Comments for Public Posting: Dear Personnel, Audits, and Animal Welfare Committee: I do believe that the City of Los Angeles should look into reforming its Volunteer Program. Many people gain hands-on experience while doing Volunteer work. Sometimes it is better to have a centralized management of volunteers, other times, at the department or agency level. The volunteer process does need to be streamlined and easy for people to apply and or want to apply. There should be an easier way for people who want to apply to be volunteers. We need a system that is fair and balanced. Sincerely,
LIONEL MARES
