and report the findings (maps 1, 2).

Briefly, a auto repair shop operated on 1032 La Cienega Blvd. from the 1960's until 2007. This facility had 7 in-ground hoists. A visual inspection of the property located the former waste oil storage area, a sump, and a hole in the ground. There are 2 groundwater monitoring wells on the 1026 La Cienega property. These wells are part of a on-going groundwater cleanup on the 76 station that is located on the southeast corner of Olympic and La Cienega.

This investigation was conducted to obtain information on the subsurface soils and groundwater. The primary chemicals of concern are gasoline and it's additives in the groundwater, and hydrocarbons, primarily hydraulic fluid, in the soils.

SCOPE OF INVESTIGATION

This investigation was conducted without the oversight of a Government agency but in accordance with the "Interim Site Assessment & Cleanup Guidebook", as published by the CA Regional Water Quality Control Board - Region 4 (RWQCB) in May, 1996. This guidebook provides standards and protocols for subsurface investigations of this type. It is intended to assess the chemical contamination of property and potential impact to ground water resources.

A Geoprobe was used to drill eleven soil borings. A description of the Geoprobe method of drilling and sampling is presented in the Appendix. Each soil boring was backfilled with bentonite clay, and patched on the surface with concrete. The location and depth of each soil boring is presented on map 2b.

Chain of Custody was maintained between the sampler and the analytical testing laboratory. The groundwater samples were analyzed for EPA Method 8260B (Volatile Organic Compounds) and EPA Method 8015g (Total Petroleum Hydrocarbons as gasoline). The soil samples were analyzed for EPA Method 8015M carbon chain (Total Petroleum Hydrocarbons by Carbon Range). EPA Method 8260B is specific to the additives in gasoline. EPA Method 8015M reports each range of hydrocarbons specific to gasoline, diesel, and heavy oils.

Analytical work was conducted by a State of California approved hazardous waste testing laboratory. The laboratory performed routine level Quality Assurance/Quality Control (QA/QC).

The seven former underground hoists were triple rinsed and disposed of off-site as scrap metal. The manifest for the rinseate and destruction certificate is included in the Appendix.

NEI geologist Gary Mann (California Professional Geologist #6589), supervised project protocol and report preparation. Logistics, communications, and field activities were conducted by NEI staff geologist Robert Maikisch (CA REA II #20190).

Sediment:

The Unified Soils Classification System (USCS) is a standard system of describing sediments. It was first presented by the United States Army Corps of Engineers in 1953. A copy is presented in the Appendix. Refined Geologic Logs were prepared using the USCS, from splits of each soil sample.

The sediments encountered in the upper 10 feet are generally described as a brown, fine to medium sized, well rounded grains, very well sorted, silty, Sand and classified as SM by the USCS.

There are clay lenses and areas with coarser sands and fine gravel. This suggest this area was part of a migrating stream channel, and consistent with the historic aerial photograph of this area (historic photo 1928). The sediment is considered native and is consistent with the local geology. The local geologic setting is a Recent (Holocene) age alluvium (map 3).

Recent Alluvium is described as poorly sorted, unconsolidated, interbedded, sand, gravel, silt, and clay. The Recent geologic epoch is considered to represent the sediments that have accumulated during the previous 11,000 years.

Ground Water:

The depth to the aquifer is usually estimated by subtracting the elevation of the ground water table from the elevation of the site. The elevation of the site is obtained from the Hollywood topographic quadrangle published by the United States Geological Survey (map 4). The is no map available that displays the elevation of the ground water in this area. In this case the depth to groundwater was measured from the monitoring wells on the property. It is 16 feet deep.

The property is located in the Central Basin Pressure Area of the Central Basin (map 5). The Central Basin of the Coastal Plain is bordered by the Hollywood Basin on the north. The Pacific Ocean on the south, and the Newport-Inglewood uplift on the west. The east boundary is made up by the Repetto Hills and the Santa Fe Springs-Coyote Uplift. The hills of the Los Angeles area comprise the lateral extent to the northeast.

The basin is a single structural unit with no obstructions to the flow of ground water. It is comprised of the alluvial cones of three major rivers and the smaller streams that discharge onto the plain forming compound alluvial cones. The four subdivisions of the basin are the Los Angeles Forebay Area, the Montebello Forebay Area, the Whittier Area, and the Central Basin Pressure Area.

The Central Basin Pressure Area is characterized by the ground water aquifers being contained by alternating layers of impermeable strata (clay layers). The historic natural ground water flow direction in this area is southwest. It is flowing in accordance with the natural topography and around the La Brea High (map 3a). The La Brea High is the formation labeled Qc on the geologic map.

Screening Levels:

The Action Level is the level at which action must be taken to protect human health and the environment. This is calculated by using Screening Levels obtained from the California Regional Water Quality Control Board (RWQCB), and the CA Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC).

The Screening Level for solvents in soil is determined by comparing a RWQCB calculated Attenuation Factor, the Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL), the depth to ground water, and the sediment type. The MCL's are obtained from California Code of Regulations (CCR), Title 22. Table 2 in the Appendix presents the Attenuation Factors and MCL's. This basically involves multiplying the Maximum Contaminant Level (MCL) by the Attenuation Factor.

The Screening Level for hazardous concentrations of metals in soil is determined by using DTSC standards as published in CCR, Title 22. A summary is presented in the Appendix (Table 3). Table 3 also presents the average background concentration of metals in Western U.S. sediments. It basically sets limits on how much metal a sediment may contain before it is considered hazardous in California. DTSC in general works on a site by site basis, but this is a appropriate screening tool.

The Screening Level for hydrocarbons and the BTEX (Benzene, Toluene, Ethylbenzene, Xylene) compounds in soils is determined from Table 4.1 of the "Interim Site Assessment & Cleanup Guidebook" as published by the RWQCB. It is determined by comparing the hydrocarbon range, sediment type, and the depth to the ground water. It is presented for reference in the Appendix.

Analytical:

The Chain-of-Custody and Analytical Results from this investigation are presented in the Appendix.

TABLE 1

The analytical results are summarized for review: nd = not detected at the method reporting limit; - = not analyzed; AL = Action Level; MCL = Maximum Contaminant Level; ppm = parts per million; ppb = parts per billion; 1 ppm = 1000 ppb; * = See Below. Results in bold face type exceed Action Level/MCL.

CONCLUSIONS

Non-detectable concentrations of solvents and gasoline were reported in the groundwater.

Non-detectable concentrations of gasoline, diesel fuel, and heavy oils were reported under the former hoists, in the former sump area, in the former waste oil storage area, and near a former hole in the ground.

Environmental impact has not occurred as a result of the former auto repair operation on the property. There is no threat to human health or the environment.

RECOMMENDATIONS

We recommend no additional environmental assessment work be required on the subject property at this time.

1) The Cleanup Level for volatile organic compound (VOC) impacted soil is calculated from the attenuation factors on the above table and the maximum concentration limit (MCL).

2) The MCL's are obtained from California Code of Regulations (CCR), Title 22.

3) The Cleanup Level is obtained by multiplying the AF by the MCL. This is compared to the actual concentration of the chemical present in the sediment.

4) If the Cleanup Levels are above the actual concentrations in the sediment, Remedial Action may not be necessary.

Comparison of MCLs and PHGs

Maximum Contaminant Levels (MCLs)—health-protective drinking water standards—adopted by DHS are to be met by public water systems. MCLs take into account not only chemicals' health risks but also factors such as their detectability and treatability, as well as the costs of treatment. Health and Safety Code §116365(a) requires DHS to establish a contaminant's MCL at a level as close as is technically and economically feasible to its public health goal (PHG), placing primary emphasis on the protection of public health.

Health and Safety Code §116365(c) requires the Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment (OEHHA) to establish PHGs, which are concentrations of drinking water contaminants that pose no significant health risk if consumed for a lifetime, based on current risk assessment principles, practices, and methods. PHGs are established for (1) contaminants with MCLs, and (2) contaminants for which DHS will be adopting MCLs, e.g., perchlorate and chromium-6.

Water systems also use PHGs to provide information about drinking water contaminants in annual Consumer Confidence Reports. Certain public water systems must provide a report to their customers about health risks from a contaminant that exceeds its PHG and about the cost of treatment to meet the PHG, and hold a public hearing on the report.

Once OEHHA establishes or revises a PHG for a contaminant with an MCL, DHS determines whether the MCL should be considered for possible revision. DHS subsequently conducts an in-depth risk management analysis to determine whether or not to propose a revision. For more information, see MCL review status.

The following table compares MCLs and PHGs and includes each contaminant's Detection Limit for Purposes of Reporting (DLR)—the level at which DHS is confident about the quantification of the chemical's presence. Analytical data are required to be submitted to DHS if they are at or above the DLR. Some data may be reported at levels below the DLR.

Comparisons of PHGs, DLRs, and MCLs. Also included at results of drinking water source monitoring. Units are in milligrams per liter (mg/L), unless otherwise noted. For more about PHGs, go to OEHHA's website. Also, see MCL review status

1) If the TTLC value of the sample is above the TTLC Action Level, the material is classified as hazardous.

2) If the TTLC value of the sample is between the TTLC and the STLC Action Levels, a STLC analyses must be run to determine if the material is hazardous.

3) If The STLC value of the sample is above the STLC ACtion Level, the material is classified as hazardous.

4) The STLC can not exceed more than 10% of the TTLC value. This is due to a laboratory dilution factor.

5) If the 10% value of the TTLC is above the STLC Action Level, the material is theoretically hazardous. In some cases, the actual STLC value may be below the theoretically predicted value, classifying the material as non-hazardous.

- TPH = Total petroleum hydrocarbons.
- BTEX = benzene, toluene, ethylbenzene, and xylenes, respectively. MCLs (ppm): B=0.001, T=0.15, E=0.7, X=1.75.
- MTBE (methyl tertiary butyl ether) must be included in BTEX analyses.
- BTEX screening concentrations determined per the attenuation factor method as described in RWQCB Guidance for VOC Impacted Sites (March 1996), with a natural degradation factor of 11 for benzene. Table values for BTEX can be linearly interpolated between distance above groundwater and are proportional to fraction of each lithological thickness.
- Values in Table 4-1 are for soils above drinking water aquifers. All groundwaters are considered as drinking water resources unless exempted by one of the criteria as defined under SWRCB Resolution 88-63 (TDS>3000 mg/L, or deliverability <200 gal/day, or existing contamination that cannot be reasonably treated). Regional Board staff will make a determination of potential water use at a particular site considering water quality objectives and beneficial uses. For non-drinking water aquifers, regardless of depth, TPH for ">150 feet" category in the table should be used; BTEX screening levels are set at 100 times respective MCLs as preliminary levels determined to be protective of human health and the environment.
- Distance above groundwater must be measured from the highest anticipated water level. Lithology is based on the USCS scale.
- For BTEX, each component is not to exceed the specified screening level.
- For TPH, the total allowable for each carbon range is not to be exceeded. In areas of naturally-occurring hydrocarbons, Regional Board staff will make allowance for TPH levels.
- BTEX to be analyzed by EPA Method 8020 or EPA Method 8260 (usually for confirmation).
- TPH to be analyzed by EPA Methods 418.1 plus 8015 (Modified). Ranges of TPH to be analyzed by GC/MS carbon range methods (EPA Method 8260) or EPA Method 8015 (Modified).

Hydrocarbons

A hydrocarbon is one of the most simple and primitive of organic compounds. All living organisms produce hydrocarbons, one such example is plants, they synthesize waxes containing hydrocarbons in order to prevent leaf surface decay. This is what makes their leaves shiny. Almost all useable supplies of hydrocarbons are obtained from fossil fuels - coal, petroleum, and natural gas.

Did you know that there are approximately 300,000 different natural hydrocarbon compounds, that mostly from oil reservoirs or coal deposits? Hydrocarbons contains only carbon and hydrogen atoms. These atoms link together to form straight, branched chains, or ring structures commonly called PAHs (poly aromatic hydrocarbons).

Examples of common hydrocarbons are: gasoline, diesel fuels, lighter fluid, propane, home heating oil, marine and motor oil, fuels, cleaning solvents, hydraulic fluids, crude oil and lubricating oils.

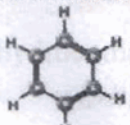
The carbon atoms of different hydrocarbons are organized into two general groups:



Aliphatic - a straight or branched chain.

Straight chain (pentane) C_5H_{12}

Aromatic - contains 1 or more benzene rings. Their name comes from the fact that many have strong, pungent aromas. A PAH is a group of benzene rings which have branched chains of carbon.

Soil and Groundwater Sampling and Decontamination Protocol

Geoprobe

The Geoprobe uses a 1.5" to 2" outside diameter hollow steel probe. The probe is driven into the ground using a hydraulic ram until the sample interval is reached. A 24" X 1" Acetate, Teflon, or steel liner is inserted into the probe, and driven into the soil. It is recovered, and a 6 inch section is cut away from the sampling tube. The ends of the tube are capped with Teflon sheets and plastic caps, They are sealed with a Silicon based tape. Disposal latex gloves are worn when collecting the sample.

Each sample is then labeled with the project #, soil boring # and depth, sampling date, and the analytical tests to be conducted. It is then placed in a cooler for cold storage for transportation to the laboratory.

The soil not used for sampling is used in the field to be described using the Unified Soils Classification System (USCS). Any unusual discoloration or odors are noted, and occasionally a photoionization detector is used to screen the sample. This is done by placing the sample in a glass jar, and allowing it to sit in the sun for 5 minutes. After that the headspace is measured for volatile compounds. This information is presented in a geologic log in the report.

When sampling ground water the probe is driven to the ground water depth. A stainless steel wire mesh screen is inserted into the probe and ground water enters the probe. A stainless steel mini bailer is then used to collect the sample. The bailer is emptied into 40 milliliter glass containers and sealed with a Teflon cap. The sample is then labeled, and placed in the cooler.

Decontamination of the probe is performed after each sample is collected. Decontamination consists of washing the equipment in a solution of TSP (tri-sodium phosphate), a rinse in tap water, and a final rinse in tap/distilled water. This is commonly referred to as the three bucket method. This method is generally effective in removing residual contaminants and avoiding cross contamination between samples. In the event the equipment is to be reused immediately, it is dried off with a paper towel.

NEI utilizes only California certified analytical laboratories, and chain of custody is maintained between the sampler and the laboratory. Quality Control/Quality Assurance data is requested for all samples submitted.

Soil Vapor Sampling using Shroud Method of Leak Detection
Sample Collection into Summas for Off-site Analysis

Placing a plastic shroud over a soil vapor sampling probe and introducing a gaseous compound, such as helium, into the shroud can be implemented to ensure the probe seal integrity. It may also be used to assess the potential for leaks in the sample train.

A plastic shroud is placed over the soil vapor probe location with the tubing of the probe exiting the shroud through a small hole. The valve on the probe termination is connected to the sampling apparatus that is to be used. Smaller purge volumes may only require a syringe to purge, while larger purge volumes may require a sample pump with flow meter and vacuum gauge.

A "shut in" test is performed to check for leaks in all sample fittings and connections not contained within shroud. This is achieved by shutting the valve at the probe termination to the off position, then applying a vacuum to all connections between the valve and the sample container (i.e. syringe or summa canister). An in-line vacuum gauge is used to observe any loss in vacuum over a period of time (i.e. 60 seconds), which would indicate a leak in the system.

Helium (or other compound) is released into the shroud and a hand held helium detector is used to monitor and maintain a reasonably steady concentration of approximately 50□ helium in the shroud. Once the concentration is reached, the soil vapor probe is purged at the recommended flow rate and any probe vacuum is recorded. The soil vapor sample is then collected in the appropriate sample container (i.e. tedlar or summa canister). Once the sample is taken, a final reading of the shroud concentration is measured with the meter and recorded.

The sample can then be analyzed for the tracer gas (i.e. Helium) to determine if a leak was present during sample collection.

Project Experience:

Bank of the West, Merced, CA
Phase I Environmental Site Assessment
Served as the Project Manager of a Phase I ESA conducted for a 56.7 acre food processing facility in July 2013. The report included a review of numerous prior reports and records in which the site was identified as equipped with several Underground Storage Tanks (USTs), used in conjunction with the site's food processing operations. Two USTs were identified for the subject property without any information available from the local regulatory agencies pertaining to the location, removal, or sampling of the tanks. A geotechnical survey was recommended in an effort to locate the unaccounted for USTs.

Comerica Bank, East Palo Alto, CA
Phase I Environmental Site Assessment
Served as the Project Manager of a Phase I ESA conducted for a 1.53 acre industrial property located in an area identified as the Ravenswood Industrial Area. The use of the site for industrial purposes since the 1960s and the heavy industrial operations of the immediately surrounding properties (pesticide mixing, auto wrecking, etc.) resulted in a release of arsenic and TCE to the subsurface at the subject property. A vapor intrusion risk assessment was recommended in order to determine whether indoor air has been impacted by the former unauthorized releases.

Wells Fargo, Tulare County, CA
Phase I Environmental Site Assessment
Served as the Project Manager of a Phase I ESA conducted for 35 agricultural parcels located throughout Tulare County, California, which totaled approximately 1,640 acres in size. The sites had been developed for agricultural purposes since at least the 1950s. Extensive historical and local regulatory agency research was conducted in order to determine hazardous material use and storage used in conjunction with the sites agricultural operations. Based on the potential for residual agricultural chemicals such as pesticides, herbicides, and fertilizers to be present in the shallow soil, the use of the subject properties for agricultural purposes for over 55 years was considered a Recognized Environmental Condition.

Habitat for Humanity, San Francisco, CA
Housing Authority of the County of Santa Clara
Phase I Environmental Site Assessments
Served as the Project Manager of Phase I ESAs conducted for sites that are to be redeveloped into affordable housing by Habitat for Humanity and the Housing Authority of the County of Santa Clara. Performed inspections and conducted thorough local regulatory agency, historical, and regulatory database research to determine whether any significant environmental concerns exist at the respective sites that may result in a threat to human health or the environment.

OWNER'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND VERIFICATION OF INFORMATION

(OWNER-BUILDER DECLARATION)

Application Number: _____

Project Address: 1022-1032 S. La Cienega Blvd. LA CA 90035

DIRECTIONS: Read and initial each statement below to signify you understand or verify this information.

P 1. I understand a frequent practice of unlicensed persons is to have the property owner obtain an "Owner-Builder" building permit that erroneously implies that the property owner is providing his or her own labor and material personally. I, as an Owner-Builder, may be held liable and subject to serious financial risk for any injuries sustained by an unlicensed person and his or her employees while working on my property. My homeowner's insurance may not provide coverage for those injuries. I am willfully acting as an Owner-Builder and am aware of the limits of my insurance coverage for injuries to workers on my property.

P 2. I understand building permits are not required to be signed by property owners unless they are responsible for the construction and are not hiring a licensed Contractor to assume this responsibility.

P 3. I understand as an "Owner-Builder" I am the responsible party of record on the permit. I understand that I may protect myself from potential financial risk by hiring a licensed Contractor and having the permit filed in his or her name instead of my own.

P 4. I understand Contractors are required by law to be licensed and bonded in California and to list their license numbers on permits and contracts.

P 5. I understand if I employ or otherwise engage any persons, other than California licensed Contractors, and the total value of my construction is at least five hundred dollars ($500), including labor and materials, I may be considered an "employer" under state and federal law.

P 6. I understand if I am considered an "employer" under state and federal law, I must register with the state and federal government, withhold payroll taxes, provide workers' compensation disability insurance, and contribute to unemployment compensation for each "employee." I also understand my failure to abide by these laws may subject me to serious financial risk.

P 7. I understand under California Contractors' State License Law, an Owner-Builder who builds single-family residential structures cannot legally build them with the intent to offer them for sale, unless all work is performed by licensed subcontractors and the number of structures does not exceed four within any calendar year, or all of the work is performed under contract with a licensed general building Contractor.

P 8. I understand as an Owner-Builder if I sell the property for which this permit is issued, I may be held liable for any financial or personal injuries sustained by any subsequent owner(s) that result from any latent construction defects in the workmanship or materials.

P 9. I understand I may obtain more information regarding my obligations as an "employer" from the Internal Revenue Service, the United States Small. Business Administration, the California Department of Benefit Payments, and the California Division of Industrial Accidents. I also understand I may contact the California Contractors' State License Board (CSLB) at 1-800-321-CSLB (2752) or www.cslb.ca.gov for more information about licensed contractors.

OWNER'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND VERIFICATION OF INFORMATION

(OWNER-BUILDER DECLARATION)

Application Number: _____

Project Address: 1022-1032 S. La Cienega Blvd. LA CA 90035

DIRECTIONS: Read and initial each statement below to signify you understand or verify this information.

P 1. I understand a frequent practice of unlicensed persons is to have the property owner obtain an "Owner-Builder" building permit that erroneously implies that the property owner is providing his or her own labor and material personally. I, as an Owner-Builder, may be held liable and subject to serious financial risk for any injuries sustained by an unlicensed person and his or her employees while working on my property. My homeowner's insurance may not provide coverage for those injuries. I am willfully acting as an Owner-Builder and am aware of the limits of my insurance coverage for injuries to workers on my property.

P 2. I understand building permits are not required to be signed by property owners unless they are responsible for the construction and are not hiring a licensed Contractor to assume this responsibility.

P 3. I understand as an "Owner-Builder" I am the responsible party of record on the permit. I understand that I may protect myself from potential financial risk by hiring a licensed Contractor and having the permit filed in his or her name instead of my own.

P 4. I understand Contractors are required by law to be licensed and bonded in California and to list their license numbers on permits and contracts.

P 5. I understand if I employ or otherwise engage any persons, other than California licensed Contractors, and the total value of my construction is at least five hundred dollars ($500), including labor and materials, I may be considered an "employer" under state and federal law.

P 6. I understand if I am considered an "employer" under state and federal law, I must register with the state and federal government, withhold payroll taxes, provide workers' compensation disability insurance, and contribute to unemployment compensation for each "employee." I also understand my failure to abide by these laws may subject me to serious financial risk.

P 7. I understand under California Contractors' State License Law, an Owner-Builder who builds single-family residential structures cannot legally build them with the intent to offer them for sale, unless all work is performed by licensed subcontractors and the number of structures does not exceed four within any calendar year, or all of the work is performed under contract with a licensed general building Contractor.

P 8. I understand as an Owner-Builder if I sell the property for which this permit is issued, I may be held liable for any financial or personal injuries sustained by any subsequent owner(s) that result from any latent construction defects in the workmanship or materials.

P 9. I understand I may obtain more information regarding my obligations as an "employer" from the Internal Revenue Service, the United States Small. Business Administration, the California Department of Benefit Payments, and the California Division of Industrial Accidents. I also understand I may contact the California Contractors' State License Board (CSLB) at 1-800-321-CSLB (2752) or www.cslb.ca.gov for more information about licensed contractors.

(h) 10. I am aware of and consent to an Owner-Builder building permit applied for in my name, and understand that I am the party legally and financially responsible for proposed construction activity at the following address: 1022 - 1032 S. La Cienega Blvd.

(w) 11. I agree that, as the party legally and financially responsible for this proposed construction activity, I will abide by all applicable laws and requirements that govern Owner-Builders as well as employers.

(L) 12. I agree to notify the issuer of this form immediately of any additions, deletions, or changes to any of the information I have provided on this form. Licensed contractors are regulated by laws designed to protect the public. If you contract with someone who does not have a license, the Contractors' State License Board may be unable to assist you with any financial loss you may sustain as a result of a complaint. Your only remedy against unlicensed Contractors may be in civil court. It is also important for you to understand that if an unlicensed Contractor or employee of that individual or firm is injured while working on your property, you may be held liable for damages. If you obtain a permit as Owner-Builder and wish to hire Contractors, you will be responsible for verifying whether or not those Contractors are properly licensed and the status of their workers' compensation insurance coverage. Before a building permit can be issued, this form must be completed and signed by the property owner and returned to the agency responsible for issuing the permit.

Note: A copy of the property owner's driver's license, form notarization, or other verification acceptable to the agency is required to be presented when the permit is issued to verify the property owner's signature.

(OWNER-BUILDER DECLARATION)

Application Number: _____

Project Address: 1022-1032 S. La Cienega Blvd. LA CA 90035

DIRECTIONS: Read and initial each statement below to signify you understand or verify this information.

P 1. I understand a frequent practice of unlicensed persons is to have the property owner obtain an "Owner-Builder" building permit that erroneously implies that the property owner is providing his or her own labor and material personally. I, as an Owner-Builder, may be held liable and subject to serious financial risk for any injuries sustained by an unlicensed person and his or her employees while working on my property. My homeowner's insurance may not provide coverage for those injuries. I am willfully acting as an Owner-Builder and am aware of the limits of my insurance coverage for injuries to workers on my property.

P 2. I understand building permits are not required to be signed by property owners unless they are responsible for the construction and are not hiring a licensed Contractor to assume this responsibility.

P 3. I understand as an "Owner-Builder" I am the responsible party of record on the permit. I understand that I may protect myself from potential financial risk by hiring a licensed Contractor and having the permit filed in his or her name instead of my own.

P 4. I understand Contractors are required by law to be licensed and bonded in California and to list their license numbers on permits and contracts.

P 5. I understand if I employ or otherwise engage any persons, other than California licensed Contractors, and the total value of my construction is at least five hundred dollars ($500), including labor and materials, I may be considered an "employer" under state and federal law.

P 6. I understand if I am considered an "employer" under state and federal law, I must register with the state and federal government, withhold payroll taxes, provide workers' compensation disability insurance, and contribute to unemployment compensation for each "employee." I also understand my failure to abide by these laws may subject me to serious financial risk.

P 7. I understand under California Contractors' State License Law, an Owner-Builder who builds single-family residential structures cannot legally build them with the intent to offer them for sale, unless all work is performed by licensed subcontractors and the number of structures does not exceed four within any calendar year, or all of the work is performed under contract with a licensed general building Contractor.

P 8. I understand as an Owner-Builder if I sell the property for which this permit is issued, I may be held liable for any financial or personal injuries sustained by any subsequent owner(s) that result from any latent construction defects in the workmanship or materials.

P 9. I understand I may obtain more information regarding my obligations as an "employer" from the Internal Revenue Service, the United States Small. Business Administration, the California Department of Benefit Payments, and the California Division of Industrial Accidents. I also understand I may contact the California Contractors' State License Board (CSLB) at 1-800-321-CSLB (2752) or www.cslb.ca.gov for more information about licensed contractors.

OWNER'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND VERIFICATION OF INFORMATION

(OWNER-BUILDER DECLARATION)

Application Number: _____

Project Address: 1022-1032 S. La Cienega Blvd. LA CA 90035

DIRECTIONS: Read and initial each statement below to signify you understand or verify this information.

P 1. I understand a frequent practice of unlicensed persons is to have the property owner obtain an "Owner-Builder" building permit that erroneously implies that the property owner is providing his or her own labor and material personally. I, as an Owner-Builder, may be held liable and subject to serious financial risk for any injuries sustained by an unlicensed person and his or her employees while working on my property. My homeowner's insurance may not provide coverage for those injuries. I am willfully acting as an Owner-Builder and am aware of the limits of my insurance coverage for injuries to workers on my property.

P 2. I understand building permits are not required to be signed by property owners unless they are responsible for the construction and are not hiring a licensed Contractor to assume this responsibility.

P 3. I understand as an "Owner-Builder" I am the responsible party of record on the permit. I understand that I may protect myself from potential financial risk by hiring a licensed Contractor and having the permit filed in his or her name instead of my own.

P 4. I understand Contractors are required by law to be licensed and bonded in California and to list their license numbers on permits and contracts.

P 5. I understand if I employ or otherwise engage any persons, other than California licensed Contractors, and the total value of my construction is at least five hundred dollars ($500), including labor and materials, I may be considered an "employer" under state and federal law.

P 6. I understand if I am considered an "employer" under state and federal law, I must register with the state and federal government, withhold payroll taxes, provide workers' compensation disability insurance, and contribute to unemployment compensation for each "employee." I also understand my failure to abide by these laws may subject me to serious financial risk.

P 7. I understand under California Contractors' State License Law, an Owner-Builder who builds single-family residential structures cannot legally build them with the intent to offer them for sale, unless all work is performed by licensed subcontractors and the number of structures does not exceed four within any calendar year, or all of the work is performed under contract with a licensed general building Contractor.

P 8. I understand as an Owner-Builder if I sell the property for which this permit is issued, I may be held liable for any financial or personal injuries sustained by any subsequent owner(s) that result from any latent construction defects in the workmanship or materials.

P 9. I understand I may obtain more information regarding my obligations as an "employer" from the Internal Revenue Service, the United States Small. Business Administration, the California Department of Benefit Payments, and the California Division of Industrial Accidents. I also understand I may contact the California Contractors' State License Board (CSLB) at 1-800-321-CSLB (2752) or www.cslb.ca.gov for more information about licensed contractors.

OWNER'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND VERIFICATION OF INFORMATION

(OWNER-BUILDER DECLARATION)

Application Number: _____

Project Address: 1022-1032 S. La Cienega Blvd. LA CA 90035

DIRECTIONS: Read and initial each statement below to signify you understand or verify this information.

P 1. I understand a frequent practice of unlicensed persons is to have the property owner obtain an "Owner-Builder" building permit that erroneously implies that the property owner is providing his or her own labor and material personally. I, as an Owner-Builder, may be held liable and subject to serious financial risk for any injuries sustained by an unlicensed person and his or her employees while working on my property. My homeowner's insurance may not provide coverage for those injuries. I am willfully acting as an Owner-Builder and am aware of the limits of my insurance coverage for injuries to workers on my property.

P 2. I understand building permits are not required to be signed by property owners unless they are responsible for the construction and are not hiring a licensed Contractor to assume this responsibility.

P 3. I understand as an "Owner-Builder" I am the responsible party of record on the permit. I understand that I may protect myself from potential financial risk by hiring a licensed Contractor and having the permit filed in his or her name instead of my own.

P 4. I understand Contractors are required by law to be licensed and bonded in California and to list their license numbers on permits and contracts.

P 5. I understand if I employ or otherwise engage any persons, other than California licensed Contractors, and the total value of my construction is at least five hundred dollars ($500), including labor and materials, I may be considered an "employer" under state and federal law.

P 6. I understand if I am considered an "employer" under state and federal law, I must register with the state and federal government, withhold payroll taxes, provide workers' compensation disability insurance, and contribute to unemployment compensation for each "employee." I also understand my failure to abide by these laws may subject me to serious financial risk.

P 7. I understand under California Contractors' State License Law, an Owner-Builder who builds single-family residential structures cannot legally build them with the intent to offer them for sale, unless all work is performed by licensed subcontractors and the number of structures does not exceed four within any calendar year, or all of the work is performed under contract with a licensed general building Contractor.

P 8. I understand as an Owner-Builder if I sell the property for which this permit is issued, I may be held liable for any financial or personal injuries sustained by any subsequent owner(s) that result from any latent construction defects in the workmanship or materials.

P 9. I understand I may obtain more information regarding my obligations as an "employer" from the Internal Revenue Service, the United States Small. Business Administration, the California Department of Benefit Payments, and the California Division of Industrial Accidents. I also understand I may contact the California Contractors' State License Board (CSLB) at 1-800-321-CSLB (2752) or www.cslb.ca.gov for more information about licensed contractors.

(L) 12. I agree to notify the issuer of this form immediately of any additions, deletions, or changes to any of the information I have provided on this form. Licensed contractors are regulated by laws designed to protect the public. If you contract with someone who does not have a license, the Contractors' State License Board may be unable to assist you with any financial loss you may sustain as a result of a complaint. Your only remedy against unlicensed Contractors may be in civil court. It is also important for you to understand that if an unlicensed Contractor or employee of that individual or firm is injured while working on your property, you may be held liable for damages. If you obtain a permit as Owner-Builder and wish to hire Contractors, you will be responsible for verifying whether or not those Contractors are properly licensed and the status of their workers' compensation insurance coverage. Before a building permit can be issued, this form must be completed and signed by the property owner and returned to the agency responsible for issuing the permit.

OWNER'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND VERIFICATION OF INFORMATION

(OWNER-BUILDER DECLARATION)

Application Number: 17020-10000-03305

Project Address: 1022-1032 S. La Cienega Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90035

DIRECTIONS: Read and initial each statement below to signify you understand or verify this information.

ZZ 1. I understand a frequent practice of unlicensed persons is to have the property owner obtain an "Owner-Builder" building permit that erroneously implies that the property owner is providing his or her own labor and material personally. I, as an Owner-Builder, may be held liable and subject to serious financial risk for any injuries sustained by an unlicensed person and his or her employees while working on my property. My homeowner's insurance may not provide coverage for those injuries. I am willfully acting as an Owner-Builder and am aware of the limits of my insurance coverage for injuries to workers on my property.

ZZ 2. I understand building permits are not required to be signed by property owners unless they are responsible for the construction and are not hiring a licensed Contractor to assume this responsibility.

ZZ 3. I understand as an "Owner-Builder" I am the responsible party of record on the permit. I understand that I may protect myself from potential financial risk by hiring a licensed Contractor and having the permit filed in his or her name instead of my own.

ZZ 4. I understand Contractors are required by law to be licensed and bonded in California and to list their license numbers on permits and contracts.

ZZ 5. I understand if I employ or otherwise engage any persons, other than California licensed Contractors, and the total value of my construction is at least five hundred dollars ($500), including labor and materials, I may be considered an "employer" under state and federal law.

ZZ 6. I understand if I am considered an "employer" under state and federal law, I must register with the state and federal government, withhold payroll taxes, provide workers' compensation disability insurance, and contribute to unemployment compensation for each "employee." I also understand my failure to abide by these laws may subject me to serious financial risk.

ZZ 7. I understand under California Contractors' State License Law, an Owner-Builder who builds single-family residential structures cannot legally build them with the intent to offer them for sale, unless all work is performed by licensed subcontractors and the number of structures does not exceed four within any calendar year, or all of the work is performed under contract with a licensed general building Contractor.

ZZ 8. I understand as an Owner-Builder if I sell the property for which this permit is issued, I may be held liable for any financial or personal injuries sustained by any subsequent owner(s) that result from any latent construction defects in the workmanship or materials.

ZZ 9. I understand I may obtain more information regarding my obligations as an "employer" from the Internal Revenue Service, the United States Small. Business Administration, the California Department of Benefit Payments, and the California Division of Industrial Accidents. I also understand I may contact the California Contractors' State License Board (CSLB) at 1-800-321-CSLB (2752) or www.cslb.ca.gov for more information about licensed contractors.

ZZ 11. I agree that, as the party legally and financially responsible for this proposed construction activity, I will abide by all applicable laws and requirements that govern Owner-Builders as well as employers.

ZZ 12. I agree to notify the issuer of this form immediately of any additions, deletions, or changes to any of the information I have provided on this form. It is also important for you to understand that if an unlicensed Contractor or employee of that individual or firm is injured while working on your property, you may be held liable for damages. If you obtain a permit as Owner-Builder and wish to hire Contractors, you will be responsible for verifying whether or not those Contractors are properly licensed and the status of their workers' compensation insurance coverage. Before a building permit can be issued, this form must be completed and signed by the property owner and returned to the agency responsible for issuing the permit.

Note: A copy of the property owner's driver's license, form notarization, or other verification acceptable to the agency is required to be presented when the permit is issued to verify the property owner's signature.

I agree to comply with all city and county ordinances and state laws relating to building construction, and hereby authorize representatives of this city to enter upon the above-mentioned property for inspection purposes. (OWNER-BUILDER DECLARATION)

Application Number: 17020-10000-03305

Project Address: 1022-1032 S. La Cienega Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90035

DIRECTIONS: Read and initial each statement below to signify you understand or verify this information.

ZZ 1. I understand a frequent practice of unlicensed persons is to have the property owner obtain an "Owner-Builder" building permit that erroneously implies that the property owner is providing his or her own labor and material personally. I, as an Owner-Builder, may be held liable and subject to serious financial risk for any injuries sustained by an unlicensed person and his or her employees while working on my property. My homeowner's insurance may not provide coverage for those injuries. I am willfully acting as an Owner-Builder and am aware of the limits of my insurance coverage for injuries to workers on my property.

ZZ 2. I understand building permits are not required to be signed by property owners unless they are responsible for the construction and are not hiring a licensed Contractor to assume this responsibility.

ZZ 3. I understand as an "Owner-Builder" I am the responsible party of record on the permit. I understand that I may protect myself from potential financial risk by hiring a licensed Contractor and having the permit filed in his or her name instead of my own.

ZZ 4. I understand Contractors are required by law to be licensed and bonded in California and to list their license numbers on permits and contracts.

ZZ 5. I understand if I employ or otherwise engage any persons, other than California licensed Contractors, and the total value of my construction is at least five hundred dollars ($500), including labor and materials, I may be considered an "employer" under state and federal law.

ZZ 6. I understand if I am considered an "employer" under state and federal law, I must register with the state and federal government, withhold payroll taxes, provide workers' compensation disability insurance, and contribute to unemployment compensation for each "employee." I also understand my failure to abide by these laws may subject me to serious financial risk.

ZZ 7. I understand under California Contractors' State License Law, an Owner-Builder who builds single-family residential structures cannot legally build them with the intent to offer them for sale, unless all work is performed by licensed subcontractors and the number of structures does not exceed four within any calendar year, or all of the work is performed under contract with a licensed general building Contractor.

ZZ 8. I understand as an Owner-Builder if I sell the property for which this permit is issued, I may be held liable for any financial or personal injuries sustained by any subsequent owner(s) that result from any latent construction defects in the workmanship or materials.

ZZ 9. I understand I may obtain more information regarding my obligations as an "employer" from the Internal Revenue Service, the United States Small. Business Administration, the California Department of Benefit Payments, and the California Division of Industrial Accidents. I also understand I may contact the California Contractors' State License Board (CSLB) at 1-800-321-CSLB (2752) or www.cslb.ca.gov for more information about licensed contractors.

(OWNER-BUILDER DECLARATION)

Application Number: 17020-10000-03305

Project Address: 1022-1032 S. La Cienega Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90035

DIRECTIONS: Read and initial each statement below to signify you understand or verify this information.

ZZ 1. I understand a frequent practice of unlicensed persons is to have the property owner obtain an "Owner-Builder" building permit that erroneously implies that the property owner is providing his or her own labor and material personally. I, as an Owner-Builder, may be held liable and subject to serious financial risk for any injuries sustained by an unlicensed person and his or her employees while working on my property. My homeowner's insurance may not provide coverage for those injuries. I am willfully acting as an Owner-Builder and am aware of the limits of my insurance coverage for injuries to workers on my property.

ZZ 2. I understand building permits are not required to be signed by property owners unless they are responsible for the construction and are not hiring a licensed Contractor to assume this responsibility.

ZZ 3. I understand as an "Owner-Builder" I am the responsible party of record on the permit. I understand that I may protect myself from potential financial risk by hiring a licensed Contractor and having the permit filed in his or her name instead of my own.

ZZ 4. I understand Contractors are required by law to be licensed and bonded in California and to list their license numbers on permits and contracts.

ZZ 5. I understand if I employ or otherwise engage any persons, other than California licensed Contractors, and the total value of my construction is at least five hundred dollars ($500), including labor and materials, I may be considered an "employer" under state and federal law.

ZZ 6. I understand if I am considered an "employer" under state and federal law, I must register with the state and federal government, withhold payroll taxes, provide workers' compensation disability insurance, and contribute to unemployment compensation for each "employee." I also understand my failure to abide by these laws may subject me to serious financial risk.

ZZ 7. I understand under California Contractors' State License Law, an Owner-Builder who builds single-family residential structures cannot legally build them with the intent to offer them for sale, unless all work is performed by licensed subcontractors and the number of structures does not exceed four within any calendar year, or all of the work is performed under contract with a licensed general building Contractor.

ZZ 8. I understand as an Owner-Builder if I sell the property for which this permit is issued, I may be held liable for any financial or personal injuries sustained by any subsequent owner(s) that result from any latent construction defects in the workmanship or materials.

ZZ 9. I understand I may obtain more information regarding my obligations as an "employer" from the Internal Revenue Service, the United States Small. Business Administration, the California Department of Benefit Payments, and the California Division of Industrial Accidents. I also understand I may contact the California Contractors' State License Board (CSLB) at 1-800-321-CSLB (2752) or www.cslb.ca.gov for more information about licensed contractors.

OWNER'S ACKNOWLEDGMENT AND VERIFICATION OF INFORMATION

(OWNER-BUILDER DECLARATION)

Application Number: 17020-10000-03305

Project Address: 1022-1032 S. La Cienega Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90035

DIRECTIONS: Read and initial each statement below to signify you understand or verify this information.

ZZ 1. I understand a frequent practice of unlicensed persons is to have the property owner obtain an "Owner-Builder" building permit that erroneously implies that the property owner is providing his or her own labor and material personally. I, as an Owner-Builder, may be held liable and subject to serious financial risk for any injuries sustained by an unlicensed person and his or her employees while working on my property. My homeowner's insurance may not provide coverage for those injuries. I am willfully acting as an Owner-Builder and am aware of the limits of my insurance coverage for injuries to workers on my property.

ZZ 2. I understand building permits are not required to be signed by property owners unless they are responsible for the construction and are not hiring a licensed Contractor to assume this responsibility.

ZZ 3. I understand as an "Owner-Builder" I am the responsible party of record on the permit. I understand that I may protect myself from potential financial risk by hiring a licensed Contractor and having the permit filed in his or her name instead of my own.

ZZ 4. I understand Contractors are required by law to be licensed and bonded in California and to list their license numbers on permits and contracts.

ZZ 5. I understand if I employ or otherwise engage any persons, other than California licensed Contractors, and the total value of my construction is at least five hundred dollars ($500), including labor and materials, I may be considered an "employer" under state and federal law.

ZZ 6. I understand if I am considered an "employer" under state and federal law, I must register with the state and federal government, withhold payroll taxes, provide workers' compensation disability insurance, and contribute to unemployment compensation for each "employee." I also understand my failure to abide by these laws may subject me to serious financial risk.

ZZ 7. I understand under California Contractors' State License Law, an Owner-Builder who builds single-family residential structures cannot legally build them with the intent to offer them for sale, unless all work is performed by licensed subcontractors and the number of structures does not exceed four within any calendar year, or all of the work is performed under contract with a licensed general building Contractor.

ZZ 8. I understand as an Owner-Builder if I sell the property for which this permit is issued, I may be held liable for any financial or personal injuries sustained by any subsequent owner(s) that result from any latent construction defects in the workmanship or materials.

ZZ 9. I understand I may obtain more information regarding my obligations as an "employer" from the Internal Revenue Service, the United States Small. Business Administration, the California Department of Benefit Payments, and the California Division of Industrial Accidents. I also understand I may contact the California Contractors' State License Board (CSLB) at 1-800-321-CSLB (2752) or www.cslb.ca.gov for more information about licensed contractors.

ZZ 10. I am aware of and consent to an Owner-Builder building permit applied for in my name, and understand that I am the party legally and financially responsible for proposed construction activity at the following address: _____.

ZZ 11. I agree that, as the party legally and financially responsible for this proposed construction activity, I will abide by all applicable laws and requirements that govern Owner-Builders as well as employers.

ZZ 12. I agree to notify the issuer of this form immediately of any additions, deletions, or changes to any of the information I have provided on this form. Licensed contractors are regulated by laws designed to protect the public. If you contract with someone who does not have a license, the Contractors' State License Board may be unable to assist you with any financial loss you may sustain as a result of a complaint. Your only remedy against unlicensed Contractors may be in civil court. It is also important for you to understand that if an unlicensed Contractor or employee of that individual or firm is injured while working on your property, you may be held liable for damages. If you obtain a permit as Owner-Builder and wish to hire Contractors, you will be responsible for verifying whether or not those Contractors are properly licensed and the status of their workers' compensation insurance coverage. Before a building permit can be issued, this form must be completed and signed by the property owner and returned to the agency responsible for issuing the permit.

Note: A copy of the property owner's driver's license, form notarization, or other verification acceptable to the agency is required to be presented when the permit is issued to verify the property owner's signature.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR REQUESTING RECORDS

(California Public Records Act, Govt. Code Sections 6250-6276.48)

1. In order to expedite your request, please fill out the form completely. Requests may also be submitted by phone at (909) 396-3700, by facsimile to (909) 396-3330, or by email to PublicRecordsRequests@aqmd.gov.

2. Requests must be for records prepared, owned, used, or retained by the District (Gov. Code Sec. 6252(e)). Requests should be for clearly identifiable records. The District is not required to create a new record in response to a request. The District will assist the requestor in making a request that describes reasonably identifiable records (Gov. Code Sec. 6253.1). Documents will not be provided if disclosure would infringe upon a copyright, trade secret, or is otherwise exempt in accordance with state law.

3. A search for facility records can only be conducted by one or all of the following:

-- a) Facility Name, Address, or Identification Number

-- b) Facility Application Number, or Permit to Operate Number; or

-- c) Facility Notice of Violation/Notice to Comply Number.

4. You will be notified within ten (10) days whether your request seeks copies of disclosable public records prepared, owned, used, or retained by this agency. In some cases, the District may need an additional 14 days to respond. If so, you will be notified in writing. You will also be provided an estimated date of when the records will be made available.

5. Communications regarding your request, and any records, will be provided by email, unless specified otherwise.

6. If the search for records finds the records voluminous, you will be notified of the approximate number of pages and/or length of time it will take to process your request.

7. If the records you requested have been marked confidential by the source of the record, you will be notified and given the option of continuing with the District's Trade Secret process.

8. If your request is to review records, rather than receive copies, the District will notify you once the records are gathered, and arrangements will be made for your review.

9. The charge for the direct cost of duplication is as follows: Paper Copies, $0.15/page each over 10 pages (first 10 pages are free); Copied CD's or flash drives, no charge; and Copied Audio Tapes, $5.00 each. After a preliminary estimate, advance payment may be required.

10. If the request is for information in an electronic format, the requestor shall bear the cost of producing a copy of the record, including the cost to construct the record and the cost of programming and computer services necessary to produce a copy of the record, when either of the following applies: (1) the District would be required to produce a copy of an electronic record and the record is one that is produced only at otherwise regularly scheduled intervals, or (2) the request would require data compilation, extraction, or programming to produce the record. (Gov. Code Sec. 6253.9(b)). The transfer of gathered electronic records onto CD, DVD or flash drive typically costs $10.00 each. An invoice will accompany your records when completed.

Note: For further information, please refer to the District's Guidelines for Implementing the California Public Records Act. The Guidelines are available in the lobby of the District Headquarters or on the District's web site at www.aqmd.gov.

Note: If you have questions pertaining to the submittal of a Public Records Act request, you may contact the Public Records Unit, (909) 396-3700, Tuesday through Friday, 7:00 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Our Fax number is (909) 396-3330. Our email address is PublicRecordsRequests@aqmd.gov.

REPORT: Inspection 4/3/03 at 4:15 p.m in response to complaint #158414 and 158368, both made by one complainant. I spoke with the complainant. [redacted] stated [redacted] is bothered by lacquer odors. Also, the booth is in a building which is not approved by the Building and Safety Dept.

I conducted an inspection at the shop and met with the owner, Eli Freim. The facility has one booth with an active permit (posted). The booth was in use. The filters were installed properly and there was a working manometer. The owner confirmed the building is going to be remodeled to meet code requirements. However, there was nothing I observed which violated an AQMD regulation. The owner plans on purchasing a new booth when the remodeling takes place. I reminded him to apply for a P/C as soon as he is sure of the new booth's specifications.

I reviewed the coatings and solvents used, which are compliant with Rules 1151 and 1171. HVLP guns are used. An aerosol precleaner is used, and PCL 7002 for gun washing in a gun washer. There is also a QSol 200 parts washer for mechanic work. QSol is a certified clean air solvent. Even though 1171 storage requirements do not apply to exempt solvents, I suggested he keep the parts washer lid closed when it is not in use. I reviewed the usage records, which are processed by Annex.

No enforcement action was taken because there was no public nuisance situation with respect to odors. I phoned the complainant on 4/4 and left a message with the results of the inspection.

REPORT: On 01/18/02 I conducted a routine inspection of this automotive repair facility. I met with Elie Freim, Owner, who led the inspection. I inspected the spray booth, which was in operation, had all filters in place, and had a working manometer. The permit was posted on the booth, which is in compliance with R206. Pacific Coast Lacquer #7002 solvent (529 g/L VOC) is used for gun cleaning, which is in compliance with R1171. This facility uses the Annex paint system, but does not have MSDS sheets on file, which is a violation of R203b and H&S code 42303. Facility is in compliance with R1151. Daily records are kept with a software system and are complete, however records for all months in previous 3 years were not available. Mr. Freim stated that his consultant has the remainder of the records. Monthly VOC emissions were calculated. VOC totals are under the limits specified in the P/O conditions. I issued NC# C75661 for R109 - to keep all VOC records at facility, and for R203b and H&S 42303.

[1405 hrs] I was unable to reach the complainant regarding asbestos complaint 216278 so I left a VM with my contact information because there was no physical address given. I looked up Renovation and Demolitions Notifications that were recent along Cienega Blvd with 90035 zip code for possible sites. I found a Renovation Notification #264748 (attached) at 1022-54 S La Cienega Blvd by Marcor back in January 2011 where large amounts of ACM [3,872 sq ft] were abated based on the notification made by Marcor. I was not able to locate a Demolition notification for the same site [initially], however.

>>> 03/31/11 [1135-1220 hrs] - SITE INSPECTION
I arrived at 1042 S La Cienega Blvd in Los Angeles 90035 to investigate the complaint. Upon arrival I parked along S La Cienega in front of the site and noticed that the site is fenced off and the sidewalk had a protected walkway. The demolition site is a large 2 story multi-unit apartment complex. I observed from south of the building several workers on the second story roof demolishing 2x4 or 2x6 beams from the roof structure. I observed no any violations of R403 or R1403. See photos.

I made entry to the site is from the staging area lot to the north of the building complex where I observed parked cars near the entrance and piles of lumbar debris stored in the NE corner of the lot. I observed the workers loading wood beams onto a Sky Trak lift extended to the roof level to bring down the debris and moved to the NE corner of the lot. The north side of the complex had large piles of demolition debris with roofing, wall, and lumber. Since back a District I had found the prior asbestos abatement notification #264748 by Marcor back in January and since workers were still dismantling the area above the debris, I determined it was both unsafe and not necessary to pull samples.

I flagged down one of the workers from the roof who came down to meet me. I identified myself to BRUNO GUITEERIEZ who stated he and the others worked for PENA GRADING & DEMOLITION ("PENA"; FacID: 97869). I informed him that I was investigating a dust/asbestos complaint and was inspecting the site for compliance. I asked if he had a copy of the asbestos survey and the demolition notification to AQMD. He stated he did not have them. He provided me with the phone numbers for an ORESTES PENA: 818-768-5202 and 818-253-6742.

I called 818-253-6742 at 1157 hrs and spoke to Orestes Pena. I informed Mr. Pena of the complaint and asked if the asbestos survey and demolition notification were on site for review. He stated that the site foreman had them but that a family survey and demolition notification were on site for review. He stated that the site foreman had them but that a family emergency had called him away and that the documents were with him. I told him that the copy of the asbestos survey and notification must be available on site and that I would be issuing PENA a Notice to Comply for documents because I could not confirm compliance with R1403. He stated that I could leave the NTC with Mr. Bruno Guitteriez.

I wrote out NTC E04789 and served it to Mr. Guitteriez before departing the site. I later found Demolition Notification #269814 which had the incorrect zip code entered on CLASS.

>>> 04/07/11 [1338 hrs] The complainant, [redacted] called me and left me a VM. I returned her VM at 1557 - 1615 hrs and explained to [redacted] that I had visited the site and that I had issued a NTC for records because they did not have the survey on site. I informed [redacted] that there were asbestos abatement notifications that indicated that asbestos had been removed prior to the demolition of the building. [redacted] stated that [redacted] had two small children who had health issues and that [redacted] has been trying to keep the windows closed during the demolition.

>>>> Back at District I later met with Michal Haynes who informed me that he had subsequently inspected the site to investigate anonymous Complaint 216504 received 04/08/11. I issued NTC E04792 (CAC), E04793 (Owner) and E04794 (Abatement Co) for further documentation.

All NTC Response documents were received and subsequently given to Inspector Michal Haynes for follow up with R1403 compliance.

Inspection 4/3/03 at 4:15 p.m. I spoke with the complainant, who also called in comp#158414. [redacted] stated [redacted] is bothered by lacquer odors. Also, the booth is in a building which is not approved by the Building and Safety Dept.

I conducted an inspection at the shop and met with the owner, Eli Freim. The facility has one booth with an active permit (posted). The booth was in use. The filters were installed properly and there was a working manometer. The owner confirmed the building is going to be remodeled to meet code requirements. However, there was nothing I observed which violated an AQMD regulation. The owner plans on purchasing a new booth when the remodeling takes place. I reminded him to apply for a P/C as soon as he is sure of the new booth's specifications.

I reviewed the coatings and solvents used, which are compliant with Rules 1151 and 1171. HVLP guns are used. An aerosol precleaner is used, and PCL 7002 for gun washing in a gun washer. There is also a QSol 200 parts washer for mechanic work. QSol is a certified clean air solvent. Even though 1171 storage requirements do not apply to exempt solvents, I suggested he keep the parts washer lid closed when it is not in use. I reviewed the usage records and departed. No enforcement action was taken because there was no public nuisance situation with respect to odors. I phoned the complainant on 4/4 and left a message with the results of the inspection.

Also rec'd comp#160102, 160104, 160105. This is a chronic complaint situation with this complainant. However, today is the first time the other complainants have called in. I arrived at the complainant's location at 1:25 p.m. I met with [redacted] who lives with [redacted] and who registered comp#160102. [redacted] stated [redacted] is disturbed by odors whenever [redacted] works from home during the day, which is about once per week. [redacted] lives directly behind the body shop (to the east). I told [redacted] I had conducted a recent inspection at the shop, and it was in compliance with AQMD rules & regs. I explained R402 and our enforcement guidelines. I went to the back of her property, but no odors were present at the time. I went to the other complaintants residences, but no one was home. I left business cards at their doors.

I went to Updated Auto and met with the manager, Robbie. I notified him of the complaints and of the potential for a public nuisance situation. This shop has plans to install a new booth sometime in the near future. I told him to tell the owner to consider contacting a consultant to advise him on ways to reduce the potential for odor complaints (for example, by increasing stack height or routing the stack to another part of the property, such as near La Cienega). No enforcement action taken.

04/08/11

1100 hrs, I received a call from Sam Vergara, Supervisor AQ Inspector, regarding a complaint (C216504) filed against an unknown consultant allegedly demolishing a building and not removing all the ACM prior to demolition. I was asked to investigate demolition and confirm compliance with Rule 1403.

1305 hrs, I arrived at 1022-1042 S. La Cienega St., Los Angeles and proceeded into the lot, North of and adjacent to the demolition. After parking I observed the wind direction was from the west, blowing at 2-4mph, environmental conditions clear and no dust was observed crossing the property line.

I contacted site foreman, Jose Mendoza, Pena Grading and Demolition, Inc. (Pena) regarding C216504. Mr. Mendoza said the site supervisor; Ornesto Pena Jr. (junior) was not on site at this time. I asked Mr. Mendoza could I inspect the site for compliance with R1403, he said yes. I asked to see the site asbestos survey and demo/ abatement notifications, he said those documents are not on site. I asked when they began the demolition of the building, he said approximately 2 weeks ago. Mr. Mendoza then contacted via phone Ornesto Pena, owner and gave me the phone. After, introductions I told Mr. Pena that I was on site investigating C216504, regarding dust and not removing the asbestos prior to demolition and I was here to verify compliance with R403 and 1403.

I told Mr. Pena since no asbestos survey or demo notification was on site, I had to treat the construction debris as if it was contaminated with asbestos and I would inspect, sample and photograph any and all suspect materials. Also, I told Mr. Pena I would issue the NC to:

"Have a CAC (Certified Asbestos Consultant) perform asbestos inspection and prepare a survey report, if positive submit p5 cleanup plan

"Provide names of all workers on site

"Submit proof of state contractors' license and City demo permit

"Provide copy of R1403 Demo notification and

"Provide copy of site owners survey

Mr. Pena said he is stopping the demolition of the building until he had complied with my NC.

Inspection-

1410 hrs, I suited up in protective clothing and observed the following:

"Partially demolished building approximately 25,000 square feet

"2nd floor of structure demolished

"2nd floor of structure demolished
"Approximately 10-12,000 square feet of construction debris stockpiles on the south, west and north side of the site
"Approximately 1,000 sq ft of suspect ACM debris in multiple piles (roofing shingles, pink and white stucco, beige and off-white vinyl floor tiles).
"1st floor partially demolished and covered with construction debris, not accessible
"Bobcat loader with construction debris on south side top of remaining 2nd floor
"Front-end loader with construction debris on eastside of the 1st floor
I obtained 5 bulk samples of suspect ACM (roofing, stucco, 3 samples of sheet flooring) and later submitted to AQMD lab for analysis to confirm compliance for asbestos. Prior to departure I discussed R1403 and I told Ornestos Pena, Jr., Supervisor and Jose Mendoza, Foreman that Pena Grading and Demolition is in violation of R1403 for not maintaining records on site. I issued NC D24025 and left it with Mr. Mendoza, site foremen.
